CONFERENCE

pecially welcomed by the British as coinciding with British policy. It was regarded as reaffirmation of the American determination to work for stabilization of exchanges in conjunction with the recovery of prices.

Previously there had been murmurings of discontent in the British delegation and criticism of the attitude of the United States action in holding out against de facto stabilization of the dollar and the pound, something that Canada's Premier R. B. Bennett would like to see accomplished without delay.

Conferees which Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald had today with U. S. Secretary of State and James W. Cox of the United States group apparently had something to do with the British change. There has never been any difference of opinion between the British and American policy on stabilization, except possibly the relationship of the dollar and pound, only a difference of methods and divergence of views regarding the timeliness of the steps to be taken.

France Disappointed

While representatives of the gold standard bloc headed by France did not conceal their disappointment that fluctuations of British and American currencies were not to be definitely limited by an immediate agreement, talk of adjourning the conference quickly subsided. James Cox and James Warburg of the U. S. delegation conferred with French Finance Minister Georges Bonnet and were said to have succeeded in convincing him that the delay in stabilization would not mean an orgy of currency inflation.

Expressing satisfaction with this assurance M. Bonnet agreed to the indefinite postponement of the stabilization question. The French commented the American statement was a welcome contribution towards clarifying the monetary situation. Skilful work by Chairman MacDonald was also credited with a large share in bringing about the temporary barring of stabilizing talk.

U. S. Dollar Slides

Publication of the American statement had immediate effect on foreign exchanges, the United States dollar reaching its lowest level against the British pound since the United States left the gold standard. This further slide caused further trepidation among the less-serviced situated of the gold countries.

With the American currency stand clarified for the time being conference commissions and committees turned their attention to other problems on which they hope to make immediate progress, namely, conditions of a permanent monetary standard, reduction of trade barriers, discriminatory restrictions on imports, international indebtedness and control of production.

The Anglo-Irish tariff war arising from the non-payment of land annuities to the United Kingdom was brought before the conference by Senator Joseph Connolly of the Irish Free State, who echoed the sentiments expressed by Soviet Russia in denouncing tariffs imposed for punitive purposes.

Meanwhile progress was also made in efforts of the four great wheat-growing countries - Canada, the United States, Australia and Argentina - to reach agreement for limiting production and stabilizing exports. It received supplementary instructions for the Argentine delegation which were thought to all but assure adhesion of that country to the Canadian-United States restriction plan. Australia still wants to see some concrete proposals before making a decision.

Work also progressed in the monetary sub-committee dealing with the various provisions of the United States resolution setting forth the method for a permanent return to the gold standard.

The American stabilization statement was issued after the United States group had received an extensive communication from President Roosevelt, studied in private sessions last night and today. The declaration made it clear the U. S. regards success of its internal price-raising programme as vital to the rest of the world as to itself.

"Anything that would interfere with these efforts and possibly cause a violent price recession would harm the Conference more than the lack of an immediate agreement for temporary stabilization," it contended. "As to the ultimate objective the American delegation has already introduced a resolution designed for ultimate world-wide stabilization of unstable currencies, and is devoting itself to the support of measures for the establishment of a coordinated monetary and fiscal policy to be pursued by the various nations in co-operation with the others for the purpose of stimulating economic activity and improving prices."

Secretary Hull laid before another group a United States resolution calling for reduction of customs duties and excessive barriers to international trade, this taking the place of the disowned plan for all-around 10 percent tariff reduction. It set forth that a tendency towards nationalistic isolation must be arrested "if world recovery is to be achieved and a decent standard of living widely maintained."

Credit Expansion

The United States also, through Senator James Couzens of Michigan, presented a sub-committee of the Monetary Commission with a resolution calling for a policy of credit expansion through open-market operations, synchronized with public works programmes and in close co-operation with the central banks. This is very closely in line with the British policy, while Prime Minister Bennett has already indicated his belief that public works, useful in helping to restore economic circulation, should not be carried out "too cautiously" if they are to have a truly beneficial effect.

A primary step in cooperation between governments and their central banks should be the carrying out of a policy making credit abundantly and readily available for sound enterprises, the Couzens resolution declared; acceleration of the progress of recovery should be sought by means of a synchronized programme of government expenditures in different countries along parallel lines designed among other things to restore the willingness of the individual to assume normal risks of trade.

TURKEYS LIKE ELBOW ROOM

Domestic turkeys partake largely of the habits of their wild ancestors, and if they are given as much opportunity as possible to gratify their wild instincts, such as ranging over unlimited areas in search of food and roosting in whatever sheltered tree or nook they may select, there will be a minimum mortality. Kept under these conditions, it will be found that the poult is very little more difficult to rear than chickens. - Dominion Poultry Husbandman.

PERSONALS

Mr. Robert Campbell left yesterday morning on a visit to friends in Halifax.

Mrs. Wm. Cheverie has returned from a pleasant six weeks' visit to the Magdalen Islands. Her husband who is at present stationed there in connection with the Customs Department, will remain some time longer.

MOTHER

ended abruptly and he followed his mother downstairs to find her huddled unconscious in the hallway. Then he ascended the stairs, to find his father lying dead across his own bed, a deep knife wound in his chest. Downstairs, he later found a blood-stained carving

Accused in Court

Mrs. MacIntosh, whom the former Town Councillor married in England at the close of the war, was in court today. She was discharged several days ago from Bridgewater Hospital, where she had been under treatment for knife wound and poisoning following her husband's death.

She sat silently as her young son told how she had asked him to "stick up" for her when she recovered consciousness. And she showed little emotion when the boy told of hearing his father tell her she could "go back to England if she liked."

Their quarrels over "Elizabeth," he told the court, had begun since the first of the year. On several occasions, he testified, he had heard his mother say she wanted to return to England. And, he said, his father had replied each time that she was free to go but that he would not pay her fare.

The question of her return, according to the boy, was brought into the argument a few minutes before his father's death. Young Charles said he heard his mother ask MacIntosh to "give up Elizabeth" or let her go back to her home.

"Did your father ever say he would give up Elizabeth?" he was asked by defence counsel W. P. Potter. "I don't know," he answered.

Doctor Testifies

The boy was followed on the witness stand by Dr. H. A. Greighton, who gave medical testimony regarding the wound that ended MacIntosh's life. He said also he had found a disinfectant bottle, almost empty, in the house. He declared he found about a dozen bruises and several stabs on Mrs. MacIntosh's body.

Constable John Millburn of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, next told of questioning Mrs. MacIntosh following her husband's death. He told the court she had made a statement to him.

to Cape Tormentine, this also to last for the summer season. Mr. Joseph H. Donovan, conductor on the car Gatinneau, on this service, made the first trip yesterday afternoon to Cape Tormentine, the car being attached to the P.E.I. express after arrival here from Saint John. The "Gatinneau" was recently overhauled and renovated in the C.N.R. shops here and is one of the most comfortable parlour cars on the railways in the Maritimes.

The car Ausable, of almost similar type to the Gatinneau, will also operate on the Saint John-Moncton-Cape Tormentine run. It came through from Halifax yesterday to go in service and is in charge of Conductor James Geddes, also one of the most efficient and popular employees in the C.N.R. dining and parlour-car department.

ART DISPLAY IN BAPTIST SCHOOL ROOM

Yesterday afternoon from 3.30 to 6 o'clock in the school room of the Charlottetown Baptist Church, Miss Annie Watson treated the parents and interested friends of her pupils to an exhibition of their paintings and sketches.

The room was beautifully and artistically decorated with seasonal flowers while around the walls and on tables were displayed the many and varied pieces of work in oil paintings, water colours, crayon and charcoal. The China paintings also drew forth many delighted and favourable comments.

Miss Watson was assisted in receiving by the Misses Laura Scott, Carrie Haslam, and May Sterns, while lovely little girls whose work was on exhibition flitted in and out among the guests, conducting them around, explaining the work on display, and later passing refreshments.

On the tea table were two silver baskets of large buttermilk. The Misses Emma White, Elaine Bennett and Ruth Stewart capably attended to replenishing cake and ice cream, while ices were cut by Mrs. Albert Baker and Mrs. J. A. Clark.

Altogether the afternoon was most beneficial, encouraging and satisfactory to teacher, students and friends from both educational and social standpoints. Charlottetown is to be congratulated in having such a highly talented artist as Miss Watson.

Closing Of Kindergarten

The Kindergarten closing took place yesterday morning and the hall was crowded with guests and relatives to see and hear the little tots perform.

Lieutenant-Governor Dalton was present, and Mr. C. H. Black made the opening remarks, as also did Rev. H. D. Raymond.

This closing marked a very successful season and a large bouquet of flowers was presented to Miss Berna Heustis, the director. Much credit is also due Miss Edna Gordon, her assistant.

The following is the program:

- 1. Solo, Rosalie Hooper - "Pussy Willow."
2. Chorus, Good Mother Hen.

NEW RATES

Answer of Maritime Electric Company to Complaints

In the matter of certain complaints against the rates and charges of the Maritime Electric Company Limited, for service rendered in Charlottetown, Montague, Georgetown and elsewhere in the Province of Prince Edward Island.

To the Board of Commissioners of Public Utilities for the Province of Prince Edward Island.

Certain complaints against rates charged by this Company having been filed with your Board in May, 1933, have been transmitted to this Company and this Company begs to reply as follows:

1. The Company admits that it has certain rights, privileges and obligations for supplying electricity in the City of Charlottetown, the towns of Montague and Georgetown and in such other territories set forth in said complaint.

2. The Company accepts as correct as far as it knows, the statement that the complainants are all ratepayers of the territories mentioned, and that they are all customers of this Company.

3. As to the complaint from complainants of the Town of Georgetown to the effect that this Company furnishes only single phase service in that territory. This Company admits that fact but further says that such single phase service is ample for the electric needs of that territory at this time, and further that such single phase service is the only kind of service that can be used for lighting (either domestic or commercial) and further that the only need for three phase service is for industrial power purposes and that no such demand or request has been made by that territory for such industrial power service.

4. This Company admits the general correctness of the rates set forth in the complaints as in effect in the territories mentioned in the said complaints.

5. This Company denies that said rates "are excessive and unreasonably high" in regard to the service rendered "and the cost thereof" to this Company.

6. This Company claims, and submits certain data herewith in support of such claim, that this Company is not now earning a fair return on the fair value of its assets used and useful, and further claims that an insufficient return is being secured in each territory of each complaint.

7. This Company claims a fair value of its assets used and useful in Prince Edward Island as of December 31st, 1932, including materials and supplies and "Working Capital" of $907,352.78, and further states that its earnings, after taxes and depreciation, are $42,210.42, or equivalent to 4.65% return on such assets. Of this $907,352.78 of fair value, this Company has expended since the present management assumed control in 1926, the sum of $603,890.27, excluding all moneys expended for the original purchase of the electrical assets in Charlottetown and Montague.

8. This Company claims that its return in Montague, computed in a similar manner, details of which are attached, is 3.41% and further that its return in Charlottetown and surrounding rural territory is 4.78%.

9. This Company states that it has been unable at this writing, to allocate investment and earnings between the City of Charlottetown and surrounding rural territory and intends to do so at its earliest opportunity. At this writing, however, the Company believes that there is sufficient data attached hereto to sustain the Company's claim that in no sub-division of its entire territory is it making a fair return on the fair value of its assets used and useful.

10. This Company states that it has not made any sub-division of its investment and earnings in Montague and vicinity, in order to allocate such to the Town of Georgetown, and will not do so unless ordered by your Board, for the reason that the earnings for this whole Montague area are so insufficient as to clearly indicate that the earnings in Georgetown itself are insufficient.

11. This Company claims that since this Management assumed control in 1926, great sums of money have been spent to secure for its consumers adequate, sufficient and low priced service, and further that adequate, sufficient and low priced service has been secured through such expenditures and its other efforts.

12. This Company has, since the present Management assumed control, made drastic rate reductions to the material benefit of its consumers as is shown by the following statistics:

Table with 2 columns: Category and Amount. Rows include Average rate for 12 months previous to Sept. 1928, Residential-14.685c. per kwh, Commercial-11.95c. per kwh, Average rate for 12 months ending April 30th, 1933, Residential-7.46c. per kwh, Commercial-7.24c. per kwh.

13. This Company recognizes that Prince Edward Island to a considerable

Hindu Speaker Gave Address

"God's contact with my soul, and my soul's contact with another soul" was the theme of an address delivered by Sadhu J. Nelson-Christananda of India at the mid-week prayer meeting in the Baptist Church last evening. The speaker developed his discourse in the story of Christ's meeting the Samaritan woman at the well. She required ministry to her physical needs, but Christ's mission was not merely to the physical. She perceived Christ as a prophet, but he was more than a prophet. He said "I that speak to thee Am" - The Sadhu referred to the necessity of one's self being transformed before one began to work with another. He also made reference to the significance of the sixth hour, and to the need of prayer and communion with God. One must tarry till the whole being is transformed, before one is in a position to influence another.

Sadhu Christananda will preach in St. Paul's Church Sunday morning and at St. Peter's Cathedral, Sunday evening, and will deliver a series of lectures in St. Paul's Parish Hall next week.

ably lesser extent than the rest of the civilized world, is suffering from decreased purchasing power and in recognition of such fact, desires to place before your Board a new schedule of rates which will in some small way at least again lower the cost of electricity to the Residential and Commercial consumers of this Company. In presenting such new rates to your Board for investigation and approval, this Company does so solely on the basis of cooperation with its consumers, as it is convinced that thorough examination of the attached statistics or any other data that your Board may require, will prove to your Board's satisfaction that this Company is not now earning a fair return on the fair value of its assets used and useful.

NEW RATE REDUCTIONS

Charlottetown, P. E. Island, June 21, 1933

The Board of Commissioners of Public Utilities for Province of Prince Edward Island. Re: Filing of New Rates. Gentlemen,

We beg to submit herewith three sets of rate schedules as follows: For City of Charlottetown and immediate vicinity. For Town of Montague and territory served out of Montague, For Rural Lines.

These schedules effect reductions to classes of consumers as follows: Charlottetown Commercial consumers ... $4,857.15 Residential consumers ... 3,323.52 Street lights (on lamp basis) ... 830.00 $9,010.67

Montague and Vicinity Commercial consumers ... 317.20 Residential consumers ... 498.75 $815.95 Total ... $9,826.62

Certain of the Rate Schedules submitted herewith are new and other Schedules the same as previously in effect. These Schedules together with General Rules governing the general procedure of delivery and sale by this Company constitute all the rates or tariffs which this Company has to offer to its consumers. Such being the case, we request your Board to cancel as void all rates, tariffs, or regulations now on file by this Company as soon as the attached Schedules become effective.

Respectfully submitted, MARITIME ELECTRIC CO. LTD. (Sgd.) James T. McKee, Manager, Prince Edward Island Division.

FIRST THREE LECTURES AT C.N. HOTEL

Remaining Lectures In Connection With Library Extension Course To Be Given at P. W. C.

The first three evening lectures to be given by Colonel Wilfrid Bovey, Director of Extra-Mural Relations, McGill University, originally scheduled to take place at the Prince of Wales College, will be given instead at the Canadian National Hotel on July 3rd, July 4th and July 5th, according to word received from Colonel Bovey's office at McGill this morning.

The change in arrangements was necessitated by the unexpected duration of examinations at the College. On learning of the difficulty, Mr. A. H. Mould of the Canadian National Hotel placed the facilities of his establishment at Colonel Bovey's disposal.

The three lectures will be as follows: Jacques Cartier in Canada, The South Country of England, and Arts and Crafts of Rural Canada. Lantern slides will be a feature of the lectures and the Arts and Crafts lecture will include an exhibition of samples of country work.

Dr. Lomer's Career

Dr. Gerhard R. Lomer, who is directing the Prince Edward Island Library Institute to be carried on during the summer, is in his profession one of the best known men in North America.

Graduating from McGill in Arts in 1903, Dr. Lomer made English Literature his special subject and attained his Ph.D. from Columbia University in 1910. At the same time he received his Doctor's Diploma in Education. After acting as instructor in English at the University of Wisconsin, and instructor in Journalism at Columbia University and as associate editor of "The Warner Library" and "Chronicles of America," he became Librarian of McGill University in 1920. For many years McGill had arranged a summer library school in which Dr. Lomer had been at different times an instructor and later Director. In 1927, on his initiative, a complete Library School was established, giving first a recognized diploma and now a degree in Library Science. The institution of this course by McGill was a tribute to the growing importance of library work in Canada, and under Dr. Lomer's capable management it has made continuous progress.

Since his appointment as Librarian at McGill, the McGill Library has taken great steps forward. It now contains over 485,000 books besides the remarkable Geste Chinese Research Library, an entirely unique collection of Chinese works. Under Dr. Lomer's general superintendence are not only the University general library, but also a number of departmental libraries which assure to the students in professional faculties the most complete facilities for their work.

Assisted P. E. I. Library Work

When the Carnegie Foundation considered putting on the demonstration in Prince Edward Island which is now in progress, they naturally turned to Dr. Lomer for advice. He spent some time during the past winter studying the situation and as a result a demonstration was decided on. This is not the first time that McGill University has gone outside the province of Quebec for library work. Three years ago a course similar to that now being arranged here was carried on in Vancouver and was very successful.

Dr. Lomer's own public lectures given in the second and fourth week of the course, will be deeply interesting to every student of literature and history and will without doubt be widely appreciated.

His wide acquaintance with literature, love of books, his unsurpassed knowledge of library science, a branch of education of which he himself was one of the creators, make him an ideal director for the Prince Edward Island Institute, while his own personality will render him a welcome guest.
