A telegram received by F. H. Stover, Pres of the Maritime Oil and Gas Co, states that the five cent issue of their stock was about all sold.

Seldom has death brought to a community deeper and more heartfelt sorrow than that felt by the people of Lot 48, on Tuesday, Sept. 14th, when the sad news spread that Henry McGregor had passed to his eternal reward at the comparatively early age of fifty-eight years. Deceased was a man of more than ordinary principles, beloved and respected by all whom he came in contact with. In his death the country has lost a man, not soon to be forgotten in the minds of many, he being a genial, warm hearted friend, a kind husband and an affectionate father. He leaves to mourn a sorrowing widow and a large family, besides a host of relatives and friends, both far and near, who are deeply grieved over such a sudden and unexpected death. For some time past he had not been feeling well, but death was quite unexpected till a short time before his demise. He had many friends as shown by the large crowd who assembled at the house of mourning, as it were, to bear solemn testimony of the esteem in which he was held. The funeral services were conducted by Rev Ernest Erb who delivered an eloquent and able sermon. The floral tributes were beautiful and numerous.

On Sept 17th Mrs John N. Wood, Pownal, was called to rest by the angel of death. She had been in Calif for the past few months and was returning home when she was stricken with heart-failure. She was taken to the home of her cousin, John Woodside, Kensington, where she had intended having a pleasant visit, and although everything was done that kind friends and a loving husband and sister could do, her spirit took its flight. In youth she became a Christian and lived a beautiful life of devotion to her Saviour. In the church the Sunday School and the W. M. Society, she worked with untiring zeal for her Master's cause. In the community in which she lived she lost no opportunity of speaking a kind word or doing a kind act, and of her it may truly be said, none knew her but to love her. Her remains were laid to rest in the Pownal Cemetery, the funeral being from the home of her sister, Mrs Daniel Wood, Hazelbrook. The services were conducted by Rev E. Styles assisted by Rev G. Steel and Rev H. S. Erb. Their friends deeply sympathize with the husband, who mourns the loss of a devoted wife, and with the sorrowing sister and brothers.

A Splendid Suit at $16.50

just in from the makers—See It.

Some little time ago one of our buyers happened to be in one of the larger Canadian cities looking for a fresh supply of ladies suits. Almost by accident he discovered a maker whose goods had never been seen in the Maritime Provinces before. This maker had only manufactured for the larger Montreal and Toronto stores—just producing one fine line of suits. The first shipment of his goods arrived yesterday—

Self stripe venetian suits in green, navy and new grey extra long coat, trimmed with large and small jet buttons, latest American model skirt, pleated, a classy, handsome suit, good $18.00 value, and now offered in the best stores in Montreal at considerably over our very special price

$16.50

Much like the illustration in style.

Wistaria Window

Guaranteed black Taffeta 69c.

We sold hundreds and hundreds of yards of this splendid silk during May and June. While we give an absolute guarantee with every yard, we were only called upon to replace three small pieces. This we think is a remarkable record for taffeta silk.

19 inch, smooth, firm, soft, lustrous taffeta, chiffon finish, excellent for waists or dresses, three months guaranteed against splitting or breaking, good dollar value 69c.

Lots of new neckwear ideas

Friday morning an immense line of new neckwear came to hand—including frillings of many sorts, new lace collars, new embroidered linen collars, new lace jabots, and every sort of price from nineteen cents up.

And then there was also a fine line of new elastic belts in the very latest style and colourings.

25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.50.

The same ideas that are being shown in New York this week.

Every day Brings new models in Fashionable Millinery

Extremes meet in this seasons millinery models and large hats or small ones are equally good style. We have a splendid showing of exclusive styles in large, small or medium hats, and we have no difficulty in suiting the most fastidious tastes.

The favorite materials are Moire and Ottoman silks, panne velvet and beavers.

The most favored trimmings are willow plumes, natural feathery ospreys, paradise plumes, buckles.

Fashions are best told by the hats themselves.

You are welcome to come and admire them—buy or not as you choose—but if you do you'll find that good value is also a striking feature in our millinery.

There are two kinds of Furs

FIRST—Furs bought for the sake of the apparently low price.

SECOND—Furs purchased for a life time of good reliable service.

Our Furs are known as the most stylish and best made that Canada produces. We cordially invite you to visit our Fur department and see for yourself. We will not ask you to buy, it's a pleasure to show the goods.
