ALBERT QUIGLEY, Secretary. G. J. McINNIS, President.

The teacher gazed sorrowfully at the small boy who stood in front of her, charged with stealing coffee from one of his schoolmates. As it was his first offence the teacher did not come him—a moral lecture would fit the case. "Bear in mind, James," the teacher concluded, "that these temptations can easily be resisted if you turn a deaf ear to them." The boy looked solemnly at her. "But, teacher," he said, "I haven't got a deaf ear."

An old countryman strolled into the Law courts and was struck by the way in which two counsels contradicted and wrangled, while at the same time they frequently used the term "brother." "There beant much brotherly love between them two," said he at last to an old gentleman. "You don't understand the position," said the other, "they are merely brothers in law." Oh, that be it! Why, then, I s'pose as they married two sisters. And it's an old proverb as says relatives are best kept apart."

In Memoriam

MRS. JOHN MACINNIS

The death occurred at Glen William, August 2nd, 1927, of Sarah Jane, dearly beloved wife of John MacInnis in the 45th year of her age. Although she had not been enjoying robust health for some time her cheerfulness of spirit and her optimism led her many friends to believe that she would, through time recover, but ten days before her death she was taken ill and gradually sank in spite of the efforts of her devoted physician and her many relatives and friends.

Her death therefore was a great shock to her dear ones, who today mourn the passing of a dear wife, a beautiful tender mother, a dutiful daughter and devoted sister and withal a steadfast friend and beloved neighbour. Her place will never be filled as she so pleasantly and unselfishly filled it in the home and in the community. Her house was a haven of hospitality and cheer where it was a delight to be and where she was ever surrounded by friends especially the children who loved her sunny companionship. Hers was a beautiful life, full of gentleness and kindness, usefulness and true charity, her hand was ever out to the needy and no good cause ever passed her unhelped.

The funeral which was perhaps the largest ever seen here about was held on Friday the 5th. Her pastor, Rev. M. D. MacDonald, Murray River in charge of the service assisted by Rev. Mr. MacLellan, Valleyfield who preached the sermon and by Rev. Mr. McDowell, Caledonia. The singing included a duet "Will the Circle be Unbroken," a favorite of the deceased. She was laid to rest in Valleyfield cemetery. The pall bearers were her four brothers: Hector, John, Will and Colin and her two brothers-in-law Mr. Everett Harris and Mr. Warren Brehaut.

There are left to mourn their loss her husband and three children: Colin, Effie and Lester, her aged father Charles MacKinnon, Brooklyn and four brothers Hector and Will of Brooklyn and John and Colin of Rumford, Maine, besides a large circle of friends.

There were many beautiful, floral tributes including:

Broken circle—Husband and children

Crecent—MacKinnon family.

Wreaths—Mrs. Everett Harris and Mrs. Warren Brehaut.

Wreath—Mr and Mrs Chas. Murchison and family.

Wreath—Mr and Mrs Angus Matheson and Donald.

She leaves to mourn their loss besides an aged and sorrowful husband, one daughter and three sons, namely: Mrs. Jennie McCarthy, Morell; Mathias in Rumford, Maine; Dan G., of Watertown, Mass and Andrew R., of Souris, P. E. I.

MR. JOSEPH MORESIDE

On Thursday evening, July 21st, Mr. Joseph Moreside, a highly esteemed resident of North River, passed away peacefully at the advanced age of 87 years. The decased had been in a poor condition of health following the shock received by the death of his devoted wife, ten months previous. But up to ten days before the end his case was not deemed to be immediately serious.

Deceased the only son of the late Joseph Moreside and Sarah Thomas was born April 9th, 1840. In 1872 he was united in marriage with Miss Mary A. Walsh. There are left to mourn four daughters, Mrs. P. J. Berrigan and Miss Mae of Dunedin; Miss Della of Brookline, Mass., Miss Eva of Charlottetown; John L. at home.

The late gentleman was noted for his noble traits of character, and will be greatly missed in the home and community. He was a generous host, ever ready to do acts of charity to the less fortunate. He was visited during his illness by his pastor, Rev. P. Walsh who comforted him with the last rites of the Holy Catholic Church.

The funeral was held Saturday morning, July 23rd at St. Dunstan's Cathedral, where a Requiem Mass was celebrated.

The pall bearers were Messrs. John Collins, J. Kelly, P. Mahoney, William MacKinley, Robert MacKinley and James Doyle.

Father McMahon conducted service at the grave where all that was mortal of a kind father was laid to rest beside his wife and three children, there to await a glorious resurrection.

Peacefully sleeping, resting at last, Life's weary suffering and trials are past, In silence he suffered, in patience he bore, Till God called him to suffer no more.

Mistress (to new cook): "Eloise, this joint ought to be cooked for three hours. Do you think you'll be here long enough?"

Brown: "Did you hear that Jigson has married his typist?"

Green: "No. How are they getting on?"

Brown: "Oh, same as ever. When he starts to dictate she takes him down."

It Pays To Get The Facts

A large proportion of all the nerve energy generated in a normal body is expended in the act of seeing. Eyes are often found to be defective so that although vision is still good, they are consuming twice or three times their allotted portion of nerve force, thus robbing other vital organs of their motive power.

The result is serious physical disorders—often in remote parts of the body. Two out of every ten people are in this fix, yet the real cause of their trouble is often not even suspected until a thorough examination discloses the facts.

If there is any reason whatever to suspect eye strain, the common sense thing to do is to have a thorough examination and GET THE FACTS ABOUT YOUR EYES.
