Start Working for Your Favorite Candidate Today

This is a direct signal for you to immediately start working for your favorite candidate, the results depend as much on your ability as a worker as on the candidates themselves.

Pick out your favorite candidate and you'll be rewarded for every effort you make by seeing the name going higher and higher on the honor roll.

Candidates should take this chance to organize their forces. The race has just started and no one knows who'll win out. Get your friends and acquaintances to organize and club together, so that all votes will be credited to you. Do not let a chance slip to add to your score and you'll see your name passing all others rivals and have a clear field to breast the tape—a winner.

All intending candidates should send in their nominations promptly as the first standing will appear next week, so that they can make a good showing on the appearance of the first score.

WINTER CRUISE 'NEATH BLUE SKIES

winters are glorious, sure, but too much of a good thing grows tiresome. I need not describe the winter—it will hit you good and hard when it comes.

Two days ride in a comfortable train and you are in New York. You see the sights. They are a side line as far as this letter is concerned, so I will not deal with them. Two days on a palatial steamer and then—

You are in Bermuda. No snow, no ice, no cold, chilling blasts. Summer has come as if in the twinkling of an eye. And it is grand simply suburb.

No use for the overcoat, the over-shoes. Summer raiment is donned and you stand on the steamer's deck and behold the glories of the sea and the land. The sky resting on the waters throwing over all its golden tints, the green fields and the green trees, the perfume of the lilies and the roses, the white houses with their red roofs and the bright and multi-colored foliage.

Oh yes, you are glad you came and you think of us at home and pity us, don't you? Much good that will do us.

Yes, that is Gibb's light. It is on the highest point of land in the whole group of islands, only 200 odd feet above the sea level. And now you are in the channels, ten miles long, skirting the shore and inside the great coral reef which encloses the islands.

On you go to Grassy Bay, past fort upon fort and past the ships at anchor. You see the great footling dry docks, the extensive dockyard and the ships of the royal navy and on past small and picturesque islands between two of which you pass so closely that you could almost shake hands with the people on the shore. And here is Hamilton, the capital, with its big hotels, its thousands of tourists from the States and from England and its joy of perpetual summer time.

I am not going to tell you all about Hamilton, or St. George's either. You will see for yourself if you are lucky enough to win the trip.

Drives innumerable—Drives along the ocean side over splendid roads. Drives over great bridges and drives through the plantations and the towns and the villages. A drive to the Tom More's Cave; a drive to the Devil's Hole. You will have them all and then know all about them. And you will hear the hands play. That will remind you of Worth's band. It would me if I were thinking of Worth's band. But I would likely be thinking of Galbraith's band, I used to help carry the drum, you know.

Oh, yes, you will have to break away, sure. So must I. Your time is up and you must come home.

And the thought of it will be all the sweeter. You will have had a good big bite out of summer and how you will sort that tan.

Now all I ask for my trouble and time in writing this letter is that the lucky ones will write to The Guardian and tell the editor if I am not dead to rights on this winter cruise under summer skies.

W. D. TAUNTON.

Values for Two Days that Will Stand Unrivalled

So many people expressed their appreciation over our values last Saturday that again we are offering Friday and Saturday bargains that will make these real economical shopping days.

One thing we guard jealously is the genuine price reductions. The price-reductions we quote are religiously right. Not under any conditions would we play with the price.

We leave it all to your own good judgment. If you think there are any chances of securing equally good values elsewhere—don't buy—that's our word to you.

All we want you to do is to actually see the values with your own eyes—to admire and really handle the materials. We think if you'll just drop in we can make your visit a mighty profitable one.
