Stock Markets At A Glance

WINNIPEG, March 10 —(CP)— Rye futures prices were irregular on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange Saturday, with moderate depressing prices which closed unchanged to three cents lower.

NEW YORK, March 10 —(AP)— The stock market Saturday concluded its dullest week in almost a year on the smallest Saturday volume for about six months irregularly higher tendencies predominating.

Scattered aircrafts, steels and specialties put up the best performance over the two-hour stretch, although the ticker tape continued to mope after a fairly active opening and losers were plentiful at the close. Gains generally ranged from fractions to a point or so but a few "thin" issues jumped 3 to 4 on a few sales.

The aggregate of 460,000 shares was a low since last Sept. 8. The six-day total of 5,220,000 was a minimum for any full week since the period ending April 7 last.

Buying still was based partly on the theory that the list was due for a good comeback after the February slump. Settlement of the Western Electric strike revived hopes for labor adjustments elsewhere and lifted American Telephone 1 1-2. Boosting of cotton textile ceilings helped American woolen and scattered store stocks and inspired the thought that relaxation of price controls in other sectors would benefit securities. Expectation that armaments would be maintained or expanded in view of the cloudy foreign situation apparently bolstered aviations such as Douglas, Boeing, Lockheed, Grumman and Bell Aircraft.

The Experts Say

OTTAWA, March 7 — (CP) — With the butter ration cut, Canadian homemakers are busy re-organizing their butter budgets. Though much has already been said on the subject of stretching the limited supply, the agriculture department home economists offer these suggestions.

When planning to use butter as a spread on toast or sandwiches, be sure to have the butter soft—it covers more space. Take it out of the refrigerator ahead of time so that it has a chance to warm up, but don't let it melt. This is one time when plans for breakfast begin the night before. And speaking of breakfast, if you feel that all those slices of toast use up too much butter, try increasing the amount of morning cereal and decreasing the toast.

So that each member of the family will get his fair share of butter it is a good idea to cut individual portions and place one on each bread-and-butter plate or all together on one plate.

If buns, rolls or biscuits are to be served, they may be lightly buttered in the kitchen before placing on the table. Or, for a family supper, the rolls or biscuits may be broken open or cut, sprinkled with a little grated cheese and toasted in the oven for a minute or two.

Crackers or soda biscuits may easily be eaten without butter, particularly if they are of the salted variety. If you can't get this kind, sprinkle them with a little salt before they go on the table.

Small squares of bread toasted in the oven or browned in the frying pan with a bit of bacon fat make excellent croutons to go with the soup course.

The homemaker who really has a butter problem is the lunch packer. Everyone knows how sandwiches literally "eat up" butter. If the sandwich filling is of a creamy consistency you'll need little or no butter. If it doesn't belong to this type you may feel the need of some butter. In that case, spread the butter only around the edges and omit in in the centre. It's the edge of the sandwich that usually has the thinnest layer of filling and incidentally, it is the first bite.

Here is a consumer section recipe for Cheese and Egg Spread that is an excellent butter saver.

Cheese and Egg Spread requires one tablespoon of mild-flavored fat, one teaspoon grated onion (optional), 1 1-2 tablespoons flour, two tablespoons sugar, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon mustard, 3-4 cup milk, one tablespoon vinegar, 1-2 pound freshly grated cheddar cheese, two chopped, hard cooked eggs.

Melt fat and cook onion in it for one minute. Add flour, sugar, salt and mustard and stir well until blended. Add milk. Cook, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Add vinegar and cheese and continue cooking until cheese melts and mixture is smooth. Add eggs and cool. Store in a covered jar in a cool place. Makes 2 1-4 cups of filling.

If You Get Up Nights You Can't Feel Right

If you have to get up 2 or more times a night your rest is broken and it's no wonder if you feel old and run down before your time. Kidney and Bladder troubles often may be the cause of many pains and symptoms simply because the Kidneys may be tired and not working fast enough in flushing and removing irritating excess acids, poisons and wastes from your blood. So if you get up nights or suffer from burning, scanty or frequent passages, leg pains, backache, or nervousness, due to Kidney and Bladder troubles, you'll make no mistake in trying Cystex. Because it has given quick, joyous, happy results in so high a percentage of cases, Cystex is sold under an agreement of money back on return of empty package unless completely satisfactory to you. Cystex costs only 35c at druggists, and the money back offer protects you.

V.C. Winners Fade Into Civilian Life

BY DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, March 8 — (CP) — The eight survivors among the 14 Canadians who won the Victoria Cross in the Second Great War are fading into Canadian life with little or nothing to distinguish them from fellow veterans now in the thick of the fight for re-establishment.

In fact, one salient point that emerged from a Canadian Press survey of their activities, was that they formed a typical cross-section of the hundreds of thousands of men who shared their war and their retreat from war.

Three of them, the survey found, were still in the army. One was in parliament. One was back at his old job. One had launched an insurance career. One had quit a job and was shopping cautiously for another. One had left small town Canada for big town Canada.

Ten months after hostilities ended in Europe, only one was in public life in any form.

He was Lt.-Col. Cecil Merritt of Vancouver who returns to Ottawa this week for his second session as Progressive Conservative member of parliament for Vancouver-Burrard. His desk mate, incidentally, is a V.C. from the First Great War, Maj.-Gen. G.R. Pearkes, Progressive Conservative member for Nanaimo.

The other Dieppe, V.C., Maj. John Weir Foote, a padre at Camp Borden, Ont., apparently intends to remain in the permanent army.

At Borden, too, is Lt.-Col. Paul Triquet of Cabano, Que., the hero of Casa Berardi crossroads near Ortona, Italy. He is on the infantry training staff there.

Third V.C. still in the army is Maj. John Keefer Mahony of New Westminster, B.C. Recently, he was officer commanding the rehabilitation wing of Little Mountain barracks in Vancouver. His future plans are indefinite.

He won the V.C. on the Melfa River in Italy.

Like Mahony, Pte. E.A. (Smokey) Smith was working in Vancouver and living in New Westminster and, like Mahony, he was unmarried. A sports enthusiast, he was selling life insurance and friends reported him "an excellent salesman."

His V.C. was won on another Italian river, the Savio.

The one other non-officer, Cpl. Fred Topham, tried the Toronto City Police force but resigned after a few weeks service because "I want to find something that will suit me better."

He had found civilian life "a lot better than the Army," was single and intending to continue that estate "a long, long time."

Topham won the V.C. as a paratroop medical orderly on the Western Front.

The one man back at his old job was Maj. Fred A. Tilston of Windsor, Ont. Fitted with two artificial legs for those he lost in his V.C. action in the German hochwald, he was vice-president in charge of sales of a business firm.

Lt.-Col. David Currie, hero of the Falaise Gap, left the army last year, went back to Moose Jaw, Sask., where he had held a pre-war job in a garage but now is in Montreal.

The other six did not come back. They were Sqdn.-Ldr. I.W. Bazalgette of Calgary, Flt.-Lt. David Hornell of Mimico, Ont., Sgt. Aubrey Cosens, Latchford, Ont., Capt. T.F. Peters of Prince Edward Island and Nelson, B.C., Lieut. R.H. Gray, Nelson, B.C., and Maj. J.F. Hoey of Duncan, B.C.

Avalanches in the Himalayan mountains are the most terrifying in the world because often they are of tremendous size.

HEAD COLDS SINUS-PAIN

Get Quick Relief

Certain types of colds are quite poisonous, especially those which get up to the air cells at the top of the nose. Remember always that the nose is a large cavity that goes back almost to the level of your ears.

When you develop a cold, the germs causing it find their way into the recesses of your nose. The vapor of Catarrh-o-zone can reach all these hidden recesses; it's medicated vapor will go wherever air can go, and that is why Catarrh-o-zone is so successful in giving quick, grateful relief to head and nose colds. Breathe in the soothing vapor of Catarrh-o-zone and your head will feel clearer in seconds. Catarrh-o-zone will let fresh air into the plugged, congested areas that need medication so badly. For fast relief, use Catarrh-o-zone Inhaler—the breathable remedy that gives relief so quickly, 25c or 50c size, at all druggists.
