

"PATCH TEST" PROVES YOUR SKIN CAN LOOK YOUNGER, LOVELIER

Instantly!

Is your skin a little oily, or dry? Do you have any blackheads, big pores? Choose the most troublesome part of your face—and make the Lady Esther "Patch Test"!

"Patch Test" will prove to you instantly—by a single application of Lady Esther Face Cream that this one cream is all you need for a lovely, radiant, baby-smooth skin!

1. To make the "Patch Test" just rub a little Lady Esther 4-Purpose Face Cream on one small section of your face. Your forehead, your chin, or one cheek.

2. Now wipe it off—and compare that patch of skin with all the skin around it! See how much fresher and clearer it looks—how much younger-looking!

3. Touch that patch! Feel its new velvet smoothness! The rough flakes are gone! What a difference Lady Esther Face Cream has made in that one patch of skin!

4. If my face cream can make such a radiant difference in one patch of skin—imagine how much lovelier your whole face will look! Try the "Patch Test" today!

MY ONE CREAM DOES THE 4 THINGS YOUR SKIN NEEDS MOST FOR BEAUTY!

Every time you apply Lady Esther 4-Purpose Face Cream, it (1) thoroughly cleans your skin. (2) Softens it—loosens and absorbs dry flakes. (3) Helps nature refine the pores. (4) Leaves a smooth, perfect base for powder.

Seeing is believing! So get a little jar of Lady Esther Face Cream tonight, and make the "Patch Test". See why millions of lovely women now use this one cream for complete daily care!

Lady Esther 4-Purpose Face Cream

Benevolent Irish Society

REGULAR MONTHLY MEETING FRIDAY, SEPT. 6TH, AT 8 O'CLOCK Full Attendance is Requested IMPORTANT BUSINESS D. S. DOWLING, Secretary.

Fishermen Attention

200 BARRELS OF LOBSTER BAIT FOR SALE ARSENAULT & DELANEY Summerside

Card of Thanks

We wish to take this opportunity of thanking the voters of the town of Borden for their generous support in the Town Election which took place on September 3rd.

MAYOR W. F. McNEILL COUNCILLOR REGINALD McALEER COUNCILLOR J. A. GAUDET COUNCILLOR P. J. McINNIS COUNCILLOR IRVING MacDONALD COUNCILLOR WILLIAM GALLANT COUNCILLOR THOMAS GALLANT

CHAPLAIN'S WIFE IS RADIO "HAM" WIESBADEN, Germany, Sept. 5 (CP)—A U. S. Air Corps chaplain's wife, who arrived in Germany recently, is the first and only licensed woman "ham" radio operator in the American occupation zone.

HEN THAT CROW'S SUTTON, Surrey, England (CP)—A hen which threatens to turn into a cocked and ready crow, but lays four eggs a week, is under observation at a "sick chicken" hospital here.

The Central Guardian

This column is reserved for news of local interest and is the province of a newsy nature may be inserted at five cents a word, strictly payable in advance.

COOKS for Photographers. CONFEDERATION LIFE INSURANCE.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS—All advertisements to appear in this column must be in office by noon of day previous to insertion to ensure publication.

CORNWALL Pastoral Charge. Services Sunday, Sept. 8, are as follows: Cornwall 1 A.M.; New Dominion 3 P.M.; Kingston 7:30 P.M. All Sunday Schools cancelled. Rev. J. R. Skinner, Minister.

VICE-PRESIDENT—Lt. Col. W. C. Cook, Charlottetown, was elected vice president at the annual meeting of the Photographers Association held recently at Sackville.

PREPARING FOR FIRST SHIPMENT—Arrangements for making the first shipment of this season's Island table stock potatoes are now underway. The market price at Halifax for table stock per bushel is 50 cents. That low price according to a local potato dealer, is due to the fact that present requirements in Nova Scotia, Ontario and Quebec, are being supplied by those Provinces' own potato growers. The market price yesterday for turnips was 23 cents a bushel.

LEAVE FOR MAINLAND—Two officials of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, left Charlottetown for the mainland yesterday evening. They are Mr. P. E. Bernier, who is in charge of poultry breeding work, and Dr. E. F. Wells, pulmonary disease expert. While here, the officials conferred with Dr. G. C. Bishop, provincial pathologist.

CITY POLICE COURT—At the City Police Court yesterday morning a man charged with the abduction of a girl under 16 years of age was remanded until Wednesday Sept. 10 for trial. He was charged with the abduction of a 15-year-old girl from the home of her mother, Mrs. M. J. O'Connell, 8500. The accused is a case of unlawful possession of liquor was convicted and remanded one week for sentence. Bill was fined $400. A man charged with theft of a radio was remanded one week for preliminary hearing. Bill was granted a $100 bond. A man charged with keeping liquor for sale was fined $80 and costs or one month in jail. An order was made for $10 and costs or 20 days. A man charged with obtaining a taxi for hire and failing to pay the bill of $15 was given 30 days.

RETURNS HOME—Mr. James A. Pierce left yesterday on return to his home in Alameda, Calif., after visiting his old home on P. E. Island for the past four years. He was wanted especially to see his sister, Mrs. James Bryenton, who has been in the Provincial Sanatorium for the past four years or more. While here he met his home with his piece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Wilson, 1000 Victoria Avenue. He also visited his sister in Brockley, Mrs. A. Bryenton and other relatives and friends. He was ready to leave for his island home again, and he noted many changes.

ON MOTOR TRIP—Miss Margaret Rainsford, assistant of schools for Sunbury and Queens counties on a vacation, returned to Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia. She made the trip by motor with Mr. and Mrs. West and Master Keith Weston of Gagetown. While in Nova Scotia, she will visit with her brother, Marcus Rainsford who is on the staff of the Canadian Bank of Commerce at New Glasgow.—Sant John Telegraph Journal.

ON HOLIDAY VISIT—Mrs. Athol D. MacLeod, the former Christine B. MacLeod has been spending the past three weeks on the island visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Valley, Mrs. MacLeod is the wife of Athol D. MacLeod a member of the firm of Messrs. E. Fox and Son Inc. Funeral Directors of Cambridge Massachusetts. Mr. MacLeod will join her on the island Sept. 7th when he visits his uncle Mr. John A. MacLeod of Bradabane. He is the nephew of the Rev. Dr. Angus McKelvie of Charlottetown. His visit to the island will extend over a period of three weeks, when they will return to Cambridge, Mass.

WEDDING BELLS—A quiet but pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Woodside, Halifax, on July 19th when Rev. J. W. A. Nicholson united in marriage Muriel Pearl, eldest daughter of Arthur Heaney and the late Mrs. Heaney, formerly of Clinton, P.E.I., and Charles Benjamin, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bird, Neils Harbor, Cape Breton Island. Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked lovely in a street length dress of powder blue silk jersey with navy accessories. Her corsage was American Beauty. The bride was attended by her sister Eliza who wore a street length dress of rose jersey with brown accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Cpl. George Ramsay was best man. After the ceremony a reception was held for immediate relatives and friends. The bride's table was tastefully decorated with roses, centred with a three-tier wedding cake and lighted tapers. Rev. Mr. Nicholson proposed a toast to the bride. Following the reception Mr. and Mrs. Bird left on a wedding trip to Cape Breton. For travelling the bride chose a grey wool suit with navy accessories, her corsage was of roses. They will reside in Halifax.

MEMBERS ON STRIKE—LOS ANGELES, Sept. 4 (CP)—Members of the Los Angeles Herald Express unit of the American Newspaper Guild (A.N.G.) went on strike today after failing to reach an agreement on terms of a new contract.

EFFECTIVE "MINES" STOP FREESHIPPERS—JOHANNESBURG, Sept. 4 (CP)—Teasing motorists who chose to ignore the signs telling them to stay out of the Congolese botanical reserve in northern Transvaal are likely to regret their decision. The intruders most of them would be game poachers, have an excellent chance of winding up in

Still On Service

Miss Hilda A. Auld, daughter of Mrs. Allison A. Auld of Charlottetown, is now serving as an Escort Officer with the Canadian Red Cross Corps bringing brides and children to nursing auxiliaries in the Nursing Auxiliary Section of the Corps in Charlottetown. Miss Auld has been a member of the Corps since October, 1943.

68 Per Cent War Assets Male Staff Are War Veterans

MONTREAL, Sept. 5—A statement on personnel released by War Assets Corporation reveals the fact that at the end of July 68 per cent of the male employees of the Corporation were veterans of World Wars I and II or both.

The statement showed that accompanied a steady increase in the flow of surplus being sold, total staffs throughout Canada increased from 2,857 in October, 1945 to 8,007, at July 31, 1946. In the same period the percentage of male employees increased from 63 per cent to 78 per cent, and of these the veteran percentage advanced from 69 to 68.

Regionally, present staffs are as follows: Head Office, 1,984; Montreal, 420; Quebec, 1,586; Ontario, 1,740; Prairie, 551; Western, 512; Special Operations, including No. 1 Reclamation Depot, Valleyfield, 501; Guards, located in all regions in Canada, 1,253. All members of the Canadian Corps of Commissioners, Inc.

Employment trends in the Corporation have kept pace with the volume of sales which have been as follows: Monthly Average Fiscal year, 1944-45 $790,200 Fiscal year, 1945-46 $10,400,000 April-July, 1946 $23,000,000

It is now believed that the peak has been reached in the flow of surplus, and that, after leveling out for a time, the number of staff required to handle them will gradually decrease as disposals are effected.

Roads in the park are skilfully "mined" with barbed wire and other sharp pointed obstacles, laid flush with the road and almost completely invisible to motorists, who may continue for several miles into the park before the "mines" take effect.

They felt government communication companies in their own areas. They thought the dominant British Empire could not do much traffic through London. Jables between India and South Africa, for instance, must be sent via the Cape Kingdom.

They had doubts of the company's ability to meet post-war financial obligations. It is known, too, that the British chiefs of staff, for strategic reasons, which have not been made public. In addition, a government White Paper described the bill as an essential step towards the implementation of the Bermuda Agreement of 1945 under which Britain agreed to rate reductions on communications by Cable and Wireless to cost £2,500,000 ($10,000,000) a year at present traffic levels.

Cable and Wireless, strongly opposed to nationalization urged unsuccessfully that if public ownership must come, they wanted a simple Empire corporation in which the Dominions would be represented, instead of a separate company in each Commonwealth country.

These are its main arguments against any change, as outlined by Chairman Sir Edward Williams: 1. The bill means the breakup of the great British Commonwealth system of communications. 2. The scheme is "impracticable and unworkable" and will result in loss of vital foreign concessions because some governments "resent diplomatic interference." One country, he said, one of negotiations with the company as soon as the bill was introduced. 3. Any Dominion wanting to nationalize communications could do so without affecting the setup of the British company against which there had been no charge of interference. 4. Cable and Wireless is equipped to meet all future financial commitments. However, before the House of Commons select committee which

Military Favor

It is known, too, that the British chiefs of staff, for strategic reasons, which have not been made public. In addition, a government White Paper described the bill as an essential step towards the implementation of the Bermuda Agreement of 1945 under which Britain agreed to rate reductions on communications by Cable and Wireless to cost £2,500,000 ($10,000,000) a year at present traffic levels.

Cable and Wireless, strongly opposed to nationalization urged unsuccessfully that if public ownership must come, they wanted a simple Empire corporation in which the Dominions would be represented, instead of a separate company in each Commonwealth country.

These are its main arguments against any change, as outlined by Chairman Sir Edward Williams: 1. The bill means the breakup of the great British Commonwealth system of communications. 2. The scheme is "impracticable and unworkable" and will result in loss of vital foreign concessions because some governments "resent diplomatic interference." One country, he said, one of negotiations with the company as soon as the bill was introduced. 3. Any Dominion wanting to nationalize communications could do so without affecting the setup of the British company against which there had been no charge of interference. 4. Cable and Wireless is equipped to meet all future financial commitments. However, before the House of Commons select committee which

★ Start the meal right with the iced tang of rich, full-bodied Heinz Tomato Juice. For crimson colour and down-right home-tasting flavour no other equals it.

HEINZ TOMATO JUICE

Labor Takes Over Cable And Wireless

BY JOHN DAUPHINEE Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Sept. 5 (CP)—While the British Labor government will have authority to nationalize Cable and Wireless Limited but it will be well into 1947 at the earliest before the £30,000,000 ($120,000,000) communications system becomes State property.

Treasury spokesmen say that compensation proceedings will continue for months. So far, there has been no decision on the method of operation under government control.

Even Cable and Wireless, after 10 months fighting against public ownership, now accepts nationalization as inevitable. It is seeking only to delay implementation until the Dominion's £100 million communications system becomes State property.

Dominion legislation has not yet been introduced. The British act, however, has passed the Commons and probably will get the Lords' third reading during the week-end. The government will be able to take over 150,000 miles of cables and 140 wireless circuits.

"But that will only be the first step," said a Cable and Wireless official. "The important thing is to set up the planned Commonwealth Telecommunications Board to co-ordinate and develop the Commonwealth setup."

"That can't be done until the Dominion and India take over their external communications. Our argument is that the change of control in Britain should occur until the other Commonwealth countries are ready to move simultaneously."

Like Trans - Canada

Canada for instance plans to acquire the Canadian Marconi Company which operates the Dominion's overseas wireless service. The company's suggestions that Cable and Wireless Ltd. might become part of the General Post Office, which already operates the British telephone and telegraph system. But it is considered more likely that it will become a government-owned company like Trans-Canada Air Lines, responsible to a minister of the crown but unconnected with any commercial undertaking in its day-to-day affairs.

Detailed reasons for taking over Cable and Wireless have never been published. The report of the 1945 communications conference is still a secret document.

It is known, however, that public ownership first was suggested in 1931 by Australia's Labor government and that the Dominion had soon agreed. Canada and South Africa, on the other hand, were satisfied with the status quo until 1945 when they agreed to come in with the remainder of the Commonwealth.

Proponents of the plan at closed sessions of the 1945 London meeting advanced, it is learned, five main reasons for nationalization: 1. They wanted a greater say in the central control of Empire communications than is provided by the existing Commonwealth Communications Council, mainly an advisory body. 2. They felt government communication companies in their own areas. 3. They thought the dominant British Empire could not do much traffic through London. Jables between India and South Africa, for instance, must be sent via the Cape Kingdom.

They had doubts of the company's ability to meet post-war financial obligations. It is known, too, that the British chiefs of staff, for strategic reasons, which have not been made public. In addition, a government White Paper described the bill as an essential step towards the implementation of the Bermuda Agreement of 1945 under which Britain agreed to rate reductions on communications by Cable and Wireless to cost £2,500,000 ($10,000,000) a year at present traffic levels.

Cable and Wireless, strongly opposed to nationalization urged unsuccessfully that if public ownership must come, they wanted a simple Empire corporation in which the Dominions would be represented, instead of a separate company in each Commonwealth country.

These are its main arguments against any change, as outlined by Chairman Sir Edward Williams: 1. The bill means the breakup of the great British Commonwealth system of communications. 2. The scheme is "impracticable and unworkable" and will result in loss of vital foreign concessions because some governments "resent diplomatic interference." One country, he said, one of negotiations with the company as soon as the bill was introduced. 3. Any Dominion wanting to nationalize communications could do so without affecting the setup of the British company against which there had been no charge of interference. 4. Cable and Wireless is equipped to meet all future financial commitments. However, before the House of Commons select committee which

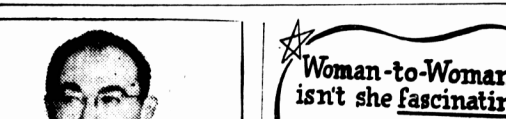

Let your DOCTOR diagnose...

Well meaning friends and neighbors may have "just the thing" for your condition. But the only safe course is consult your physician—and abide by his experienced counsel. We hope, too, you'll accept his recommendation to bring his prescriptions to this "Reliable" Pharmacy for careful compounding. We assure you prompt, precise service, and fair prices.

THE JENKINS PHARMACY Dispensing Chemists

111-113 Water Street, Charlottetown, P.E.I.

LOU KING

Leads the rhythmic Sweet Caporettes orchestra in music you can dance to... on your Sweet Caporetto Radio Show

TONIGHT 10.30 C. F. C. Y.

Canada for instance plans to acquire the Canadian Marconi Company which operates the Dominion's overseas wireless service. The company's suggestions that Cable and Wireless Ltd. might become part of the General Post Office, which already operates the British telephone and telegraph system. But it is considered more likely that it will become a government-owned company like Trans-Canada Air Lines, responsible to a minister of the crown but unconnected with any commercial undertaking in its day-to-day affairs.

Detailed reasons for taking over Cable and Wireless have never been published. The report of the 1945 communications conference is still a secret document.

It is known, however, that public ownership first was suggested in 1931 by Australia's Labor government and that the Dominion had soon agreed. Canada and South Africa, on the other hand, were satisfied with the status quo until 1945 when they agreed to come in with the remainder of the Commonwealth.

Proponents of the plan at closed sessions of the 1945 London meeting advanced, it is learned, five main reasons for nationalization: 1. They wanted a greater say in the central control of Empire communications than is provided by the existing Commonwealth Communications Council, mainly an advisory body. 2. They felt government communication companies in their own areas. 3. They thought the dominant British Empire could not do much traffic through London. Jables between India and South Africa, for instance, must be sent via the Cape Kingdom.

They had doubts of the company's ability to meet post-war financial obligations. It is known, too, that the British chiefs of staff, for strategic reasons, which have not been made public. In addition, a government White Paper described the bill as an essential step towards the implementation of the Bermuda Agreement of 1945 under which Britain agreed to rate reductions on communications by Cable and Wireless to cost £2,500,000 ($10,000,000) a year at present traffic levels.

Cable and Wireless, strongly opposed to nationalization urged unsuccessfully that if public ownership must come, they wanted a simple Empire corporation in which the Dominions would be represented, instead of a separate company in each Commonwealth country.

These are its main arguments against any change, as outlined by Chairman Sir Edward Williams: 1. The bill means the breakup of the great British Commonwealth system of communications. 2. The scheme is "impracticable and unworkable" and will result in loss of vital foreign concessions because some governments "resent diplomatic interference." One country, he said, one of negotiations with the company as soon as the bill was introduced. 3. Any Dominion wanting to nationalize communications could do so without affecting the setup of the British company against which there had been no charge of interference. 4. Cable and Wireless is equipped to meet all future financial commitments. However, before the House of Commons select committee which

EMPLOYMENT NEWS

National Employment Service presents a partial list of job opportunities available through its Local National Employment Office.

FARM LABOURERS AND POTATO PICKERS: A great number of men will be required during September and October to harvest the potato crop in this area.

The approximate wages being paid for potato pickers is $3.00 per day plus board. As this crop is of utmost importance, we would advise all unemployed persons to give it their consideration, and if interested advise this office by phone, letter, or personal interview.

In addition to the above we have a number of permanent positions for married and single farm labourers. For further information applicants are requested to contact this office.

BRICKLAYERS: A number of first class Bricklayers are urgently required for work in Charlottetown. Wages $1.25 per hour.

ASSISTANT MANAGER - RETAIL CLOTHING: This opening is in Nova Scotia. Will work with owner manager, must have knowledge and good experience in dry goods, and ready-to-wear lines. One of demonstrated experience, ability, and integrity will earn $3000.

SALESMAN WITH AGRICULTURAL BACKGROUND: A large organization in the Maritimes requires a man between 25 and 35 years of age to work on Dairy and Poultry Procurement and Promotion. Must have good personality and possess a willingness to work hard. High School Graduate or better. The man accepted can earn up to $2500.

Make full use of the Local Office of National Employment Service. It is there to serve your needs, and those of your Community.

DOMINION LABOUR DEPARTMENT Humphrey Mitchell MINISTER OF LABOUR A. MacNamara DEPUTY MINISTER

4 OUT OF 5 WOMEN WHO WIN PRIZES FOR HOME BAKING use Robin Hood Flour

Quilled from Washed Wheat