PROCEEDINGS IN THE FEDERAL PARLIAMENT

Crowded Galleries Expected When Mr. Bennett Delivers His Speech on the Draft Address.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

OTTAWA, Ontario, January 29.—Events in last weeks political and social circles were of unusual interest on account of the visit of the Right Hon. L. M. Amery, Secretary of State for the Dominions and the usual functions in connection; the unprecedentedly successful banquet to the new Conservative leaders and the opening of Parliament, and the functions incidental thereto which included the drawing room on Friday night said to be the best attended and most brilliant ever held in Ottawa.

This week will be of still rarer interest, even historic in significance. The Hon. Mr. Cosgrave, Prime Minister of Irish Free State, will arrive tomorrow at noon and will be given a reception later in the afternoon in the Parliament Building. He will be entertained in the evening at a dinner given by the Government in the Chateau Laurier, and will speak to the Canadian Club Tuesday noon. During his visit he will receive hosts of Irishmen and those of Irish descent in Ottawa and surrounding district.

The speech of the Hon. R. B. Bennett tomorrow afternoon in the debate on the address is looked forward to with keen anticipation, and the indications are, on account of early applications for seats in the galleries, that not only will the galleries be crowded but that many hundreds will fail to secure admission. There never was in the history of confederation such interest displayed in the formal advent of a new opposition leader, as in this case. What will add to the interest and importance of the occasion is that he will be replied to immediately by the Prime Minister who is a doughty champion in the arena of political verbiage.

Next week we shall have as a "follow up" of celebrities in the person of Mr. Kellogg, U. S. Secretary of State, whose visit will be marked by social, state and other functions in his honor. Incidentally, he will meet the members of the press at the American minister's residence on Monday, February 6th.

Among the legislation foreshadowed in notices of motion are two bills by Mr. Woodsworth, one applying the principle of the Whitley Council; to the civil service and an other amending the criminal code by eliminating the provision respecting blasphemous libels.

Mr. Garland, Bow River, has another respecting the civil service for the restoration of excluded officials, Miss MacPhail will move a resolution for the establishment of a department for the promtion of peace and international understanding. The Hon. Mr. Tolmie will ask if there are negotiations pending for the acquisition of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway in B. C. Mr. Cahan has a long query about the appointment of an expert report of the inter-Imperial relations committee of the Imperial Conference.

From what can be learned today the Government is not convinced that the appointment of a board of national revenue is necessary, particularly in view of the fact that the board of customs was overhauled several months ago and has been functioning satisfactorily. Such a tribunal as the Royal Commission on Customs and Excise suggests could not be set up for less than $50,000 to $75,000 per annum. There is a feeling that such expense would not be warranted when there are already in the government service competent officials who are pertional revenue would undertake.

To the proposed new tribunal the Royal Commission would send all appeals from rulings in custom matters except as to the question of values and all appeals under the income tax act, special war revenu act and all other acts administered by the department.

At present time the Board of Customs hears appeals from rulings in customs matters and disputes regarding income tax, special war taxes and other laws are settled in the law courts, while seizures made by the Department are adjudicated upon by the Minister and the principal department heads.

Seek Markets For Alberta Coal

(Special to the Guardian)

OTTAWA, Jan. 28. —A delegation representative of the boards of trade and Chamber of Commerce of Alberta is enroute to Ottawa to place before the Minister of the Interior a request for the consideration by parliament at this session of the Alberta coal situation. (Canadian Press)

MOSCOW, Jan. 29. — Reports in Riga that there had been a military uprising in Moscow were declared by officials to be "sheer fiction" and probably due to press despatches telling of the shortage of staple supplies in the Russian capital. Reports had said that four regiments had mutinied in sympathy with the deposed Trotsky.

P. E. Islander Candidate For Provident Fund

HALIFAX, Jan. 28. — Conductor George S. Ryan, Charlottetown, is the first and only candidate nominated by the Prince Edward Island Division of the Canadian National Railways to contest a seat on the Provident Fund Board, since that Fund was established in 1907. Several officers representing the various labor organizations of the railway requested Conductor Ryan to allow his name to go in nomination, and after briefly considering the matter he consented to the wishes of his comrades. The election for members of the Intercolonial and Prince Edward Island Railway Employee Provident Fund is usually held during February and March. Ballots are distributed to the members of the Fund attached to their pay cheques February 16th.

Mr. Ryan was born in Charlottetown and entered the service of the Prince Edward Island Railway as a brakeman June 1896. In due course he was promoted to baggagemaster. With the exception of six years as Yard Master, Charlottetown, he has had a continuous service on the road in the running trades. About twelve years ago he was promoted to conductor. In this capacity, he is well and favorably known for his efficiency, and courtesy extended to the business and travelling public.

Mr. Ryan is a member of several fraternal orders, and was Grand Master of the Independent Order of Oddfellows for the entire Maritime Provinces in 1917.

Many citizens of Halifax will remember Mr. Ryan, as having appeared before the Relief Commission, in behalf of the stricken members of that fraternity, who suffered by the great explosion of December 6th, 1917. He did splendid work during these trying days, and assisted several relief organizations in taking care of a large number of sufferers. Mr. Ryan resides at Charlottetown, and is a highly esteemed and respected citizen.

Nearly 400 Ships Built In Canada

OTTAWA, Jan. 28.—A total of 395 ships were built in Canada during the year 1926, according to a report issued today by the Department of Marine and Fisheries. These vessels had an aggregate tonnage of 46,395, and a net tonnage of 37,806. British Columbia led the way in ship building that province being credited with the construction of 253 vessels. Of these 116 were wooden sailing ships; there were wooden steamships, and 134 were metal gas vessels. Nova Scotia constructed 46, of which 16 were wooden sailing vessels and 31 gas. Quebec built 4, Ontario 30, New Brunswick 15 and Manitoba 2.

The report shows that in the 1926 fiscal year the revenue of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine totalled $10,989,437, and the operating expenses $11,079,597, giving a deficit of $90,160. In 1925 the operating loss was $948,053 and in 1924 the deficit totalled $1,440,880.

New Pharaoh Treasures

(British United Press)

EGYPT, Jan. 28. — The glint of gold and the dim outlines of objects are visible at the bottom of a sixty-feet deep shaft at the tomb believed to be that of King Zoser, of the Third Dynasty, at Sakkara, where excavations have been in progress for the past three yaers.

Zoser was the Pharaoh during whose reign occurred the terrible seven years' famine through the flooding of the Nile seven times in succession.

Officials of the Egyptian Government excavating expedition believe that they are on the eve of discoveries which may outshine even the wonders of Tutankhamen's tomb, and which may be of greater importance than anything else found in Egypt.

Scores of untouched tombs and mortuary chapels are believed to lie perhaps only a few inches under the levels of the excavators' picks. Not only may a vast store of Third Dynasty treasures be uncovered, affording a mass of information on a little-known period, but perhaps a solution will be found of the mystery of the boeared race long before the Hyksos period, whose origin has long puzzled Egyptologists.

COL. AMERY VISIONS CANADA AS TRANSCENDENT TO U.S.A.

Urges Using Dominion's Wheat And Minerals To Build Up Export Trade.--Declares Great Possibilities Of Development Exist Here.

MONTREAL, Jan. 28. — Just as Great Britain by utilizing her natural resources of wool and minerals, trading with other nations overseas and carving out an empire, had grown from a smaller, poorer nation and had become a richer, more populous power than her neighbor, France, a homogeneous, compact country, so, he felt sure, Canada, by using her wheat and minerals as great export and building up an import trade with her fellow Dominions might some day transcend her great neighbor to the south, also a compact, self-contained country, Lieutenant Colonel L.C. M. S. Amery told the Canadian Club here today.

Canada, in her development, had the advantage over Britain of a century or two ago in that she had her empire already built. The British Empire was as much Canada's as Britain's. Her ancestors and people had played a part in winning it, in developing it and in saving it in the hour of need.

Colonel Amery paid tribute to the Quebec Act and its authors. It was the foundation stone of the liberty of French Canada. It was a great act brought about when toleration was not a world principle. The principles embodied in it had become cardinal principles of the Empire commonwealth establishing political liberty throughout.

Canada In Ideal Position

There was no more natural audience to whom to speak of Empire affairs than those controlling a great port, he said. Shipping men knew that frontiers were not boundaries. With the Maritime Provinces, Quebec and British Columbia hanging over the Atlantic and Pacific, Canada was in an ideal position for trade. "Be it with South America, South Africa, Eastern Asia, or the ever developing, as I see it, trade with the sister Dominions southward."

After glancing over the history of Canada and Great Britain in Canada recently over a great wilderness seemingly dividing eastern from western Canada had been found to be the great mineral belt of the world. Inventions and research had doubled her great prairie output and in Britain where recent developments showed pulse ran fresh throughout the system, Colonel Amery said: "I may be wrong in being an optimist, but when we look back we see the pessimists were always wrong." Pessimists had said that the few struggling farmers along the Canadian border fighting for self-existence would lose out; later they had said that giving political liberty to Canada would mean she would disappear into the United States, pessimists had predicted that great transcontinental railway systems would not pay for their axle grease. In England they had said that the country was "done and exhausted" a century ago, had suggested giving up the African colonies as worthless encumbrances—a burden and an embarrassment.

Later in the day at a reception tendered by the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Amery declared:

"Possibilities of the development at this time undreamed of await Canada in the future, if Canadians will join with other peoples of the British Empire in exploitation of the great natural heritage of the land linked under Britain's flag."

Made Safe Landing On Pictou Island

(Canadian Press)

PICTOU, N. S., Jan. 28.—The four men who were adrift in Northumberland Straits yesterday afternoon and last night as a result of the small open boat in which they were attempting to carry mail across to Pictou Island having been swept out of its course by ice floes made a safe landing at the Island early this morning through a clear strip of water resulting from the changing tide. The men spent twelve hours in the shifting ice field, and were in great danger of being swept farther out into the strait, where their little craft could not have survived long. The Government ice breaker Montcalm left Souris, P. E. I. last night to attempt a rescue, but was not seen by the occupants of the drifting mail boat. Signals between Pictou Island and the boat were maintained during the night by lights and flashes.

Of the four men caught in the ice floes, one was seventy years of age, going to the Island for a vacation, another was returning home, and two were regular mail carriers.

Taxation Changes Will Be Urged

(Special to The Guardian)

HAMILTON, Ont., Jan. 28.—Extensive changes in federal taxation will be urged on the Government by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, the executive decided at its meetings here today. Abolition of the sales tax as soon as possible with an immediate reduction from four to two per cent was the main point stressed.

Other tax changes, as recommended by the special committee were: That dividends, including stock dividends, received from corporations which have paid income tax on taxable profits be exempt from taxation in the hands of the shareholders. That the personal income tax be reduced as far as possible.

In conclusion, the report added: In making the above requests your committee realizes that the Government must consider revenue needs in taking action. John M. Taylor, past president, presided in the absence of W. S. Fallis, Montreal, the President of the C. M. A. There was a noon luncheon, which was followed by the business meeting.

Comment Of Japanese Newspapers

(Special to the Guardian)

TOKIO, Jan. 28. —The newspaper Kokumin today welcomed the announcement of the coming exchange of ministers between Tokio and Ottawa and expressed hope that it would result in development of economic relations between Canada and Japan, "and therefore between Great Britain and Japan."

Although Kokumin appears to reflect the sentiment of official Japan the vernacular papers express regret at the attempt to "deprive Canadianized Japanese fishermen of their rights", which action is characterized "an insult to the law of Canada and a threat to Japanese—Canadian friendship."

The recent refusal of a Vancouver court to grant citizenship to Japanese residents is also regretted.

Yamato, which is noted as a nationalist paper considers the exchange of ministers should not occur unless accompanied by a concrete expression of friendship.

SWISS URGES CANADA ARM

TORONTO, Jan. 28. — Within 20 years, Canada will regret most sorely that there is no compulsory military training in this country, declared F. G. Christen, of Geneva, Switzerland, who has spent the past four months studying conditions here.

Countries such as Canada, with comparatively small populations, should have at their command a body of trained citizens capable of bearing arms immediately the need arises, Mr. Christen believes. Switzerland, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, and other of the smaller European states had found this to be true, he stated.

Apart from the fact that a trained citizenry was necessary in time of war, Mr. Christen declared, the military training and discipline made for a healthier male population.

In case of sudden aggression he failed to see how Canada could defend herself while awaiting assistance from overseas, he said. He believed that before many years had elapsed, the Canadian people would awaken to the importance of compulsory military training.

Village Sacked By Communists

(Special to the Guardian)

CANTON, Jan. 28.— Advices from the northern borders of Canton received today told of the sacking of two border villages and the murder of 1,500 men, women and children. Four thousand alleged Communists from Honan provinces staged the attack on the villages. No other details were given.

Canton and the province of Kwantung have been the scene of bitter fighting in recent months between Communists and moderate elements among the Nationalists and military leaders in southern China.

Only two months ago the struggle between the conflicting parties resulted in ruthless slaughter particularly during the crushing of a Communist uprising in the city. Between 2,000 and 3,000 persons including at least eleven Russians were estimated to have been killed by the troops of Gen. Chang Fak-Wei who only two weeks before had been driven from the city by the Communists.

In the course of both the Communist uprising and its crushing over a period of about three weeks it was estimated that 5,000 persons were killed on both sides.

Natives Face Extinction

(British United Press)

SYDNEY, New South Wales, Jan. 28.— Declaring that the native races of the mandated territory of New Guinea were in danger of extinction within fifty years if present customs relating to marriage, divorce and childbirth were permitted to continue, a conference representing the New Guinea Administration and missions controlled by six religious denominations appealed to the Australian Government to make sweeping alterations in the existing methods of controlling the natives.

The conference frankly expressed the opinion that polygamy and abuses prevalent among the natives were having a serious effect on the physical fitness of the race. It declared that venereal disease was spreading alarmingly throughout the territory. Heavy child mortality was stated to be caused by too early marriage of women, undernourishment of the people generally lack of cleanliness and disastrous epidemics. It was recommended that native women should be trained as midwives. Under the terms of the mandates it was necessary not to interfere with the native customs, but it would be to the advantage of natives to endeavor to stamp out abuses.

One of the most interesting topics discussed in the conference's report was the question of the adoption of a language for general use: "The thought content of the English language" the report stated, "is beyond the native mind, although the policy of Administration is to encourage the use of English. It is impracticable to use any one of the native languages and the only remaining alternative is the adoption of 'pidgin' English, which in structure and grammar, conforms to the language of the natives. It is easily acquired, and could be enriched and perfected. A committee should take in hand the preparation of a 'pidgin' English grammar and dictionary. 'Pidgin' has been used for translations of the gospels and of the lives of the saints."

HUNDREDS UNDER ARREST IN MEXICO CITY

Religious Questions Again are Flaring Up, With Renewed Police Activity.

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 28. — Religious questions are again flaring up, with renewed police activity in closing Roman Catholic schools alleged to be operating in violation of the laws and in arresting persons said to be engaged in seditious activities.

It is estimated that between 250 and 300 persons have been arrested in the last few days. Four Catholic schools have been closed. Those arrested include both students and teachers.

"Long live Christ the King," some of the students cried, when the police appeared yesterday and closed the Catholic seminary de Regina. The entire student body and the teachers, numbering about 225 were taken to police headquarters, where they were held for examination. The school authorities ordered the students to cease their demonstrations and accept the situation calmly. This was done and the prisoners went away quietly.

Places previously closed during the last few days campaign were the Colegio, Josfino, a Catholic girls' school, where 21 teachers, said to be nuns, were arrested and are still detained, and two smaller Catholic girls schools, the
