STORE ENTERED—On opening the Phillips Stores, Queen St., Monday morning the discovery was made that intruders had entered the premises and made off with a considerable quantity of goods. Entry was made through a rear window. The metal shutters had been forced open, iron rails across the windows broken and the window also smashed, making easy access to the store. On investigation it was found the following goods were taken: A light overcoat, felt hat, two pairs odd shoes, patent leather belts, pair of gloves, two watches, and probably some shirts, as a number of shirts were found scattered about. Although there was some money in the register it was untouched. The local police are investigating.

HERE FROM ALBERTA—A welcome visitor to the city is Mr. Ernest E. Poole, President of the Poole Construction Company, with headquarters in Regina and Edmonton. Many will remember Mr. Poole as son of Mr. John L. Poole of Woodville Mills, P. E. I., Mrs. Poole was formerly Miss Gertrude Ahearne, of Lower Montague. The Poole Construction Company has many fine construction jobs to their credit, having built the Bank of Montreal Building, Vancouver, Bank of Nova Scotia Building, Vernon, Man., Carnegie Library building, the Concordia College, and the Alberta College, all in Edmonton, Alta. This outstanding building was constructed at a cost of $2,225,000, and is one of the finest in the West. Another big job was the Music and Arts Building at a cost of over $200,000. This was presented to the Regina College by a former student, Mr. J. M. Dock, late of Brookfield, P. E. I. Mr. Poole who is a member of the Rotary Club and St. Georges Lodge, A. F. and A. M. Mr. Louis Lowther, principal of Prince St. School, left Monday for Mount Allison, where he will be awarded his Bachelor of Arts degree. The Arbor and Empire Day Exercises at West Kent School began at 10 o'clock a.m. The musical part of the program was under the direction of Prof. Louis D. Thompson. Mr. Reuben Macdonald presented. The chairman in a brief address dwelt on the significance of Empire and Arbor Day and the reasons why it is being celebrated. He also referred to the prominent part which Canada is playing in the development of the great British Commonwealth of Nations. The program was admirably rendered. A TRIBUTE Islanders At Mount Allison

The following telegram has been received by the Guardian from Rev. J. Sidney Bonnell, Winnipeg, which speaks for itself:

"Word has just reached me of the death of my dear friend and comrade Ed Sterns. Well do I remember the night he was gassed in Armenia. He shall ever be remembered as he is. We shall continue to take his toll. We shall ever remember Ed as a loyal comrade, a brave soldier absolutely devoted to duty. Please extend to his loved ones my heart-felt sympathy.

INQUEST

McDonald of the Mounted Police, H. M. Baker of the Customs Office, Summerside; Dr. J. A. McPhee and Thane A. Campbell, K. C. Dr. McPhee and Mr. Campbell went out to the vessel which was lying about seven miles out to sea. They brought the body ashore.

A jury was empanelled as follows: Keith Compton, Summerside, foreman, Leo Wood, Summerside, Daniel Hudson, Provincial Police, Summerside, Nelson Henry and Walter Thompson, Kennington; Benj. Richards, Seaview and Irving Myers, Elmisdale.

Captain John T. Dumphries gave evidence that Clow had complained of not feeling well since May 3rd. He had never seen him take any liquor. They left St. John, St. Pierre, on May 18th, for the high seas with a cargo of liquor on board. About 2 a.m. on Sunday they were about 88 miles out at sea when Clow dropped on the deck, falling off the wheel deck. He called for the Captain who found him lying over the rail. He asked him what was the matter and he replied, something had burst in his stomach. About 9.40 Sunday night he asked for a bucket as he did not feel well and remained where he was leaning up against the railing. He seemed to slump down and when they went to take him up they found he was dead. He had not eaten anything for two days and had only drunk water. Asked why he had not buried him at sea, the Captain said he was not more than a day from land and it was against the rules to do so. They arrived off Cape Tryon between 5 and 6 Monday morning and the Captain asked a fisherman if he would notify the proper authorities that a man had died aboard the ship the night before. After hearing the evidence Dr. Tanton adjourned the inquest until today as stated above.

TITLEHOLDER ELIMINATED

MUIRFIELD, Scotland, May 23—(A.P.)—Eric Matfin Smith, defending titleholder, was quickly eliminated today in a surprising defeat of the opening day's play in the British amateur golf championship. Smith fell before Leonard Martin, champion of Metropolitan New York who was four down at the 11th but rallied to win one up.

In four other matches that carried an international player, British golfers turned back four players from the United States.

Andrew Jamieson, the young Scotsman who defeated Bobby Jones here in 1928, won from Paul Azbill, an American though entered from Sunningdale, six and five, E. Watson, another Scottish player, defeated Clive Alvord, of Greenwich, Conn., by the same score. Col. P. G. M. Skene, defeated Stuart Schefel, an American now living in London, two and one, and A. J. Peech of Worlesdon won from Frank Sweeney, American student at Oxford, six and four.

The matches were played in windless sunny weather, and on a course in ideal condition. Several matches were postponed until tomorrow when darkness called a halt to play. Martin was forced to rally strongly to overcome Smith, the titleholder conceding him the match on the final hole as Martin lay seven yards from the pin in two and Smith was still short after three strokes.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

BY "TEC"

Baseball is beginning to shape up in the city. At least one team, a sure entry in the City League, is practicing regularly. The new hockey players are said to be good ball tossers. It looks as if Charlottetown may have a championship threat to give the Moncton C. C.'s and Nova Scotia outfits a run for the Maritime gonfalon. The West Kent School team have been getting in shape lately for their annual joust with Summerside High, the first game of the series likely taking place in Summerside today.

A SILLY RULE

It didn't take long for the National League to rescind the silly rule which debarred ball players from establishing contacts with fans. Prevented from greeting friends on the field, talking to relatives, exchanging badinage with opponents as they passed to and from their labors, ball players were showing resentment over an edict that savored of autocracy. Undoubtedly other leagues will follow the lead of the National. Fandom was affected as it was taking away the personal touch from the game which was one of its strongest assets. The ruling didn't pass without criticism. Players, press and public united in condemning it. It won't mean a throwback to the days when Ty Cobb fought in the stands with spectators, in the street with butchers, but it will return an informal aspect to the pastime which has been lacking in some respects wherever the edict has been carried out.

YE FISHERMAN

Of all the gullible individuals in the universe there is none to compare with your amateur fisherman. He is a creature in whom reason is a minus quantity and faith prevails beyond the limits of the wildest imagination. Without a shred of evidence in support of the statement he will hoist himself out of bed at the crack of dawn and he himself 50 miles to some spot he has never seen before because someone of whose veracity he knows nothing, has told him the bass are biting there.
