Prince Edward Theatre - "The Flash of an Emerald," a gripping detective story, with the scenes laid in Quebec and St. Anne de Beaupre, was the headliner in yesterday's programme. The story centres around the theft of a beautiful emerald. There was excitement galore in "The White Witch," the eleventh episode of "The Secret Kingdom," the "Barred from the Bar," was the title of the comedy. This programme is repeated at today's shows.

Personal - Mrs. W. J. Perkins and two daughters, of Estevan, Sask., are spending the summer with Mrs. Perkins' mother, Mrs. A. McBeath, Marshfield Street.

Miss Adele Palmer arrived last night from Montreal to spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Palmer, 22 Pleasant Street.

German Soldiers and People clothed in paper - LONDON - Germany's facilities for clothing her armies are fast disappearing. A careful examination of the clothing worn by German prisoners reveals an appalling shortage of materials for the manufacture of cloth. Most German uniforms are now woven of various fibres, which prove useless in heavy weather. Water soaks through them, they shrink and crumble and fall easily into discrepancy.

Under their uniforms the Germans wear even more atrocious imitation clothes of pulp paper and the people in the German towns long ago saw the last of good cloth materials and became resigned to imitations. The white shirts which are displayed for sale in Berlin shops look like good linen, but one trip to the laundry brings a quick revelation. If anything at all a soggy mass of paper.

This story is told by an American who recently left Austria, where he was in hospital with a fever. A Polish doctor who attended him refused to attend him a parting wish asked him for one or two white shirts. The American gave him all his shirts, along with a dozen cakes of soap. The doctor almost wept for joy over the soap, saying he would place the precious cakes in safe hands to be taken back home to his wife in Poland, who had not seen a piece of soap for months. The average German family has not used soap for the last year, preferring wax to use the poor substitutes, rather than to irritate the skin with them.

Reformed by Music - In an address delivered at the National Arts Club, Thomas E. Rush, Surveyor of the Port of New York, told of the welfare work done in his office and how it encouraged and strengthened the morale among the men. To illustrate, he related an incident showing how an employe was reformed by music.

The man was an inspector of unusual intelligence, but he was always in trouble. In the first three months of his service twenty-three charges were made against him. His record before his entrance into the service was not good and the Surveyor at most despaired of being able to help him. Finally he sent for his instructor's wife, but her story did nothing to brighten the Surveyor's outlook. He Mr. Rush had a happy thought. He had learned that the man had formerly earned a good salary singing in a choir for the Welfare League and placed the inspector in charge of it. This was just the touch needed. The man immediately reformed, and the wife wrote to the Surveyor thanking him for working a great change.

Practise Economy - Do not buy that suit unless it is essential. Put your money in War Savings Certificates instead. So with the coat and the hat and the boots and the shoes and the gloves and the overalls. If you really need the article buy it. It is false economy to deny yourself essentials. But there is a great difference between true economy and extravagance. Most of the things you have today will last you until next year. Let them last and put the money into an investment that will help to win the war. The war burden of Dominion increases every day. By extravagance, by wastefulness, by luxury, you are increasing that burden where you might be easing it. Think twice before you buy. Then buy war certificates, practise true economy, help your country and the men at the front and incidentally help yourself. You can buy certificates in amounts of $25, $50 or $100. You can buy them at your nearest Money Order Post Office or Bank. Do it now. Give your little bit towards victory. 1216.

Islander Wounded - Among Islanders recently wounded in action was Pte. E. J. Lewis, of St. Peter's Bay.

Law Society Meets - The annual meeting of the Law Society of Prince Edward Island was held in the Law Library yesterday afternoon. After the general routine of business, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, George S. Inman, K. C.; Vice-President, Gil. Gaudet, K. C.; Secy., W. E. Bentley, K. C.; Executive Committee, K. J. Martyn, K. C., J. J. Johnson, K. C., C. Gavin Duffy and J. D. Stewart, K. C.

Returning Soldiers - Miss Nellie Gillespie, Secretary of the Returned Soldiers' Commission, yesterday received the following telegram: 92884 Everett Howatt, of Tryon, and 92752 Charles Misener, of Stanhope, both returned soldiers, left Halifax this morning. Howatt left here in the 98th Siege Battery. Prior to that he was in Sydney Mines. Misener was with the 50th Battalion. They will likely arrive on the Annapolis this forenoon.

From an English Hospital - The following letter was received by Mrs. Jeanette Wigmore, Emerald, from her son, Jasper, of Edinburgh War Hospital, Bangour, Scotland, May 31st, 1917.

My Dear Mother - Just a line to let you know I am getting along fine. This is a very good hospital with very good nurses. We are having very nice weather here now, and I am so glad to get away from the front for a while. It is a great relief to get away from the roar of the big guns, etc., as it has a demoralizing effect on the soldiers, and I cannot commence to tell the sights of horror we see in those great battles.

I suppose you have read of the latest casualties as there have been quite a few of our boys killed and wounded. I don't know, but I think the finish is a long way off yet, but old Fritz is getting his own back now. It is marvellous the artillery we have got on all fronts now, and it is surprising how Fritz stands such bombardments.

The morning we went over to get into battle, Fritz, our guns opened up with a crash that would make you think hell was loose. It continued so for five hours, with thousands of shells from thousands of guns. Our artillery was working that morning of April 9th, and Fritz's trenches were nothing but shell holes and craters.

When we, the infantry, got over there we took a lot of prisoners and they opened up it was marvellous the bombardment we put over. Where we advanced Fritz was very strongly fortified and we didn't think he could ever be driven back, but he got a great surprise that morning.

I haven't any mail since I came over here, and expect I will miss some good parcels while here, but just the same I would rather miss a few parcels and be here than be over there and have them. I am thankful to be over here now, even if it is only for a short while. So I don't worry mother's along fine and will soon be up and around. Be sure and write soon. I am as ever, your loving son, JOE.

Mature the Pullets to Get Early Layers - The eggs that are laid during the moulting seasons are usually laid by the mature pullets. A large source of profit in the poultry business consists in hatching early chicks and rushing their development to an early maturity. In order to accomplish this, much attention must be given to their feeding. They should have a well-balanced ration, largely protein in nature, and plenty of it.

Early rapid growth is obtained from early building protein feeds. Where the chickens are allowed to run over a large range they will get a good many worms and bugs, that will prove to be a great aid. However, they must not be made to run their legs off, chasing after them, where they are in an office and their development is retarded. Very little fat producing grains should be given; it had better be reserved for some purpose. Growing pullets should have plenty of exercise to make a normal, healthy and rapid growth, but they will get this on the range no matter how much feed you place before them because it is their natural growth. During the winter when they must necessarily be kept shut in it will be necessary to provide an incentive to exercise, but until that time give them plenty of feed and they will provide their own exercise.

The important thing is to produce quick-maturing pullets early in spring and keep them growing steadily so that when laying time comes they will be sufficiently matured to begin laying and producing results. This is the time of year when eggs are scarce and every pullet that lays will bring in big returns.

Knights of Death Fight Compulsion - MONTREAL - "The Knights of Death" is the name of an anti-conscription league organized in this city. Its object is to resist conscription, first by legal means, and if these fail, by any other means including armed resistance. It is said that some of the men who have been holding anti-conscription meetings in Montreal recently are at the head of this organization.

LETTER OF SYMPATHY.

The following letter was received by Mrs. Frank Conroy upon the death of her son: Souris, June 21, 1917. Mrs. Frank Conroy, Souris, P. E. I. Dear Mrs. Conroy - We, your friends and co-workers of the Red Cross, feel for you deeply in the grief you have sustained since we held our last meeting. Edson is another of our Souris boys who has given up his life, for a righteous cause, on the battlefield of France. As one by one the boys pass to Heaven, does it not seem to link us all closer together so that the broad Atlantic seems no more and the battlefield of France, Prince Edward Island?

To you, dear friend, and to Mr. Conroy and Ethel, our heartfelt sympathy goes out, for we know that your sorrow is a lifetime sorrow, but God will help you bear your cross. What a sweet thought it will always be to feel that when God calls you Home, Edson will be there to meet you at the Great Divide where, "eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither hath it entered into the heart of man what things God hath prepared for them that love Him."

Acting Secretary: Mrs. Arthur McQuaid. Signed on behalf of the members of Souris Red Cross Society - G. D. WRIGHT, Grand Master.

AMERICANS TAKE CHARGE OF HOSPITALS.

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE - (By the Associated Press) - American doctors, nurses and enlisted men have within the last fortnight taken over six of the British great general field hospitals, releasing the English staffs for duty near their front. The Americans have been much impressed by the cordiality of their welcome and by the thoroughness and effectiveness of the British hospital system. So smoothly have the transfers been made that the Americans have taken up their new work without even a moment's lapse in the routine of the various hospitals.

It was a wizened little man who appeared before the judge and charged his wife with cruel and abusive treatment. His better half was a big, square-jawed woman, with a determined eye.

"In the first place where did you meet this woman who has treated you so dreadfully?" asked the judge.

"Well," replied the little man, making a brave attempt to glare defiantly at his wife, "I never did meet her. She kind of overtook me."

Orange Celebration Cancelled

In view of the war conditions and the large percentage of our members being overseas and in home defence, it has been decided to cancel the usual 12th of July celebration this year.

We have over 25 per cent. of our membership fighting for King and Country, costing the brethren at home throughout Canada over $200,000 annually to keep our boys in good standing and pay their insurance, in addition to our share in supporting the several Patriotic Funds. Many of our members are mourning the loss of loved ones, who have made the supreme sacrifice, and under these circumstances shrink from publicity.

The Executive of the R. W. Grand Orange Lodge of P. E. Island have decided that there will be no Provincial Orange Demonstration in this Province this year. All Primary Lodges are expected to commemorate the Twelfth of July by attending Divine Service or in any other way they may deem appropriate.

G. D. WRIGHT, Grand Master.
