"Nine Girls" is the Year's Most Baffling Murder

Since Columbia's "Nine Girls" is the screen adaptation of a successful Broadway play of the same title, customers of the Capitol Theatre can expect something way above average in the mystery-murder line when it opens today.

role she is said to portray; Lynn Merrick who is said to have the best role of her career; intriguing Nina Foch; pert and impish Jeff Dinnell; Leslie Brooks whose blonde charm is reported to be tons; the two talented and lovely youngsters, Marcia Mae Jones and Shirley Wells and the glorious and gracious Ann Harding who is playing in her second "comeback" after her long retirement.

Each one of these beauties, according to the story, could have committed the murder about which the plot of "Nine Girls" revolves. Each was filled with love or hate or jealousy.

Telegraph Plateau is the name given to the shallow ocean bottom between Newfoundland and Ireland where a score of cables now connect the continents.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

The Church School met at 10 a.m. on its summer schedule, with good attendance. The service of morning worship was conducted by Dr. F. W. Patterson, President of Acadia University. In Dr. Patterson's characteristic eloquent address he dealt with Acadia University, its founding 116 years ago, a great act of faith, its growth through the years. There have been problems through its history, changing but never growing less, spiritual, educational, financial, the problem of residence for growing enrolments. In the face of all these the record of Acadia is one of encouragement in all lines. Financially the achievement has been one of steadily reduced indebtedness and increased endowments.

The anthem of the morning was Thiman's "Immortal, Invisible".

The service of evening worship was conducted by the Rev. I. Judson Levy, B.A. The speaker on this occasion being the Rev. Dr. C. E. Silcox of the Canadian Social Service Council who brought an impressive message in connection with this movement.

The anthem of the evening was Zingarelli's "Go Not Far From Me O God." Mrs. Hector Collier in her solo gave an expressive rendering of Gounod's "There is a Green Hill Far Away."

John Inch, Music Rec., organist and choirmaster conducted the music at all services.

Fought Germans To Stand Still

These are the types of Canadian paratroopers who fought the Nazi to a stand still and helped pave the way to successful Allied operations on D-Day.
