

Doctor Said "Keep on Using Zam-Buk"

"My little son was badly scalded by pulling a pan of boiling water over himself," writes Mrs. Albert Sawyer, of Midland, Ontario. "I called in a doctor, but his treatment failed to ease the child's intense pain. I therefore discontinued the treatment and began with Zam-Buk instead. This wonderful balm appeared to relieve pain almost immediately, but to make sure I was doing the right thing, I called in a second doctor. When I told him what I was doing, he said: 'That's right—just keep on with Zam-Buk, there's nothing so good for scalds and burns.'"

Nothing so good for BURNS & SCALDS

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

As Chairman of the World's Student Christian Federation, and Chairman of the International Missionary Council, as well as General Secretary of the International Committee of Young Men's Christian Associations, Dr. John R. Mott will sail from San Francisco, Feb. 25, to attend the conference of the Federation at Peking, April 1-9, and National Christian conferences during May at Shanghai and Tokyo. The World's Student Christian Federation represents the Christian student movement of the world, embracing nearly 60,000 students and professors at the world's universities and colleges, and higher schools. Delegates from over thirty nations will attend the Peking conference, through which it is sought to exert a greater influence in promoting the Christian solution of international and social problems, and to inaugurate inter-racial harmony.

It would be difficult to overstate the importance of a conference held at this crucial moment in Far Eastern affairs and in the relations between Orient and Occident. The Federation decided to meet in China before it was known that the Washington Conference of Limitation of Armaments and the Far Eastern Questions was to be held. Because of that, the conference is the coming gathering of Peking, Dr. Mott, success, will assume larger meaning, and associations of nations or the League of Nations will be in view, the holds, unless there work be supported by the world-wide and inter-racial efforts of such Christian movements as the Federation. The Federation and all the national Christian Student Movements of which it is composed are striking at the heart of the international problem in pressing their program, which seeks to influence directly by power human and supernatural, the ideals and the attitude and motives, and the spirit of those who tomorrow are to become the leaders of the Nations.

Anaemia

"Thin, watery blood is no more nourishing than thin, watery milk"—Kam Milk. But you can soon enrich thin blood, overcome the anaemic condition and build up the whole system by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Mrs. F. G. Simmons, 42 Curtis St., Bradford, Ont., writes: "For about eight years I suffered from anaemia. My circulation was poor, my gums and lips were pale, and my hands and feet were always cold. I was nervous and unable to sleep well. I had frequent headaches, seemed restless and easily worried or irritated. There was a burning pain in my ears. Indigestion was also one of my complaints, and I often was attacked by weak spells. I went to a doctor, who told me I was anaemic, but as I did not get any better I decided to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and after the first box I felt brighter and my headaches completely disappeared. I continued using the Nerve Food for quite a while. I am quite well now, and cheerfully and gratefully recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to people suffering as I did before I used this splendid medicine." RETAIL MERCHANTS MEET AT TRURO

Reports Submitted at the Annual Meeting Show the Association to be Growing Rapidly.

TRURO, Feb. 22.—The Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island Retail Merchants' Association in convention, cleaned up its first days' programme in record time, meeting in the Municipal Council Chamber Wednesday morning after a visit to Stanfield's Underwear plant. Although only thirty-four of 924 members of the Association's roll had registered as being present up to the time of adjournment in the afternoon, those attending showed enthusiastic interest in the work of the Association. The secretary's and treasurer's reports submitted during the day show the Association to be in a very strong position and growing rapidly.

Last evening B. W. Boyd of the National Registers addressed the Association on retail store accounting, and this evening the attending members will be entertained at the Learmont Hotel by Truro Board of Trade and Truro Retail Merchants' Association.

Although the visit to the Agricultural College was necessarily of short duration, the delegates, especially the merchants from the rural districts, were much impressed with the work the Government is undertaking to improve the produce of the Province generally.

The convention did not settle down to routine business until four o'clock in the afternoon, the morning and a short period after lunch being taken up by organization, addresses of welcome, and a visit to the Nova Scotia Agricultural College Farm, Bible Hill.

A. J. Reid, President of the Nova Scotia Retail Association, who opened the convention sharp on time, said that he had been handed a programme and felt gratified with the arrangements that had been made for their welcome and entertainment, as well as for facilities in handling the business before them, which, though lengthy, was so well arranged that it could be dealt with in the time allotted.

Mayor Murray, E. G. McCollough, Vice-President of the Board of Trade, in the absence of President Charles Hill, who is ill, and B. J. Rogers, President of the Local Branch of the Retail Merchants' Association, welcomed the convention on behalf of the corporation and various bodies.

Mayor Murray said it was a great pleasure to extend cordial welcome on behalf of the citizens of Truro, who appreciated the choice of the town as a place of meeting, and expressed the hope that their visit would be enjoyable and their sessions beneficial to the interest of the Association. He reminded them that in former days the slogan in the commercial world was "Competition is the Life of Trade," but he felt that this Association signified that business life had reached a higher plane and that the old feeling of commercial animosity had been replaced by a spirit of co-operation and mutual help. Continuing, he said we are proud that the town we welcome you here at this town following the successful financial progress we made in 1921. Not only is the civic administration in a sound position, but the business houses have had a very good year, and I am sure that it will be an inspiration to you that they are in a particularly strong position.

In extending the welcome of the Truro Board of Trade, Mr. E. G. McCollough said that to the general public, the body which he represented was not altogether understood. A great many people were inclined to belittle its operations, but when it was desired to gauge the pulse of public opinion in matters which pertained not only to business, but to the general welfare, the Board of Trade could gauge that feeling, and "I can say that in extending the welcome to you I am expressing the whole-hearted welcome of this community." The Board of Trade is always willing to assist the Retail Merchants' Association, and if while you are in session here, we can be of any assistance to you, we shall be only too pleased. We, and you, if we work together, can do much good. B. J. Rogers, President of the Retail Merchants' Association local branch, also expressed welcome on behalf of that body.

Mr. W. J. Hoggdon and Mr. J. H. Bentley of Halifax, replied to these addresses. Both expressed their thanks and pleasure. Mr. Bentley, during the course of his remarks in explaining the good that might result to the public generally, to the Retail Merchants' Association recalled an attempt made in Halifax about twenty-five years ago to get the retail butchers of that city to co-operate in the classification of meats in order that certain cuts could be sold at higher and certain cuts at lower prices. The organization had, he said, "just fizzled" out and thought at that time some of the members drifted to the old idea of a universal price, the idea of classification had become established and was now permanently effected.

In adjourning the session, President Reid made an analysis of the different addresses, and paying attention to Mayor Murray's remarks, said that His Worship had struck the proper note that business men were no longer looking upon one another as the worst of enemies, and the spirit of co-operation had eliminated the old, selfish idea of dollar-grasping and replaced it with a realization that "mutual" meant stronger and not for business for all.

Mr. J. P. Gordon, President of the P. E. I. Retail Merchants Association is in attendance.

HIGH PRICES KILL CIGARETTE

BERLIN, Feb. 22.—The big German cigarette manufacturers announce a lay-off of 90 per cent of their employees and in a few days they will practically close down. They claim the public has ceased to buy cigarettes at the present prices and the knell of the "cigarette" industry is sounded unless the government modifies the present high taxation.

The manufacturers protest that tobacco bootleggers who market cigarettes without the prescribed revenue stamps, have absorbed the cream of the remaining business and their own warehouse as a jammed with unsealable smokes. There is, undoubtedly, some truth in the reported reduction in consumption but the manufacturers probably are also playing a bluff to compel the government to reduce the tax. Counting on the fact that the authorities are required under the present law to compensate discharged employees to the extent of 75 per cent of the lost income.

IN MEMORIAM

MISS BESSIE CURRIE The death of Miss Bessie Currie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Currie of this city, which occurred in the P. E. Island Hospital on Feb. 9th, came as a very severe shock to her parents. Bessie was a bright, lovable young girl, full of fun and high spirits and her illness, which at first was thought to be just a minor sickness, came very suddenly and quickly developed into complications. She was removed to the P. E. I. Hospital where every care of nurses, parents and skilled physicians failed to cure her and she was called home a bid to bloom in heaven. The only child of the home, now fifteen, until next June, bright future, but all in vain and she leaves a heart-broken mother and father, whose inconsolable grief only time can heal. Popular with her chums, she will be missed in day-school and in St. James Sunday School or where she was an apt pupil, and regular attendant. She was exceptionally musical and was making fine progress with her studies when God called her to that higher school where there is life everlasting. She was tenderly laid to rest on Saturday afternoon in the Peoples Cemetery.

HOCKEY.—Before five hundred enthusiastic spectators, whose cheers made the rafters vibrate the Sackville hockey team, members of the New Brunswick league, was defeated in a Summerside rink of Tuesday night by a team representing the town and selected from the players in the Summerside league. The game was fast, but not so fast as the fans had expected for the wisecracks before the game were of the opinion that the local boys "didn't stand a chance" against the Summerside team. The game was a hard-fought one and the Sackville boys, who proceeded to show all the stunts that they could play hockey with the best, as the following score by periods will show: 1st period, Summerside 3, Sackville 1. 2nd period, Summerside 2, Sackville 1. Total, Summerside 7, Sackville 4. Residents of another part of the island and hockey followers of questionable sporting spirit were reported to have met the visiting stick handlers when they arrived at Sackville and tried to deter the university town boys from playing in Summerside. This was an unsportsmanlike trick, which the Sackville boys rightly resented. After the game, the visitors were entertained to dinner in Bunn's cafe and plans were arranged for a return game in the near future. The lineup Tuesday night was: Summerside—Goal, Graves; Defence, Morris; McQuarrie; Centre, Houghton; Wings, Johnson, Cahill; Subs, Monkley, Hagen, Gauthier, Sackville—Goal, McKenzie; Defence, Renne, Taylor, Centre, Tremblay; Wings, O'Brien, Ames. Officials—H. M. Baker, referee; R. C. Dodds and Hal Walsh, timers; Alex. Jameson and W. T. Matheson, goal judges.

Giant Army Airship Plunges Thousand Feet to Ground

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 21.—Flung earthward, presumably by a broken rudder, the giant army airship Roma plunged a thousand feet to the ground today to strike ground at the Hampton Roads army base, causing a mass of flames from end to end of her 410 foot mass. The fire was feeding on the million cubic feet of gas that had leaked out of the ship. Barely a dozen, of more than two scores men aboard, had been picked up alive. All of those who survived the fire escaped by jumping as the ship struck. The others, pinned in the hull beneath the fallen bag, were burned to death. Heat of the fire fought back the rescuers for hours. Three fire departments fought the flames with chemicals, and by 7 p. m. it was out. Debris began picking up the wreckage as the flames were driven back. There was scarcely more than the aluminum frame work and the six Liberty motors to move within the wreckage lay the bodies, many of them charred beyond recognition.

THIRTY BODIES RECOVERED

Thirty bodies had been taken out tonight. Three or four more were thought to be still in the charred mass that alone remained of what had been the largest ship of her type in the world. Accounts of surviving officers as to what happened were not available tonight. Every man who escaped alive was burned or bruised, or both. Eyewitnesses, who watched the smash, agreed, however, that the huge rudder, itself as large as a bombing plane, had slipped to one side as the Roma dove along 1,000 feet above the army base. She was making a trial flight with a new battery of Liberty motors, they were installed to replace Italian engines bought with her in Italy which had not proved satisfactory. Installation was completed at Langley field two weeks ago. It was just before 2 p. m. when those below at the army base at Hampton Roads had their attention caught by the approaching thunder of the six motors, and looked up to see the Roma dip down and the rudder seemed to have slipped bodily down and to one side.

The ship nosed steadily down, an explosion and the flames burst shrivelled in the fierce blast of the liberated gas. The Roma was a wall of flame a city black bog and until the thousands of gallons of chemicals and water checked the hoocaust, it was impossible to reach the comrades mangled and dead in that fiery furnace. The ship left no passenger list behind here when she set out for a brief trial run from Langley. She is known to have carried many officers and men as passengers, however, in addition to her operating crew. As she rose from the field her commander learned out to signal that he had 41 persons aboard. It is believed he did not include one civilian on the ship and that she actually carried 45.
