VICTORIA THE VILLAGE BY THE SEA

Mrs. James Lea, Victoria, had as her welcomed guest during last week her niece, Miss Georgie Durant R. N. of Boston, Mass. She expects to return to United States shortly going by plane.

Mr. S. J. Dunsford, Manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Victoria, was called away to Montreal last week to be at the bedside of his aged father who was taken seriously ill with a severe heart attack. The place in the Bank was filled by Mr. T.A. Watson of the Charlottetown Branch.

Mrs. K. C. Holm, Victoria, received the sad news of the death in Chinook, Montana, of her youngest brother Mr. Louis Mallett. The sympathy of the people of this place goes out to Mrs. Holm and other relatives in this time of sorrow. Mr. Alphonse Mallett, who died recently at Union Road, P.E.I. was a double cousin of Mrs. Holm so she has been doubly bereaved in the past week.

Permanent residents being welcomed in Victoria are Mr. and Mrs. John Lord, Granville Road, N. S., who are located for the present with Mr. and Mrs. Evan Wright having taken part of their commodious home for a dwelling. Mrs. Lord was formerly Miss Lizzie Wright of Victoria and the friends the made here in early life along with others are giving them a hearty welcome as they will no doubt add much to the Church and social life of the community.

Carl is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Milford, Liverpool, N. S. and his friends in Victoria extend to him congratulations in receiving his degree, also they wish for him all kinds of good luck in his chosen career that of medicine. Along with his brother Noel they accompanied their grandmother home to Victoria travelling by motor and spent a few days here before returning to Liverpool.

L. D. MacLeod and Sons Victoria at time of writing are busily engaged loading another boat for the Newfoundland market. Her cargo will consist of farm produce and a number of little pigs. At this particular season of the year with the farmers last starting with the land and a great many people making necessary repairs to buildings which have been holding over during the war years due to scarcity of materials there is without mistake a shortage of help to take part in the task of loading, but just leave it to L. D. if there's help to be got they'll get 'em.

Miss Tillie Cassidy, Cassville spent the past week in Victoria putting in order her trim little summer cottage. The view from this cottage is beautiful indeed, looking out as it does in the blue waters of the harbour, and anyone with enterprise such as Miss Cassidy possesses deserves credit, as last summer many tourists had to be turned away for lack of accommodation. So there's wishing Miss Cassidy luck in her venture.

The report at time of writing was that large schools of herring had arrived and the Victoria fishermen came ashore with boat loads and no doubt wearing happy expressions but they might well have been a good deal happier if they had not just a day or so before purchased a large quantity of bait. Peenemuende Is Wilderness Of Destruction

By ERIC BOURNE
PEENEMUENDE, Isle of Uedom, Baltic Coast, May 19—(Reuters)—This former Island paradise which Hitler converted at a cost of $200,000,000 into a fantastic workshop of death, where he planned to win the war with an army of 11,000 slave workers toiling to turn out "V" weapons at the rate of 100,000 a year, today is a wilderness of destruction. Masses of twisted steel, huge, sundered slabs of concrete and mountains of rubble and twisted steel equipment, with the grotesque framework of a gutted building here and there still swaying drunkenly in the wind, are all that is left of the great rocket arsenal with which in fact Hitler might have won the war but for the heavy delaying blows of R.A.F. Bomber Command in the summer of 1943. For six hours Friday with two other correspondents I walked, climbed and was driven through the vast ruined mysteries of this island "city" whose name for nearly two years was as grimly significant for the people of Southern England as the name of Hiroshima was later to become for the whole civilized world. Our inspection showed that the Russians in fact have been and are conscientiously and rapidly completing the process of destruction begun by the British bombers. Only a miracle could have restored the workshops or the firing installations amid this incredible labyrinth of ruins and gaping underground vaults sprawled among broad stretches of charred and stunted woodland. The Russians plan to finish the demolition program by mid-June. "When we have finished, there will be nothing left at all," Major Vasilev, 30-year-old Grenadier commandant of the Peenemuende area, told us. "We shall destroy all the roads and railway tracks which our aviation did not finish off, and we shall blast out the foundations."

"The Germans took more than five years to create this place," Vasilev said. "The Royal Air Force knocked it out in 10 hours. Our work will have been virtually completed in two months. What we do here we look upon as a present for your children and their future."

HAL'S HEADLESS ANN MAY HAUNT TOURISTS

SEVENOAKS, Kent, England, May 18—(CP)—Knole House, one of the largest private houses in England, where Henry VIII reportedly courted Ann Boleyn, has been given by Lord Sackville to the National Trust for permanent preservation for the public. Under terms of the transfer Lord Sackville, whose family received the house from King Henry, will lease a section of it. The 365 rooms, 52 staircases and great hall are packed with period furniture, tapestries, old silver and famous pictures. Galleries include the Venetian Ambassador's rooms; the King's room, in which an exquisite silver furniture and the state bed; the Reynolds room; the ball room; the Cartoon, Brown and Leicester galleries. Lord Sackville first offered the house to the National Trust in 1943 and its transfer has been the subject of negotiation ever since. The golden bear of California, a variety of the grizzly, has long been extinct.
