TOO WEAK TO WORK.

A Collingwood, Ont., painter tells how Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills strengthened his heart, invigorated his nerves, and restored his health.

Weak heart and weak nerves mean weak body. No one can be strong and vigorous with the heart and nerves disordered or diseased. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills not only overcome all danger due to irregularity of the heart beat, but through regulating that organ, strengthening the nerves and enriching the blood they give new vitality and energy to the whole system.

Mr. Geo. Gray the well-known painter, corner of Napier and Simcoe Sts., Collingwood, Ont., says: "For fifteen years past I have been afflicted with very weak nerves and heart trouble. I never could obtain sufficient sleep and felt as tired when I got up in the morning as when I went to bed. In addition to this I suffered much from palpitation of the heart and shortness of breath. My blood was thin and watery and I soon lost flesh and became debilitated. It was a great task for me to walk any distance or follow my usual occupation."

"In March last I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and they did me so much good that I bought another box. The great change for the better they have worked on me is wonderful. My nervous system is now as strong as ever, my blood has been enriched and my heart beats strong and natural. I now walk and work as well as ever I did and am only too glad to recommend these pills to all who suffer as I did."

CIVIC AFFAIRS DISCUSSED.

A Probable Cretion for Damages Against the City.

The City Council meeting last night was conducted with comparative calm, and during the first part in particular a time was lost in unnecessary discussion. After routine work the committee appointed for the purpose reported that through Judge Reddin they had effected the purchase of land for the extension of Upper Prince Street, the price of the land being $60.

Coun. Crabbe gave notice that at next meeting he would introduce a by-law to regulate the inspection of electric lighting.

Coun. Crabbe also reported having conferred with J. Lawlor Wood with reference to having city photographs appear in the work entitled From Ocean To Ocean, about which mention has previously been made. The committee recommended having seven photographs inserted, including the City Building, West Kent and Prince Street schools, Eatery Point including part of Park Boulevard, Market Building, and south side of Queen Square. The cost of inserting the photographs is $50 each, which includes a general descriptive article on the city. The committee was authorized to close with the Dominion Publishing Company for seven views.

It was decided to call for tenders for the lighting of the City Building.

A bill of $500 from Col. Waring for sewerage plans drawn in 1892 was allowed to lie on the table until further information concerning it can be obtained.

A letter from Mr. George Carter with reference to the extension of the sidewalk near his residence on Easton street was ordered to be laid on the table.

The issue of $5,500 debentures bearing interest at 3 1/2 per cent was authorized for the purpose of putting a new boiler and pump at the pumping station.

A letter was read from M. & D. C. McLeod, asking the consideration of the Council on the action of the Chief of the fire department during the evening of the fire in Capt. R. MacMillan's coal yard. The letter set forth that the Chief improperly turned off the water and refused to permit the fire men to use the hose when the fire in the coal and building was manifestly not extinguished and still in a dangerous state to his and adjacent property. Telephone orders were of no effect as the chief had ordered that a second alarm was not to be rung. Captain MacMillan's property was consequently damaged to the amount of about $700 or $800, which damages it is claimed might have been nearly all avoided had it not been for the neglect of duty of the fire department, and for which information be correct Mr. MacMillan will have his claim against the city for damages sustained.

The letter was ordered to be laid on the table after having been acknowledged by the clerk. The reason was given that to hold an investigation at the present time would be to put evidence in the Attorney's hands for a case against the city.

Authority was granted to send two of the city horses.

Councillor Hooper made a strong plea for Matthew McCourt to be reinstated as an employee of the city when work offers, subject to the approval of the City Surveyor. His resolution was voted down 5-3.

Councillor Hooper also took exception to the continuance of Mr. Higgins as special policeman.

Councillor Nicholson believed that two additional officers should be appointed.

Both Councillor Hooper and Councillor Nicholson called attention to the laxity of enforcement of the Liquor Regulation Act.

Gladstone's Will Probated.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—The will of the late Right Hon. Wm. E. Gladstone has been probated. It shows that his personal estate is valued at £59,506. Mr. Gladstone's will was written by himself in an ordinary memorandum book. It is a document of about two thousand words, and is a remarkable specimen of penmanship. The second clause of the will has reference to the funeral arrangements, and says: "Commending myself to the infinite mercies of God to the incarnate Son as my only and sufficient hope, I leave the particulars of my burial to my executors, specifying only that they be very simple and private, unless there be conclusive reasons to the contrary. And I desire to be buried where my wife may also lie. On no account shall a laudatory inscription be placed over me." After appointing his sons as executors, the will charges the future possessor of Hawarden to remember that, as the head of the family, it will be his duty to extend good offices to other members thereof according to his ability and their manifest needs and merits. The rest of the document leaves souvenirs to servants, and bequeaths to his grandson, William as heirlooms, all patents of Crown offices held by the testator and books and prints presented to him by the Queen, letters from the Queen, &c. The will bears date of November 26, 1896.

THE OFFENDED SNAKE-CHARMER.

Table IV.

An Eastern Snake-Charmer, hearing of the Gold that was to be had for the taking in a Western Land, left his own Country and went to this El Dorado. Having been hospitably received by the Natives, he soon came to regard it as his home, but he did not forget the Manners and Customs of his own Country. No sooner was he settled down in his new Abode than he began the taming of Rattlesnakes, in which his line he took great delight. Unfortunately, however, the Rattles, which soon swarmed around the Eastern Man's House in great numbers, often strayed abroad, and every day scores of the Neighbors and their Children were Bitten and Destroyed. This at length led to a great Public Uprising, and the People demanded that the Breeding of Rattlesnakes should be totally prohibited. "I have used Poisonous Reptiles all my life," said he, "and they are a necessity to my comfort. They have never harmed me, nor will they injure anybody who handles them with Sense. Am I to be deprived of a source of innocent domestic Happiness because there are fools who cannot enjoy Rattlesnakes without carrying the thing too far? This is a Free Country and to say that I shall not enjoy Snakes (in my Boots or elsewhere as I please) is an infringement on Personal Liberty?" "We have nothing to say of your Private Enjoyment of Rattlesnakes," replied the people of the Community, "but it is the Duty of the State to protect the People from a Public Danger and Nuisance." "Of course," added a benevolent citizen, "if our Country doesn't suit you, you can go East again, you know."

MORAL.—While the State has no right to interfere with the private appetite of a citizen in the matter of intoxicating liquor, it has both a right and a duty to protect the people against the Saloon as a public institution.—Hamilton Temple.
