Dinner Tendered Noted Agriculturist

Dr. J. L. Tennant, head of the Department of Agricultural Economics, Rhode Island State College, and Mrs. Tennant were guests at a largely attended dinner in their honor at Providence on June 19. The dinner was in recognition of 20 years of service to Rhode Island and New England agriculture. Dr. Tennant was formerly on the staff of the P. E. I. Department of Agriculture from May 1914 to Aug. 1919. He is the son of the late William and Elizabeth Tennant of Brantford Township, Brant County, Ontario. Mrs. Tennant's parents were the late Colonel and Mrs. W. K. Muir of Brantford, Ontario. Dr. Tennant completed the public and high school courses at Paris, Ontario, and majored in Animal Husbandry and Field Crop at the Ontario Agricultural College. He received the B.S.A. degree from the University of Toronto in 1913 and the Ph.D. degree from Cornell University in 1928. Mrs. Tennant was given flowers and Dr. Tennant a bronze plaque suitably inscribed. Organizations, friends and former students contributed one thousand dollars which will be known as the J. L. Tennant Loan Fund and which will be used to assist students majoring in Agricultural Economics at the college. The chairman was Herman B. Harrington, president, The Rhode Island Agricultural Conference and the toastmaster E. L. Austin, Rhode Island State Department of Education. The speakers included: Dr. John D. Black, Harvard University; Mason H. Campbell, Dean, and G. E. Adams, Dean-emeritus, Rhode Island State College; E. A. Perreault, University of Connecticut; Q. Reynolds, general manager, Eastern States Farmers' Exchange, Springfield, Massachusetts, and C. Langendorf, president, Rhode Island Farmers' Cooperative, Providence.

First Postwar "Y" Anywhere in World

The new Charlottetown Y. M. C. A. now under construction will, when it is completed next fall, be the first post-war Y. M. C. A. to be built anywhere in the world," stated Mr. Samuel Nock, architectural consultant with the Y. M. C. A. Building Bureau, who visited Charlottetown yesterday. Mr. Nock described the building as one of the finest on the continent and that its interior will be colorful, attractive and modern. Both the national body and the Charlottetown board of directors are justly proud of it. It is a building which well merits the pride of every citizen in the community. Special appreciation to the contractor Mr. M. F. Schurman was voiced by Mr. Nock who described the construction work as a "superb qualitative job." Because of rising building costs the structure requires more funds than the original estimates called for. However, the extra work involved is being done by the contractor at no profit to himself. The construction materials have been selected with a view to obtaining maximum wear with a minimum of maintenance cost, which in turn eases the annual operational expenses of the building. "As an example," Mr. Nock said, "the shower room will have non-slip tile floors to prevent accidents, non-disintegrating wall tile and in the ceiling water-resistant Portland cement to avoid steam decay." The floors are of durable material which will wear the life of the building and the ceilings have been acoustically treated to reduce noise. Mr. Nock mentioned that one unique feature of the design of the building is that it is laid out so that one person can control all the departments from a central point. Mr. Nock emphasized that the underlying purpose of the Y. M. C. A. in providing these new facilities in Charlottetown is to make available a centre in which the boys and young men of the city may find ample opportunity to develop socially, physically and morally to the benefit of the whole community.

Food Appreciated

In a letter received recently by Mrs. J. T. Rodd, City, from Mrs. Helen Brown, St. Batholomew's Vicarage, Craven Park Rd., London, England, as a token of thanks and appreciation for food parcels sent to her by the Women's Auxiliary of St. Paul's and St. Peter's of Charlottetown, Mrs. Brown has this to say: "I thought I would like to write this time to thank you and the members of your Association for your great kindness in sending us these lovely parcels. My husband is very sorry that he had not written to acknowledge receipt of the one which arrived some weeks ago, but he was very rushed before Easter and not very well. "As a housewife, I appreciate even more than he does what these parcels mean to our larder and I do think such actions as yours make us realize that the Church is one big family.

Mercy Flight Blocked By Ice In Harbor

HALIFAX, June 27—(CP)—An R.C.A.F. mercy flight to Wakeham Strait has been called off owing to lack of landing facilities. A Canso flying boat left here Friday to pick up an Eskimo with gunshot wounds in the head. The pilot, Flt-Lt. Grant Nelson of St. Thomas, Ont., reported to R.C.A.F. headquarters here Saturday night that he had been unable to land at the isolated northern post because ice was blocking the harbor. However, drugs and instructions were dropped by parachute near the building where the eskimo is to be hospitalized. The injured man is believed to be the victim of an accidental shooting. Crop Report

WINNIPEG, Man., June 26—Conditions have improved in Manitoba due to this week's rains. But rain is badly needed in Saskatchewan and in Alberta where only scattered showers have fallen. The crop in Saskatchewan has so far held its own but if a general rain is not received very soon the crop will deteriorate rapidly. Grasshopper damage is fairly general in Saskatchewan but is worst in the Semans-Saskatoon-Rosetown areas. In all three provinces early sown wheat is standing up well but later sown grains show very poor germination and are very backward. Recent rains have improved conditions in the Peace River area, according to the weekly crop report of the Department of Agriculture of the Canadian National Railways.
