AUTOS STILL GOING.—Although the fall of snow of Sunday night put the roads in good condition for sleigh driving the autos were driven in town and country yesterday. This is quite remarkable for this season of the year.

ATTENTION is hereby called to Clayton Morrison's auction of registered stock, farm machinery, implements, etc., at Tryon on February 15th. Commencing at 1.30 p. m. sharp. See handbills. If stormy first fine day following. H. F. Morrison, Auctioneer. 3740-2-8-31

GEDDIE MEMORIAL.—A New London correspondent writes: The report of the annual meeting of the Geddie Memorial Church, as published in your paper of Jan. 26, stated that only six out of one hundred and fifty voted for union, but carefully suppressed the fact that only ten, old and young, voted against union. Comments are needless.

ISLAND HOCKEYIST.—Ossy Lefurges, who played goal with the Crystals last year, is in the nets for the Dartmouth team this year and is making quite a name for himself. His photograph reproduced in a recent issue of the Chronicle and in all the games he is receiving favorable comment. Well done "Ossy."

ST. ELEANORS WIN.—In a fast and exciting game which was followed with interest by a large crowd of hockey fans the St. Eleanors Silver Foxes defeated the Linkletter Road Racoons on Saturday afternoon last by the score of 4 to 2. The game brought out some good material on both sides and the victors are considering challenging the Crystals, it is said. Mr. Frank Gamble refereed satisfactorily.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.—There was a very destructive fire at the large and excellently appointed residence of Mr. J. E. Dalton on Grandville Street, Summerside, on Sunday night. The fire started in the cellar from spontaneous combustion or some other unknown cause, and had it not been that Mr. Dalton noticed it shortly after commencement and gave the alarm it would probably have been a terrible conflagration.

PERSONALS.—Mrs. Martin Keough, Tryon is visiting in Summerside.

Miss Ruth Gallant, Summerside, has returned from an enjoyable visit to several weeks in Montreal and Quebec.

The many friends of Master George Pickering, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Pickering, Clinton are pleased to know that he is doing as well as can be expected after having sustained serious injuries while coasting some time ago.

The late William A. Noonan

It is with feelings of profound regret that we publish today the announcement of the death of Mr. William A. Noonan, who passed away at his home in Bedouque yesterday afternoon at six o'clock.

The late Mr. Noonan was well known in his 69th year, was well known in his younger days was known throughout the province as the driver and manager of the famous stallion "Hernado." After being thrown from the sulky and severely hurt while driving Hernado in a match race with Black Pilot at Summerside many years ago, he moved to Bedouque where he took up the occupation of farming and blacksmithing. Here he raised a large family of eleven children and established himself as one of the leading and most esteemed citizens of this district.

The late Mr. Noonan was never disabled through illness until yesterday when, after returning from mass he went into his house and stated that he was not feeling well, he immediately elapsed into an unconscious state from which he never rallied.

He leaves to mourn a sorrowing widow, two daughters, Hilda and Alice at home, also seven sons, namely: Andrew at Albany; Phillip, Manager of the Provincial Bank, Charlottetown; W. Henry, Barrister at Law at Summerside; Austin of the Royal Bank, Halifax; and Daniel, John, and Frank of Boston and Preston and Russell at home. Mr. J. M. Noonan, Summerside is a brother.

The funeral takes place on Thursday morning at 9 o'clock from his late residence. The Guardian joins with the whole community in extending sincere sympathy to the bereaved.

Sent to Supreme Court

Edmond Byers, who was arrested Saturday morning on the charge of breaking and entering appeared before His Honour the Stipendiary Magistrate yesterday morning for a preliminary hearing.

Mr. J. J. Johnston, K. C., appeared for the prisoner.

The following witnesses were examined: J. Watson Higgins on being sworn said he was a Police Constable. At 12.40 a. m. Saturday last he received a message from the Condensed Milk Co. Went out and found two men in the building.

Percy Gay and William Gregory. Saw glass broken in a window on west side of building and on south side. One of the windows had the lower sash all broken in. On east side one window had one of the panes smeared with blood.

Under south broken window found fur coat. There was a lot of blood on the sash of the window. He said he thought the prisoner got some information from Gregory and Gay and the prisoner was arrested on a warrant. He was making his escape over the back roof when I arrested him. Officer Trainor was with me. He was bleeding from a gash on the knuckle of the fourth finger of the right hand. I took an impression and Trainor also. Warned the prisoner that anything he said would be used in evidence against him. (Fur coat produced.) This is the coat found in the factory with the blood on the right side.

He said he thought the prohibition officers were making a search and that was why he was running.

Percy Gay on being sworn said he was an employee of the Condensed Milk Factory. In the early morning of Saturday last was going to my home at St. Avaris, about 12.15. I met the prisoner at the corner of Victory Avenue and Longworth Ave. He wanted to know where the Egg Circle was. He had a fur coat on. He could not talk very plain. I directed him. When I got home, Mr. Gregory, with whom I board and who is also an employee gave me some information and we went to the factory. When we opened the door we heard a noise and saw a man go out the back window. I turned on the lights, went over to the window, saw what had happened and called the police. I saw the man going out of the window. Did not know his name. Officers Higgins and Doyle came out. I saw the fur coat, broken glass and blood stains. The prisoner was there the day before getting butter milk. A box of butter had been moved to a spot under the back window, facing the flour mills.

William Gregory on being sworn said he was an employee of the Condensed Milk Co. On Friday last it being cold, I got afraid of a couple of expensive valves in the factory that might freeze. I waited till Gay came home and we both heard a crash as of something heavy falling. I saw nobody. Then we went to south window and found on looking out a man lying down under the window, right close to the building. I spoke to him. He jumped up and ran away. After he turned and ran towards me. I took him to the Byers. Not positive. He slammed his fur coat at the window. I saw Byers different times in the factory. I identified the man to Officer Higgins sufficiently to authorize his arrest. I think the prisoner is the man I saw.

case, the case of Ivan McInnis charged with stealing $5.00 was called and adjourned until 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

When the case was closed yesterday afternoon, and the charge read, the prisoner pleaded "not guilty."

Mrs. Minnie Lowrie on being sworn stated McInnis came into her grocery store, Fowml Street, on last Friday evening around 6 o'clock and asked to have $5.00 changed. Mrs. Lowrie gave him two $2.00 bills and a $1.00 bill, the prisoner grabbed the money, throwing a piece of brown paper on the counter and running out of the store. Witness followed him to the door saying that was not money and prisoner kept on running until he turned the corner. Witness positively identified the prisoner as the man who was in her store.

The prisoner on taking the stand swore he had not been in plaintiff's store since last fall and that he was in a house on Queen Street last Friday from 5.30 until 7 o'clock.

On being asked if he had any witnesses or wished any prisoner replied in the negative.

His Honor sentenced the prisoner to six months in jail after delivering a crisp lecture.

JUNIOR HOCKEY.—"Bearcat Cubs", North Tryon, vs. "Junior Arrows", Score Bearcat Cubs 8, Arrows 7, Tryon. Wednesday evening, Feb. 2nd, the Bearcat Cubs crossed sticks with the Junior Arrows, on "Dad" Lyman's rink, Tryon. The game got away at 9 sharp, and almost from the pace off L. Mabey scored for the Arrows, repeating in about five minutes. However, the Cubs put up a good scrap and no more goals were scored that period.

Second period—Mabey sure can add in hockey, for he added another to the Arrows score. But Inman did not go there for a beating so he got down to "hard-tacks" and netted number 1 for the Cubs, soon after following suit with the second period. Dawson came down the ice with fire in his eyes and entered up another. Then just for fun Carr snapped one into the Cubs net, and "Mick" also contributed one to the cause.

3rd period—Inman was the first to score, but Mabey came right back. S. Dawson got his share of the evening's spoils, but "Mick" bumped home another and the game went merrily on. But although the Arrows fought well the Bearcat Cubs were out to win and Inman planted three more goals in the Arrows net and the game ended 8-7 with the Arrows on the short end. G. Robble referee.

SHEETS.—It is an economy stunt to make the sheets the same width in both ends of your sheets. With such hems, either end may be used for the top and this distributes the wear and makes them last longer. Be sure to make the sheets long enough, for there is nothing more annoying than to have sheets so short that they will not angle up around the mattress and at the same time tuck under the mattress and keep your toes covered. From two and a quarter to two and a half yards is the usual length for sheets, depending on the length of the bed. It never pays to buy a cheap quality of sheeting. A firm, substantial sheeting is more economical in the end.

THE INCOMING SHOES.—The new shoes promise to be stayer than anything we have yet known, running through the spectrum from rose-blue to parchment. Trimmings will be elaborate. Reptile hides will be as popular as last season. Shoes will match gowns in many cases. Tan will continue a favorite. Heels for dress will go higher and for sports will go lower.

BRAN MUFFINS.—Stir the wet and dry ingredients of these separately the night before, and bake them for breakfast. Sift together three cups flour, two teaspoons soda and one teaspoon baking powder. Add three cups bran and mix in a separate bowl. Have two tablespoons melted fat blend two tablespoons molasses. Add a cup and a half of sour milk. The next morning mix the wet and dry ingredients, and bake slowly in well greased muffin tins.

THE EXPENSE ACCOUNT.—There are some important things you should know about how you are spending your money and there is no other way you can learn them than by keeping an expense account. Ordinarily people just throw up their hands in terror when the matter of where the money goes is mentioned. It is a wise financier who knows, from keeping tabs, just what became of that which he earned with the sweat of his brow. Keep an account book, properly ruled and labelled, and each night note in it what money you have spent that day. If you can carry the book in your pocket, or carry it with you, it will be the better, for that will enable you to jot down every expenditure at once and save you much anxious puzzling when you come to reckon with yourself. The expense account shows you if you are allotting too much money to any one item; and if that should be increased or reduced another time.

OUT DOOR SPORTS.—Hardy Northern peoples are delighting in vigorous and invigorating out door sports even when the thermometer is playing around zero. They dress the part and do not mind the weather. Skiing, skating, coasting, ice-boating, sleighing and ice-hockey are some of their activities. Where the weather is freezing, any neighborhood may have its corner lot ice rink, if the firemen will but turn on the hydrant and flood some vacant area. The cost of this is not exorbitant and it would bring its compensation in the health of the community.

SMILES.—First student: "Professor Jones brings things home to me that I never saw before." Second student: "That's nothing So does my laundryman."

"I saw Charlotte on the street dressed very modestly." "That girl will resort to anything to attract attention."
