Millionaires Wallop Glace Bay Miners 7-1

SYDNEY, N.S., Oct. 17 — (CP) — Sydney Millionaires bounced back from a 1-0 first period deficit to thump poorly-conditioned Glace Bay Miners 7-1 in the opener of the three-team Cape Breton Senior Hockey League here tonight.

Millionaires, league and Maritime champions for the last two years, meet North Sydney Victorias at North Sydney tomorrow night.

Understaffed due to the non-arrival of several key players, Miners wilted badly in the middle heat when the Moneymen rapped in three goals in five minutes to clinch the contest. Coach Murph Chamberlain's charges banged in four more in the final period.

Big Charlie Phillips, all star defenceman with Saint John Beavers of the Maritime Senior Hockey League last season, took a pass from Conny Brown to beat Sydney's Nick Pidsodny at 3.19 of the first period for Miners only goal. Pidsodny, expected to be understudy to Jackie Gibson, was named a surprise starter in place of Gibson, Millionaires regular netminder for the last three seasons.

Lanky Don McRae, the aggressive redhead from Winnipeg back for a second season, tied the count at 3.47 of the second period by outguessing big Eddie D'Aoust on a solo effort. Then he set up winger Bob Greenlaw, a newcomer from Peterborough, Ont., for what proved to be the winning goal three minutes later.

Sydney's third goal came a minute and 47 seconds later when Mac Beaton, another newcomer, finished off a three-way passing play with Alex Birukow and Fred Hildebrand.

In the final session, Dunc MacIntyre, Sydney native who starred with St. Francis Xavier University and Antigonish Bulldogs for the last three seasons, scored twice and helped fellowtownsman Bernie (Bessie) MacDonald on another. MacDonald was in on Millionaire's sixth goal, tallied by Bob Bowness.

Yankees And Dodgers Divide World Series Pot

CINCINNATI, Oct. 17—(AP)—It took Johnny Mize 20 years to land with a world championship team, but the big Georgia-born slugger will tell you it was worth it.

Why not? The 37-year-old first-baseman was voted $2,832.77 in World Series money—a half share—by his New York Yankee teammates for his 13-game contribution to the championship cause.

Mize's World Series cut was disclosed today as were the shares of the other members of the pennant-winning Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers, in an official announcement by Commissioner A. B. Chandler.

In releasing the names of the recipients, Chandler announced that 30 members of the world champion Yanks received full shares of $5,665.54 for defeating the Dodgers in the series. The losing Brooks divided 31 full shares of $4,249.16, with two other members getting half shares.

Three Yankees received three-quarter shares of $4,249.16, four were voted half shares of $2,532.77, and eight received quarter shares of $1,416.38.

Mize, a National-Leaguer in all of his 14 years in the major leagues until he joined the Yankees late in August, is the latest to join the chorus of "it's great to be a Yankee" cast.

In a little over a month with the Yanks, the home-run-hitting Mize was paid more money than he received in any of his first 13 full seasons in baseball—six of them with St. Louis Cardinals.

Including his World Series cut, Big Jawn collected $12,732.77 for his work since his purchase from the New York Giants Aug. 25. Of the sum, $10,000 was for salary based on his carry-over $40,000 contract.

Mize was not the only one to benefit from a generous Yankee squad. For intance, pitchers Spec Shea and Bob Porterfield, who weren't even eligible for the World Series, were voted full shares by their mates.

Shea, optioned to the Newark Club in June and recalled in September, won only one game for the Yankees. Porterfield, who also divided his time between the Yankees and their International League farm club, won only two and lost five for the world champions.

Hugh Casey, who pitched only eight innings for the world champions after being signed as a free agent, was given a quarter-share. So were pitchers Dutch Hiller, Wally Hood, infielders Fenton Mole and Joe Collins and outfielder Jimmy Delsing. Not one saw service in a dozen games.

Along with Mize in the half-share group were catcher Ralph Houk and first-baseman Dick Kryhoski and Jackie Phillips. The last two weren't even with the club when the pennant was clinched. Relief pitcher Ralph Buxton, who hurled only 27 innings in two months with the Yankees, received a three-quarter share of $4,249.16.

No to be outdone in generosity, the Dodgers voted Luis Olmo, their returning Mexican League refugee, a full $4,272.74 share even though he did not rejoin the club until June 29.

The Brooks, who finished the season with a 25-player roster as compared to 33 Yankees, split their $137,439.64 into 32 1-6 shares. The Yankees cut their $206,159.45 into 36 shares.

In addition to the players, manager Casey Stengel of the Yankees and Burt Shotton of the Dodgers received full shares, as did three coaches, the travelling secretary and the trainer of each team.

The coaches voted full shares were Bill Dickey, Frank Crosetti and Jim Turner of the Yankees, and Jak Pitler, Clyde Sukeforth and Milton Stock of the Dodgers. Full shares also went to Dr. Harold Wendler and secretary Harold Parrott of the Dodgers, and trainer Gus Mauch and secretary Frank Scott of the Yankees.

Phillies Sign Pitcher From Farm Club

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17—(AP)—Philadelphia Phillies of the National League today announced signing of pitcher Emmanuel (Sonny) Amodio, 22, for their Toronto farm club, the Maple Leafs of the International League.

Amodio, a righthander, won seven and lost one while pitching for St. John's University this year.

"THE STORE FOR MEN"

With the winning of the Maritime Intermediate Baseball Championship by the Summerside Curran and Briggs nine on Sunday, baseball is now definitely over for another year, and most everyone, whether it be player, fan or coach, will be turning their attentions and activities towards hockey, football, basketball, bandminton etc.

• • • •

Just what the future holds for this winter in these respective sports is hard to foresee at the moment, with the exception of football, which is now in full swing, as many of the plans are yet to be worked out for the forthcoming season.

As the result of a preliminary meeting held last Friday night at the Travel Bureau, when representatives from the two Amateur Athletic Clubs, the Vics and Abbies, as well as from Saint Dunstan's University and the Department of Physical Fitness, met to discuss hockey plans in the City area for this year, a little indication was given as to what might be seen here.

• • • •

To begin with, the Department of Physical Fitness plans to carry on as it did last year in organizing and developing the minor leagues both in the City and the rural and smaller centres, and will declare Provincial champions in all divisions from paperweight and pee wee right up to and including the junior and intermediate brackets.

• • • •

The general opinion at the meeting towards entering in the Central Senior B loop with Mainland teams this year was in the minority, and all showed a definite favor towards developing good intermediate A and B groups instead with a particularly keen interest being shown in reviving the age old competition between the Charlottetown Abegweits and Victorias with the Summerside Crystals and other interested teams in a good Island intermediate A League.

• • • •

Of course this is only the opinion of the local representatives, and many other groups such as Summerside etc. will have to be consulted before anything definite will be brought about, and the final outcome will depend largely on just what views they have on such a league. One big factor in favor of the intermediate league over the Central B section, was that there would be much more future for the Intermediate group in Maritime play and possibly Dominion finals competition for the Island champions, whereas the Central League aspect could offer nothing in the way of future competition except moving into competition with the Valley, A-P.C. and Big Four playoffs which would be entirely out of the question for teams of that calibre.

• • • •

And then of course there is the regular City Hockey League aspect, which, although there has been nothing given out yet on plans for this year, there is no doubt that the College teams etc will be planning on operating again this year as they have in the past.

In any event, whatever the attractions will be, it is hoped that all promoters of the sport concerned will get their heads together under the one roof and map their winter program out thoroughly and satisfactorily before the season starts, to avoid a replica of the confusion between leagues, teams etc. that was very noticeable at times during last season. Whatever the hockey is going to be, let's have it well organized to everybody's mutual benefit, which is bound to make for a bigger and better season.

Smart Boxing Expected On Card Here Tonight

Local fight fans should have a good opportunity to witness some smart bouts tonight when promoters Harry Poulton and Bud Lund stage the first in a series of professional boxing cards at the Whalen Memorial Hall at 8.30.

Top-lining the bill will be the main event for the vacant Island lightweight title when Beau Jack (130 lbs.) meets Bud Lund (133 lbs.), while Emmett (Slugger) Gallant (155) opposes Soggy Reid (160) in the semi-final event. The bouts will be eight and six rounds respectively.

There will be three smart preliminary events to start the action rolling, when Duck Trainor (131) vs. Elliott McKay (138), Austin Squarebriggs (158) vs. George Saunders (157) and Bobby Gallant (135) vs. Kid Doyle (140).

Making their first attempt at promoting fights, Lund and Poulton have gone to a great amount of effort to have well-matched events on this opening card, and judging from the lineup, they have done just that, and the bill should provide plenty of action and smart boxing.

It is made up entirely of local talent, with most of the performers well known to local fans, and if tonight's program turns out to be the success that is expected, the boys are planning some other good bouts in the near future, with smart outside talent included on the programs.

Saints In 17-0 Victory Over P.W.C. In Island Intercollegiate Opener

Lead by the smooth working backfield of Shreenan, Cheverie, McCarville and Cash, the second Saint Dunstan's University rugby squad blanked out the Prince of Wales College aggregation to the tune of 17-0 yesterday afternoon at the S.D.U. gridiron to take an undisputed victory in the opening game of their best two out of three game series for the Island Intermediate Intercollegiate Rugby championship.

Carrying the ball on very effective running plays consistently all through the encounter, the S.D.U. boys chalked up three unconverted touchdowns in rapid succession in the first half and pushed over two more in the final half to clinch the game decisively, while they kept the Welshmen in trouble all the way, and very rarely allowed them within scoring position. Quarter back Martin made all the convert tries for the Saints, but failed on the first four attempts, which were all from difficult angles. However, he made a nice kick on the final touchdown, which was almost straightaway, and placed the ball neatly between the uprights.

McCarville, three-quarterman, made the opening try for the Saints early in the opening half when he went over on the right corner after he took a nice pass on the end of a smart passing attack that started from a two-man kickout on the P.W.C. 10-yard line at the far side of the field, the Saints reversing their field for a nice play. The score came about the seven-minute mark, and about five minutes later the Saints flying half, Mel Martin, started a nice running attack from a scrum down at centre field to carry the ball for about 25 yards on a tricky effort of broken field running to snap a pass to Johnny Cash out on the wing, who covered the final distance on a nice run to go over on the far left-hand corner for the second score of the day.

P.W.C. started to put on the pressure midway in the half, and making some good runs, managed to move the game into Saint's territory, but lost some scoring chances on loose ball handling which saw them gradually forced back into their own zone again.

It was at the 24-minute mark in the half that the Saints came through with their third score, when, forcing the attack deep in Welshmen territory, forward George Kelly scooped up a loose ball on the P.W.C. 10-yard line to plunge over for a good score. The play was followed by some smart backfield attacks by Howatt, MacDonald and Jardine of the P.W.C. three-quarter line, which took them down deep in Saints' ground where they threatened to go over when Kelly pulled a lone running attack that took the play almost to centre field and out of danger.

Prince of Wales carried the attack for the first five minutes of the final half into Saints' territory and made it look like they were going to make a recovery, but they lost possession of the ball again to the Saints who moved the ball into Welshmen ground in a series of kicking and running attacks that took them right to the opposing 10-yard line, where after a couple of near scores, finally went over for their fourth score, when Stan Deighen picked up the ball from a five-yard scrum to go around the blind side and plunge through for a well-executed play.

Biw Tom Pendergast, hard-hitting S.D.U. forward, made the final try of the game when he took a pass from 25 yards out to pull a neat run through the P. W. C. defence and crash his way through a maze of tackles to place the ball over the line right beside the left upright, putting Martin in a nice position for the convert, which he booted over quite easily. The score came at the 20-minute mark, and although the battle waged back and forth at centre field there was no further scoring.

The following are the lineups:—

S. D. U. — Fullback, Mallett; three-quarters, Shreenan, Cheverie McCarville, Cash; halves, Deighen and Martin; forwards, Coyle, Devine, R. McQuaid, Pendergast, Driscoll, G. Kelly; subs, Weir, Rossiter, McIver, K. MacDonald*.

P. W. C. — Fullback, Carmody; three-quarters, B. MacDonald, J. Brown, P. Jardine, E. Sullivan; halves, Howatt and Allen; forwards, Ballem, MacLean, Nicholson, Stull, McIsaac, MacNeill. Subs —Zakem, McCallum, Atkinson.

*replaced Cash in latter part of second half.

Famous Thoroughbred Assault Is Retired

BALTIMORE, Oct. 17—(AP) — Assault, one of the turf's greatest thoroughbreds, has run his last race.

Trainer Max Hirsch wired the Maryland Jockey Club today that the 1946 triple-crown winner has been permanently retired and will not be able to keep his date in the Oct. 28 Pimlico Special.

Hirsch said the six-year-old who won the coveted triple crown by taking the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont is still sound in the legs. Other ailments, he said, forced his retirement.

Cycle Pumping English Girls Cross Rockies

VICTORIA, B.C., Oct. 17 —(CP) — Two young English girls, who wanted to see Canada and meet Canadian people, have had their wish fulfilled.

They have finished a leisurely, 2 1-2-month cycling tour covering 1,420 miles from Calgary to Vancouver Island as part of the tour. And together they had only five flat tires on the journey through the Canadian Rockies.

The youthful adventurers are Joan Dilnot from London and Elizabeth Stephenson from Orpington, Kent.

Joan, born in France, has lived most of her life in England. She and Elizabeth have been chums since school days, and have been making plans for the Canadian tour together for a number of years.

Both served with the armed forces dufing the war, Joan in the W.R.N.S. and Elizabeth with the W.A.A.F. On demobilization they decided to begin their often-thought-of Canadian trip.

Elizabeth arrived in Toronto nearly two years ago, and Joan followed several months later. They took positions in Toronto, and after saving their money, travelled to Calgary.

Gears For Hills

On light sturdy English bicycles with three-speed gears, and with 70-pound packs, the girls began their journey to the west coast on July 10.

They arrived in Victoria Sept. 27, and in an interview declared themselves "thrilled with western Canada!"

Both are full of praise for Canadian hospitality and for the "marvelous hostels."

"We've had about 250 miles of rides given us by kindly people, and have stayed with a magistrate and his family, and families of an engineer, lumberjack, storekeeper and foundry worker. And a cafe owner in Bridesville, B.C., let us use the cafe, after closing hours, to sleep in," they recount.

"Our whole trip, starting at Calgary, has cost us only $100 apiece, so far," they state. "That includes clothing too. We added raincoats to the small wardrobes."

After a visit on Vancouver Island and later in Vancouver, the girls plans to take ship for New Zealand where they'll spend several months, then a week in Australia en route to England.

Hawks In Hard-Fought 6-4 Win Over Amherst

SACKVILLE, N.B., Oct. 17 — (CP) —Two last-period goals gave Moncton Hawks a hard-fought 6-4 win over Amherst Ramblers in a Maritime Senior Hockey League game here tonight and first place in the four-team league.

It was the second straight loss for Ramblers, the league's new entry, and Hawks first win. Moncton drew 6-6 with Saint John Beavers Saturday night in one of the league openers and now has three points, one more than Halifax St. Mary's, defending league champions.

Ramblers, making their home debut here because their own rink isn't ready yet, put up an unexpectedly stiff fight. They were outsped, by a better conditioned St. Mary's team in dropping a 12-2 decision at Halifax Saturday night and Hawks were rated as the team to beat along with St. Mary's.

Les Colvin in Hawks goal turned aside 35 shots and Dollard Poirier, Amherst net custodian made 36 saves.

Penalties figured prominently in the scoring, with most of the goals scored by both teams coming when their opponents were playing short-handed.

Amherst — Goal, D. Poirier; defence, Lay, Allen; centre, Robertson; wings, Sheperd, Carver; subs, A. Kelly, Gougeon, Couture, Agnew, Mitchell, R. Legere.

Beavers' Goalie Out With Injuries

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Oct. 17 — (CP) — Saint John Beavers will be without the services of goalie Floyd Perres when they play Amherst Ramblers in a Maritime Senior Hockey League fixture here tomorrow night.

He suffered torn knee cartilage in Saturday night's game with Moncton Hawks. The time he is likely to be out of action has yet to be determined by X-rays and medical reports. Keith Anderson and Red Burke, Moncton, will be available as substitute net-minders.

There were unconfirmed reports that Sonny MacDonald, former star goalie of the league, would return to Beavers in time for tomorrow's game. MacDonald admitted he had been in touch today with the club management, which declined comment on the matter.

Kid Adshade In Kayo Victory Over Percy Paris

STELLARTON, N.S., Oct. 17 — (CP) — J.B. (Kid) Ashade, the fighting Glace Bay, N.S., miner, made good his third comeback attempt with a two-round upset knockout here tonight over Percy Paris of New Glasgow, N.S., rated as top contender for the Maritime lightweight title held by Dick (Kid) Howard of Halifax. Adshade weighed 135 pounds, Paris 130.

Adshade uncorked a dynamite right to the jaw for the knockout blow at 43 seconds of the second round to bring the scheduled 10-round main bout of a four-event card to a sudden and sensational finish. The first round was comparatively even and there was no evidence that Adshade had regained the punching prowess which made him a knockout artist in his early professional fights.

The victory might earn Adshade another crack at Howard's title. He has fought the stocky, hard-hitting Haligonian twice, losing by a knockout in a slugfest at Halifax and by a decision at Glace Bay.
