The trouble which I had affected my hands only. It first came in watery blisters, under the skin, and if they were scratched they broke, causing a mass of sore eruptions that caused disgust, itching, burning and loss of sleep. The trouble lasted about one year and after using the Cuticura Soap and Ointment for about three months I was completely cured. (Signed) Miss Alice Sweet, Main St., Eastman, Que.

A gloom was cast over the community of Blooming Point on December First, when the sad news was received by Mr. Joseph A. McDonald, of that place, that his son Lance-Corporal James Aeneas had been killed in action on November ninth.

This gallant man who made the supreme sacrifice at the early age of 23, enlisted in Calgary, Alta., when 20, joined the 60th Battalion. Mr. McDonald left his native province in the year 1913, for the Western States, where he was employed until duty urged him to give up a good position, that he might serve his country. In due time he crossed to England where he spent some time in Machine Gun training. He was then drafted in the 18th Battalion and sent to France in December 1915. After several months he was transferred to the Fourteenth Canadian Machine Gun Company being present at the battle of Vimy Ridge, where he was wounded. He was then admitted to No. 4 Hospital, and underwent treatment for several months. When he recovered he was granted a furlough, which time he spent in visiting the land of his forefathers in Scotland. The latter part of August, 1917 he returned to his unit in France, and was soon in the thick of the fight again. He was killed instantly by the bursting of a shell at the battle of Passchendaele Ridge. He leaves to mourn their loss besides a sorrowing father, two brothers and one sister, Ronald Francis in the employ of the G. N. E. Company, and Roderick and Mary at home. It is with deep regret and genuine sorrow that the residents of Marshfield heard of the death of Mr. John T. Ferguson on Wednesday, Dec. 5th 1917. In his 65th year after an illness of over ten months. All that loving family and medical skill could do was done, but nothing could retard the grim messenger of death. It was indeed sad for those who gazed upon the peaceful sleeper. He will be greatly missed not only by the bereaved family but among his many relatives and friends. His pleasant manner and personality made him a welcome visitor for those over he went, and in the home. Not only will he be missed by the bereaved family, but also by a large number who enjoyed his hospitality. Mr. Ferguson was well and favourably known throughout the community, kind and courteous in manner with strict attention to duty. As a politician he was strenuous and ever staunch and true to his party and his party's cause. That his party will in future miss his loyal and valuable support can well be believed. He was frank and straight-forward to an unusual degree, and his friendship was true, constant and valuable. We feel that in his death, Marshfield has lost a good man whose word was always as dependable as his bond. The deceased leaves a sorrowing widow, one son, Tupper, at home, also two daughters, Janie (Mrs. McNorris, Winthrop) and Blanche (Mrs. Ernest Niles, Milton, P. E. I.). The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Fullerton. The choir sang "The Lord's My Shepherd," "Asleep in Jesus," and "Forever with the Lord." The pallbearers were Messrs. Duncan Gibson, Peter Stewart and John McFarlane. The deepest sympathy is extended to his widow, and family and his other relatives in the great loss which they with the whole community have sustained in his death.

AN INTERESTING VISITOR.—Mr. Wilson W. Stewart, formerly of Burlington, N. B., who is making a business tour of the province is in the city for a few days. Previous to taking up his present business some four years ago as Maritime representative of the Proctor and Gamble Distributing Company of Canada, Mr. Stewart was a veritable "globe trotter" having visited practically every part of the earth that was worth seeing, including Germany, where he spent about two years and where he learned much of German thoroughness and German industrialism and saw much to admire as well as to condemn. In Russia also he saw the conflicting conditions that have since become intelligible in the light, both of the national military achievements of the first years of the war and of the chaos which exists there today. He travelled extensively in the east, also in Australia, New Zealand, Hawaii, South America and other places less frequented by the occasional traveller. During his present visit he purposes making a general tour of the province in the interest of his firm and will also if time permits, visit relatives in Malpeque.

It is with sincere regret that a large number of people throughout the province will learn of the death of Mr. Michael C. Delaney, ex-M.L.A., which took place suddenly at his home, North Tryon at one o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mr. Delaney was in his usual health until within a few hours of his death and had been in the City on business during the week. Yesterday forenoon he was seized with a stroke of apoplexy and passed away as stated. Mr. Delaney was a general merchant enjoying a very extensive and remunerative business. He was born in Malpeque, November 20, 1849, and was thus in his 69th year. He was educated at the public school at North Tryon and early started business on his own account in eggs, butter, and general agricultural products, gradually building up a business which later assumed large proportions and into which his two sons entered and carried on with him with marked success. Mr. Delaney was a prominent member of the Baptist Church, and was popular and highly respected throughout the district. He was a Liberal-Conservative in politics and contested the Fourth District of Prince at three general elections, unsuccessfully but was returned at the general election in 1911. At the last general election when he contested the seat with Mr. Samuel Kennedy he was defeated by Mr. W. M. Lea by a small majority. As a member of the Legislature, Mr. Delaney enjoyed the respect and esteem of the members of both sides of the House and in 1912 was nominated with the general consensus of opinion as Chief Government Whip, a position which he filled with assiduity and success. He is survived by his widow and seven children, two sons and five daughters, namely: Arthur and Claude A., both of Albany; Mrs. Hamilton Campbell, Albany; Mrs. W. P. Dawson, North Tryon; Mrs. L. B. A Perpetual War of Germs

In every human body there is continual strife between the forces of health and disease, while headaches, nervousness and frequent colds mean weakness and fore-run sickness. In changing seasons your system needs the oil-food in to increase the red corpuscles of the blood and create that resistive power which thwarts colds, tonsillitis, throat troubles and rheumatism. Scott's is high-powered medicinal-food, free from harmful drugs. One bottle now may prevent a sickness.

It is the Flavour that counts

You know, yourself, that 95% of what you buy to eat, is purchased rather for the flavour than its food value. In other words, we eat what we enjoy, and usually eat only what pleases our palate. There is nothing inviting or appetizing about a loaf of bread made of western spring wheat flour, with its coarse texture, and lack of flavour. But when the bread and rolls and biscuits are made of

BEAVER FLOUR MILLED OF BLENDED WHEAT

Ah! that's another story altogether. While the food value of Bread, made of "Beaver" Flour is not to be belittled, it is the delightful flavour, the delicious nutlike "homey" taste, the fine, even texture, the creamy lightness, that make homemade "Beaver" Flour Bread such a treat for young and old alike. And when it comes to things like Apple and Mince Pies—Chocolate or Layer Cake—or a batch of Cookies or Gingerbread for the children—well—just try "Beaver" Flour once, that's all—and you'll see and taste the difference.

"Beaver" Flour is a blend of the famous Ontario winter wheat and enough western spring wheat to give it strength. It has the flavour of the one and the strength of the other, and being milled of scientifically blended wheat, it is always the same in flavour, in quality and strength. Why miss so many of these good things, by using western wheat flour? Order a sack of "Beaver" Flour, at your dealer's, and begin to enjoy the delicious bread and pastry it makes.
