OTTAWA LETTER

Last Sunday I had the privilege of attending a memorial service for the Chateau Laurier for Mahatma Gandhi.

The convention hall was crowded with members of the cabinet, ambassadors, civil servants and other dignitaries from all walks of life.

Beyond the platform was a life-size picture of Gandhi, which was bordered with white flowers and flanked with large baskets of lilies and other blossoms.

Leonard W. Brookington, K. C., paid a very moving tribute to the great Indian leader. He doubted if any other man had been so mourned by so many people in so many lands.

He drew a parallel between the martyrdom of Abraham Lincoln, for whom the people stood in silence for miles as his funeral train travelled in the United States, and the loss of Gandhi for whom his countrymen wept on the banks of the sacred river in India.

The Ambassador for China in his tribute said: "I join my Indian friends in reverent sympathy in the death of Gandhi, one of the great mortals of his day."

In death, Gandhi's greatness transcended all values. Let us all rededicate ourselves to his policy of non-violence."

We have become so accustomed to Gandhi in his loin cloth that it is difficult to remember that in his university days he dressed in the height of fashion and was a bit of an epicurean in the refinements of western civilization.

Last Thursday the Department of National Defence put on an aircraft display for members of the House of Commons and senators at the R. C. A. F. station at Rockcliffe. The display consisted of demonstrations of jet-propelled planes, helicopters (to rhyme with ee) and North Star transport planes.

The greatest interest was shown in the jet-propelled planes. The speed of these planes is so great that it is impossible to follow their flight, yet they are exceedingly manoeuvrable and can be slowed down to 110 miles per hour for landing.

The North Stars are giant four-engined transport planes capable of carrying almost fifty fully equipped troops. They have a top speed of 333 miles per hour and land at about 85 miles per hour.

It is so manoeuvrable that it can continue in flight with the two engines on one side shut out.

The helicopter demonstration illustrated its great usefulness in rescue work. This awkward looking craft rises vertically, flies forward, sideways or backward or hovers over a given object. An air man mounted a platform and the helicopter flew over him, reversed, dropped vertically down along side him and hovered while he climbed aboard. It is equipped with an hydraulic winch with 75 feet of cable with which personnel or other loads can be lowered from the lift up to the aircraft while it is hovering over one spot.

The tedium of a very dry debate last week was relieved by the following bit of repartee: Mr. Crulckshank: "The honourable member who has just spoken does not say anything about eight cents for a bottle of coca cola."

Mr. Manross: "No advertising; do not use trade names." Mr. Crulckshank: "Just let me take care of the berries." Mr. Manross: "I will take care of the pop; you take care of the berries."

Mr. Crulckshank: "I believe that, because all you do is to pop up over there." Mr. Manross: "I will take care of pop and mom too."

Mr. Knowles: "Get back to the nuts in the shell." Mr. Crulckshank: "I presume the honourable member for London knows all about kumquats. I do not even know what you do with them. I presume they come from Ontario."

Mr. Manross: "How do you spell that?" An hon. member: "This is not a kindergarten." Mr. Manross: "What are you doing here?"

The acting chairman (Mr. Bragette): "I ask hon. members kindly to remain silent while another hon. member is speaking."

Sport Echoes from Prince County

The final standing of the South Shore League, all games of which are played in the Bedeque rink:

Table with 4 columns: Team, W, L, T, Pts. G. Flying Hearts 5 1 0 10 36, Freetown Royals 4 2 0 8 31, Middleton Bombers 1 4 1 3 19, Augustine Cove Bulldogs 1 4 1 3 15.

The playoffs are still to be played.

Syl Bernard of the Flying Hearts won the cup for the leading scorer having amassed total of 21 points on 13 goals and 8 assists. Syl impressed the South Shore fans with his speed and smooth sticking. Syl also plays for the Legionaires in the Summerside League, and with the Summerside All-Stars in the Charlottetown City League, so you can see the boy has helped himself to a lot of hockey this season.

Arnold Murray, rookie defenceman of the Augustine Cove Bulldogs has been attracting a lot of attention in this, his first year in intermediate hockey. Arnold has been improving every time out and the ralhbirds are pretty well agreed that he will be heard from as a rearguardman when he gets a little more experience. Ever so quiet, playing for Middleton, is another boy who makes the blue-line look like barbed-wire entanglements to onrushing forwards. His improvement over last year is very noticeable. The South Shore has produced some great players in the past, among them Claude and Clint Howatt, Claude MacWilliams, Wendell MacWilliams, Vernie Webster, and Oscar Crappell who like the brook goes on forever. Old Father Time can't seem to mow the last-mentioned old-timer down. We think it a pity if he hasn't kept a record of the goals he has scored in intermediate games. His total would probably be away out in front of the total of any intermediate player who ever played on the island.

Old Man Winter of 1948, and what a crabbled fellow he's turned out to be, has caused the postponement of two intermediate play-off games Summerside was to have played in Borden and O'Leary was to have tangled with Alberton but neither game came off because of a sudden flurry of strong wind that followed hard on the heels of a light fall of snow.

Play-off time is here and one by one the registered hockey clubs will fall by the wayside until only one is left in each division to be declared champions. What the boys have done in exhibition games means nothing now. They have to deliver the goods when the chips are down if they expect to stay in the hunt for the several crowns. The big questions seems to be will any team outside of the Capital City be able to wrest from the Charlottetownians one of the championship titles. It will be very difficult in the intermediate division. Just what Tishish is in the line of a Junior outfit to cope with, the Charlottetown juniors is pretty much of a mystery. The Summerside Kinsmen have a fighting chance to triumph over the cream of Charlottetown Juveniles, and Kensington must not be forgotten either. The Capital City Abegweits or Becco sextet, we've heard them called by both names, will be hard to knock off in the Midget contention but it wouldn't take a miracle for the fast-improving Summerside boys to turn the trick.

Summerside fans are talking about the surprising versatility of Freddie Foy who seems to be able to play any position for the local R.C.A.F. team. Freddie was a high-scoring forward, but the R.C.A.F. management was looking for someone to plug a bad hole between the pipes and Foy rigged out in hockey regalia of a gorgeous red played brilliantly in the airforce cage. Foy, fairly bubbling over with pep, found it difficult to remain in the cage when the enemy were swooping around his doorstep. Used to mixing it freely with all comers, even as a net custodian Foy made little sallies out where the battle raged and handed out a check here and there to keep the snipers properly in their place. He was good enough in his new position to win the award for the outstanding player on his team, which he undoubtedly was.

Miss Portia White Heard In S'ide

Portia White, brilliant young Canadian contralto, appeared last night in recital in the auditorium of the Summerside High School before an audience which demonstrated its deep appreciation and without doubt she scored one more triumph to be added to a long list of concert successes.

She was introduced to her audience by Rev. E. J. Barass who reminded them that this was the first appearance of Miss White in this Province and that Summerside had the honor of hearing her before any other audience in Prince Edward Island.

Miss White, who received her musical education at the Halifax Conservatory of Music is one of the leading exponents of the "bel canto" style of singing. Her rich thrilling voice is a splendid example of this school. In her most elaborate operatic airs her vocal agility and easy production of tone are apparent. In the tender simple ballads and spirituals she exhibited a pure sustained tone that was instrumental in quality.

The singer revealed a voice of unusual beauty, rich in quality, fullness and power, it had freshness and possessed the flexibility and enormous vitality of youth. Miss White justified fully the extensive fame which preceded her and without exaggeration one must classify her voice as one of the most beautiful and powerful on its greatness, ever to be heard in Summerside.

The recital was under the auspices of the Summerside Baptist Young People's Union.—S.
