New Confusion In U. S. Steel Circles

CLEVELAND, June 27 — (AP)—The United States Congress has added to the confusion over the supply outlook for steel, says the magazine Steel. A rider on the draft act empowers the President to direct steel producers to supply certain per-centages of their output to makers of products required by the armed forces, said Steel, with this result: "These controls superimposed on current voluntary allocations would mean less steel for other uses, and without knowing yet how widely these controls will be applied, con-sumers and producers can only speculate as to what the steel dis-tribution pattern for late 1948 will be like." The magazine's price composite on steel products held unchanged last week but one coke quotation advanced 25 cents a net ton. Production of steel ingots held
