"GEORGETOWN.—In a recent issue of The Guardian it was stated that owing to an epidemic of scarlet fever the school had been closed for two weeks, which was incorrect, as the school was only closed for two days, before the beginning of the Christmas holidays so that sufficient time might be had to fumigate the building as a precaution. The information furnished was entirely misleading as at the time the item appeared only one house was flagged and this has since been removed, and busy Georgetown is now free from all scarlet fever and enjoying its usual clean sheet from the Board of Health."

ROD AND GUN

The January issue of Rod and Gun in Canada is on the news-stands and a glance at the table of contents shows that the magazine is living up to its reputation as the leading exponent of outdoor life in Canada. In addition the regular departments devoted to Guns and Ammunition and Fishing Notes are well maintained. Trapshooters will be interested in the account of the recent Grand International shoot held at St. Thomas and dog lovers in the new Kennel department. Rod and Gun is published at Woodstock by W. J. CHARLOTTETOWN MAN'S TRIBUTE

MR. MORRISON TELLS OF THE FARADOR'S GOOD WORK

The good work of the Farador goes merrily on. The following letter is from an old and reliable resident, the head of the firm of George Morrison & Co.

Dear Sir, Experience is the best teacher, and my wife and I have learned from experience that the Farador is a mighty fine article and we want everyone to know the fact.

My wife had heart trouble, indigestion and rheumatism for at least ten years. She had taken treatment from several doctors both at home and in Boston, but they could not help her. We saw by the Charlottetown papers that the Farador was giving satisfaction to many sufferers, so we bought one and we consider it to have been an excellent investment, for not only did it make a complete cure of my wife, but it also cured me of rheumatism that I had in one leg for twenty years. We began its use last February.

It is true that we have had some serious illness since the Farador cured the ailments referred to, but the illness we had since then was caused by an accident—a collision with an Auto mobile when we were out driving—but apart from the injuries received through this accident we have had no other ailments. While the Farador is sufficient for most ailments it is hardly calculated to re-set broken bones.

My advice to people needing health is this: Stop taking drugs and for your own sake give the Farador a chance. I say this because some people are too prejudiced to even give the Farador a hearing, but no one can afford to nurse their prejudices when their health is at stake. I am seventy years of age, and since it has helped me so much I am sure it will help others, especially younger people. The Farador has certainly proved its worth in this town as all sensible people ought to know. Yours sincerely, GEORGE MORRISON.

Tobacco Factory, 600 Great George St., Ch'town, Dec. 27, 1915.

The above letter is addressed to W. E. Enmas, Farador Agent, 226 Richmond St. Charlottetown. 6404-14-M11.

AGE OF USEFULNESS

It is the belief of many dairymen that when a cow reaches the age of nine or ten years, her useful years are over, and that she should be replaced by one younger. Numbers of cows are sent to the shambles every year because the owners have a set opinion that cows at a certain age are no longer profitable. Other things being equal, we believe this is a mistake. A cow that has been well cared for, and that has been well fed, and that has been given the proper attention given to her comfort, through all seasons of the year, is better and will make a more profitable return at ten years' old than at any other age.

We have had several cows that were in their prime at ten years' old and continued in that condition until at least thirteen or fourteen years old. After this age they gradually our minds are quite as active as in former years but our strength does not respond when we need it most; perhaps the kidneys are weak, the liver torpid, rheumatic pains or stiffened joints beset us, and we cannot easily throw off the colds that winter brings.

What we need is the rich cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion to renew the blood and carry strength to every organ of the body, while its glycerine soothes the respiratory tract, and its hypophosphites strengthen the excitable nerves.

Scott's Emulsion is a scientific food, of unusual benefit to those past fifty years—particularly during the colder seasons, it imparts warmth and creates strength. One bottle will prove its worth. No harmful drugs. Scott & Bowne, Toronto, Ont. 15-36

FOLDING CLOTHES FOR PACKING

To fold the skirt properly first fasten the waistband and placket, then lay it down on a smooth surface, turn the sides of the skirt toward the back and into the folds thus made lay sheets of paper lengthwise, and in the fold over at the top also lay pads of paper; after it is laid in the trunk or box, pads of paper should be placed over the folded garment. The only way to fold a coat is to lay it with its back to the table or bed, bring the front edges evenly together, stuff the sleeves with paper, lay creased pads of tissue paper on the inside down each side, put padding in the bust, then fold the arms over the front of the coat. If necessary to bend sleeves, do it between the elbow and the cuff laying padding in the crease. If the skirt of the coat is long it should be folded over from the back to the front to fit the coat into a straight line at the side, and in these creases put padding. If paddings are not put into clothes when folded the creases become deep and so marked that they are apt to cut and wear at these points. Lightweight materials like satins and silks require even more padding. Hook blouses together before packing and stuff the sleeves and all parts with paper.

What are Peps

Peps are the new treatment for coughs, colds and lung troubles. They are little tablets made up from Pine extracts and medicinal essences. When put into the mouth these medicinal ingredients turn into healing vapors, which are breathed down direct to the lungs, throat and bronchial tubes. The Peps treatment is direct. Swallowing cough mixtures into the stomach, to cure ailments and disorders in throat and lungs, is indirect. Peps are revolutionizing the treatment of colds, as their price is within the reach of all. 5c. box all druggists, or Peps Co., Toronto.
