

AGENT: Mrs. John Pond, 31 Church Street - Phone 230 SUMMERSIDE AND PRINCE COUNTY

The Guardian will be delivered to any home in Summerside by Carrier Boy at 2c per day, or 10c per week. Phone 289 for this service, or give your order to the boy responsible for deliveries on your route.

-ATTENTION FISHERMEN.- I am writing you as usual at my factory premises. For highest prices. Signed Andre Patreuil. 1-689-12-21-11th.

-FIREMEN CALLED.- Summerside firemen were called out again yesterday afternoon about one Mrs. Linkletter on King Street. The blaze was caused by a fire used to thaw out a frozen water pipe and was soon extinguished by the chemical engine. Very little damage was caused.-S.

-FUNERAL THIS MORNING.- The funeral of Wilhelmina Gaudet will be held this (Wednesday) morning at 10:45 from the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gaudet, 108 Prince Street, to St. Pansani's Basilica, thence to the Roman Catholic Cemetery.

Prmier Campbell (Continued from page 1) century days, at the same time Prince Edward Island cannot and will not accept as final the findings of the Commission in this effort that the Dominion has been and continues to discharge its full obligation in these terms, the union, however, is also complicated by the fact that the Commission took as a basis of its findings the proposed revenue from the province of Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia which for reasons connected with the war effort, has been least deferred for some time.

Second Handicap The second handicap under which our primary producers have labored, and as a result of which they contended to have a claim against the Dominion, is the result of the so-called national policy. The Commission disallowed the claim of the kind and amount proposed to a temporary compensation in respect of this contention.

Among other arguments, they stated that even if the Dominion were to be extremely difficult and even impossible to calculate or measure the extent of such a claim against the Dominion, it is a matter which the Commission did, on the other hand, recognize the validity of the claim and as compensatory to the Dominion, it is a matter which the Commission recognized the theory of special need as governing and requiring assistance from the various provinces.

Particularly in the train of the war there has been no handling under which our primary producers have been laboring up to the present time, and that is recognized.

Perk is pegged from the top; butter is pegged down. Potatoes during the year have been sacrificed on a market which was not open to certain amount of regulation could have operated at more satisfactory results. The Dominion has borne with particular weight on the farmers of our province.

Farmers Handicapped On the other hand, the farmer has been pegged from the bottom, especially in the case of the agricultural construction. He sees fertilizer, equipment and necessary rising in price, and as I have pointed out, transportation facilities are curtailed or at least deferred.

While agriculture is our principal industry in this province, it is making in particular the principal and most stressed branches of that industry; and yet it is being handicapped by a Dominion Commission appointed for a specific purpose the whole agricultural policy of the province is completely overridden and reversed.

It is no doubt inevitable that situations of this kind will arise; yet I believe that in the Dominion, the conflicting fields of jurisdiction the provinces are handicapped in having to deal almost exclusively with departments and boards of the Dominion Government.

Centralization I believe that the experience of the provinces in this direction is provincial representatives-possibly the press-to lead a further degree of centralization, if the financial and the provinces are to be overridden and supervised by a finance commission such as has been recommended by the report of the Commission.

The fear, I believe, is not so much one of centralization of power in the Dominion-but because an examination of the Commission's report in that regard makes it clear that there is no substantial difference in Dominion powers and that the Dominion Government, but that the adoption of a report of this kind will give rise to an increase rather than a decrease of bureaucracy and departmentalism within the scope of Dominion Government.

It seems to me that some more specific machinery than the holding of an annual general conference should be set up for dealing with the problems of Dominion-Provincial relationships, by a clearing house, in which the Dominion Government and departments and boards of the Dominion Government, and through

S' side Resident Passes after Short illness

The death occurred at his home in Summerside yesterday morning of Mr. James Rayner after a short illness. Mr. Rayner was 71 years of age and was a native of Greenmount, near Alberton. He was one of the pioneers of the silver fox industry and was closely associated with Sir Charles Dalton, the breeder of silver foxes in captivity and was for many years a successful fox breeder.

Mr. Rayner retired from active business some 15 years ago and up till last year generally spent his winters in Florida. Two years ago he purchased the home of Mrs. Crilly Lea on Hanover Street, Summerside, where he had since resided.

Besides his wife he is survived by three sons, Marshall, Wallace and Russell, all residing in Greenmount; five daughters, Mrs. William Peterson, Kildare Cape, Mrs. Will Reid, Coleman; Mrs. Benjamin Thomas, Caspucque; Mrs. Ephraim Reid, Corbairt, Sask.; Mrs. Wallace Graham, near Greenmount. Also three brothers, B. I. Rayner, Summerside; E. H. Rayner, Florida; Joseph Rayner, Greenmount; and three sisters, Mrs. A. P. Wells, Summerside; Mrs. M. E. Pomeroy, Florida and Mrs. Herbert Platt, Charlotte.

The funeral will be held on Thursday at his late residence on Hanover Street, Summerside, at 10:30 a.m. Rev. J. Williams, pastor of the Christian Church, of which the deceased was a member, will officiate, assisted by Rev. C. W. Cook of the Baptist Church.-S.

Income Taxes I now find that the income tax should properly be the exclusive field of Dominion jurisdiction.

The same arguments apply in the case of succession duties, because under the present system there is duplication. There is income tax and estate duty.

There are variations of rates and variations in incidence as between different provinces, and I submit that the Dominion should take over the field of Dominion jurisdiction, which the results of deliberations might be communicated to the Dominion Government.

One suggestion that did occur to me was that a sub-committee of the Dominion Government might be allocated to study the Dominion-Provincial relations.

Income Taxes I now find that the income tax should properly be the exclusive field of Dominion jurisdiction.

The same arguments apply in the case of succession duties, because under the present system there is duplication. There is income tax and estate duty.

There are variations of rates and variations in incidence as between different provinces, and I submit that the Dominion should take over the field of Dominion jurisdiction, which the results of deliberations might be communicated to the Dominion Government.

One suggestion that did occur to me was that a sub-committee of the Dominion Government might be allocated to study the Dominion-Provincial relations.

Income Taxes I now find that the income tax should properly be the exclusive field of Dominion jurisdiction.

The same arguments apply in the case of succession duties, because under the present system there is duplication. There is income tax and estate duty.

There are variations of rates and variations in incidence as between different provinces, and I submit that the Dominion should take over the field of Dominion jurisdiction, which the results of deliberations might be communicated to the Dominion Government.

One suggestion that did occur to me was that a sub-committee of the Dominion Government might be allocated to study the Dominion-Provincial relations.

Income Taxes I now find that the income tax should properly be the exclusive field of Dominion jurisdiction.

The same arguments apply in the case of succession duties, because under the present system there is duplication. There is income tax and estate duty.

There are variations of rates and variations in incidence as between different provinces, and I submit that the Dominion should take over the field of Dominion jurisdiction, which the results of deliberations might be communicated to the Dominion Government.

One suggestion that did occur to me was that a sub-committee of the Dominion Government might be allocated to study the Dominion-Provincial relations.

Income Taxes I now find that the income tax should properly be the exclusive field of Dominion jurisdiction.

The same arguments apply in the case of succession duties, because under the present system there is duplication. There is income tax and estate duty.

There are variations of rates and variations in incidence as between different provinces, and I submit that the Dominion should take over the field of Dominion jurisdiction, which the results of deliberations might be communicated to the Dominion Government.

One suggestion that did occur to me was that a sub-committee of the Dominion Government might be allocated to study the Dominion-Provincial relations.

Income Taxes I now find that the income tax should properly be the exclusive field of Dominion jurisdiction.

The same arguments apply in the case of succession duties, because under the present system there is duplication. There is income tax and estate duty.

PREMIERS GIVE

(Continued from page 1) conference table in the centre of the House of Commons Chamber where the opening session was held.

There was much applause and laughter when later in the evening Premier Bracken referring to the fact that George Brown and Sir John A. Macdonald composed their differences to effect Confederation and urged that Mr. King and Mr. Heppburn do likewise in order to effect the readjustments recommended.

Alberta was the last province to enter Confederation, and Premier Aberhart was the last Premier to be called upon.

Mr. Aberhart said he realized the delegates must be tired. "We will all be refreshed by your address," he believed, and the conference had its second laugh of the day.

Opened With Prayer At Mr. King's suggestion, it opened with a prayer by the House of Commons, read by the Rev. J. Williams, pastor of the Christian Church, of which the deceased was a member, will officiate, assisted by Rev. C. W. Cook of the Baptist Church.-S.

He believed the reforms in Dominion-Provincial relations were needed in order to remedy a situation which he declared to be a threat to unity and a brake upon Canada's maximum effort.

It was noticeable that those who opposed the recommendations used the argument that they would impair the war effort, while the proponents used the argument that they would assist it.

Mr. Heppburn said the financial press and others had attempted to cloak the report with the garments of patriotism under the exigencies of war.

The Ontario Premier suggested the recommendation that the Dominion take over provincial debt, which Mr. Bracken later replied to this by reading a recommendation in the report designed to prevent any person from making a charge in the manner Mr. Heppburn suggested.

Mr. King opened the conference with a 40-minute speech, in which he outlined the Dominion's financial position and the need for a new government to help in refunding its debt.

PREMIER KING (Continued from page 1) Canada's war effort will be prejudiced if growing stresses and strains in inter-governmental relations are not relieved, Prime Minister Mackenzie King said today in his address on the Dominion-Provincial Conference.

Competition among governments for sources of revenue to meet swiftly the needs of the present time, and country as a threat to its unity," he said.

It is allowed to continue, our national effort will inevitably be hampered, and there will be no possibility of distributing the burden of the war effort equitably.

The Prime Minister urged the great gathering of provincial ministers and advisers attending the conference to open their minds to the recommendations of the Rowell-Sirois Commission.

Adoption Is Necessary "It is our considered view," he said, "that the adoption of the Commission's recommendations is necessary to put our country in a position to pursue a policy which will bring about the maximum war effort, and at the same time to lay a sound foundation for post-war reconstruction."

Mr. King said that while the Rowell-Sirois Commission report was made for the whole Canadian people, and municipalities of the coast were the crux of the report. The Dominion would take over provincial debt and believe the province now prevailing the cost of relief for employable unemployed.

The provinces in return would concede to the Dominion exclusive right to levy personal and corporation income tax and succession duties, and municipalities of the coast would be abolished and national adjustment grants be substituted in cases where provinces could not maintain the standard of essential services with an average level of taxation.

An Open Mind The Governor approached the conference with an open mind, recognizing that modifications in details of the financial recommendations might prove desirable. It did not consider the report as "the last word."

Most Eloquent Argument Most detailed and eloquent argument for full implementation of the report came from Premier Bracken of Manitoba.

He urged implementation on two main grounds of "peace-time necessity and as one of the most important steps we can take to strengthen the nation's war effort."

The present "outward" fiscal system would have had to be abandoned even without war, but for the present and for post-war conditions the need for modernizing the system of public finance was more imperative.

Any delay in carrying out the report's recommendations would be costly to the nation, and to national unity later on.

"It seems to me that we who meet here today face a tremendous responsibility if we fail to carry out the substance of the Commission's recommendations."

Prince Edward Island's 45-year-old Premier, Hon. Thane Campbell, dismissed any idea that the recommendations involved loss of provincial autonomy. There was no danger of centralization of authority at Ottawa.

He referred to recent suggestions that some provinces might be bankrupt in two years if the Commission's recommendations were not carried out. He believed there was some danger of that eventually.

His province might have little to gain from the recommendations, but he believed all parts of the Dominion should work for whatever was for the whole.

Premier Pattullo said his government disagreed with the claim that it was necessary to implement the recommendations in order to successfully carry on the war.

"I am sorry that the winning of the war has been used as an argument to effect provincial default, and result in savings whenever present provincial debts became subject to refunding."

Canada will be saved the money that is lost on duplication of collection, waste and successful evasions. Assumption of provincial debts by the Dominion would remove the burden of debt from people who live in areas incapable of bearing it; strengthen Canadian credit by removing the onerous provincial default; and result in savings whenever present provincial debts became subject to refunding.

Transfer of relief costs to the Dominion would "prevent a repetition of the confusion, the inefficiency, the delay and the inequalities" which have prevailed in relief administration since 1930.

The proposed shift of income, corporation and succession taxes to the Dominion exclusively was "the one way by which we can finance our great and growing obligations efficiently and with the least possible burden."

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

reference today that the Quebec delegation had come to the meeting as "Canadians."

"We have not yet made up our minds on any question," he said in English. Mr. Godbout spoke after Premier Mitchell depburn of Ontario.

Canada is to be happy and strong," he said, "it will be through the strength of all the provinces."

Canada is now at war and there are responsibilities imposed on the whole country and all the provinces.

I feel that we should meet special situations with new measures. But I don't feel that we should meet a permanent situation in the future by measures imposed in time of war."

PREMIER McNAIR (Continued from page 1) OTTAWA, Jan. 14.—(CP)—Premier J. B. McNair, New Brunswick, told the Dominion-Provincial Conference today that his provincial delegation does not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.

He said he would not ask for re-opening of these matters at this time, but said his province's delegation did not concur with the findings of the Rowell-Sirois Commission with respect to claims advanced before by the New Brunswick government.