

SPORTING NEWS

Life begins at 32 for Lorne Carr, the back, who by currently is leading the N.H.L. scoring list.

In his 14 seasons of hockey Carr has always been recognized as a fine player. But he wasn't credited the greatness until this season. Now, he's not to be denied—and if he continues his current scoring clip he'll rank with the all-time scoring greats of hockey.

Lorne Carr was born away back in 1917. He liked Calgary so well that it's now his home. In 1930 he turned pro with the Vancouver Canucks, and it wasn't long before he came east to start, serving a long sentence with the New York Americans.

Carr gave his best for the Americans last season. He led the club in scoring, and he was the only player to score in every game. He was the only player to score in every game.

Strangely enough, it's the first time that Carr has ever headed a scoring list in any league—and he likes the feeling. Carr says that one thing has boosted him up the ladder—it just seems that everything is clicking right.

Carr is only one of four Calgarians on the Maple Leaf team. One of the others is his linemate, Sweeney Schriner. The other two are Jack Forsey and George Boothman.

The transportation problem caught up with the Maple Leafs with a vengeance in Montreal the other night. Carr says that a game against Canadiens they couldn't get transportation from the rink to the station—so they hoofed it. Bucko McDonald ran into a bit of trouble during the hike. Bucko, tired of walking, hailed a passing motorist and asked for a lift. The motorist apparently was a hockey fan—and a good Montreal fan, too.

"Going to the station?" asked Bucko. The motorist took a close look at "you, no," he snapped.

With so many champions and other top-notch fighters in the armed services, it is hard to figure just what will happen to the ring sport in 1943.

For better or worse, the New York Impresario, Miltie Jacobs, has been the head man of the fight sport for the past few years. All the top fighters of recent years have been under his protection. If you were a good swimmer and aspired to travel the trail to fame and fortune you'd go under the direction of Miltie Jacobs or else the road was made so rocky that you probably gave up in disgust before getting very far.

Such a monopoly as Jacobs has had on boxing is not good for any sport and that is probably one of the reasons that the fight game has been harder hit by the war than some of the other sports.

But that Jacobs may be losing his monopoly was evidenced by the Detroit boxing Jimmy Edgar and Jake LaMotta.

When Edgar and LaMotta met for the first time several months ago in New York and under the promotional banner of Jacobs, the observers called it the best fight of the year—a roaring slugfest from start to finish.

Jacobs planned to re-match the two in New York some time early this year. But Wack Londez, matchmaker for Detroit, beat the New York promoter to the punch and got the bout for Detroit. Once again Edgar and LaMotta met on a great battle. It was one of the best fights of the year. The best to be staged in Detroit in years.

Londez had to guarantee LaMotta $2,000 to fight Edgar in the latter's home town. A total of 3,884 fans paid $10,856.40 to see under the crowd and the same show would have attracted in New York. But for Londez and Detroit it is a firm step in the right direction. It proves that if you give the fans what they want they will favor you with their support.

Our City League Hockey Games Here This Week

The City League Hockey which has been giving Charlottetown fans games that do not lack quality will this week add quantity to their bag of tricks.

Four games, two to be played at the Forum and two at St. Dunstan's University rink, will be run off during the week and each and every contest promises to be a battle royal as the teams fight for points that will secure them a berth in the playoffs which start Feb. 19th.

As the University team plays only five games to nine for each of the other teams in the league this evening's contest will be worth four points to the winner.

The Airforce boys who have yet to gain a place in the victory column are out for a win to-night as it would show them into second position in the league standing and one point behind the first place Y.M.C.A. and Navy squads.

The last time the Airforce played a league game was three weeks ago when they bowed to the Y.M.C.A. by a 2-2 score. However, in that contest many of their star players were absent and at this evening's clash fans will see them up to full length again with their backs to the line up.

Little is known of the University squad but if they put forth a team equal to that of the Airforce they are one point behind the first place Y.M.C.A. and Navy boys will have a fast and lively line in three quarters while the other boys will have a fast and lively line in three quarters while the other boys will have a fast and lively line in three quarters.

On Tuesday night the R.A.F. will again take to the ice, this time at the Charlottetown Forum, when they clash with the fast and smooth working Prince of Wales College aggregation which in their only league game to date downed the Army team in a smashing 8-2 victory.

One of the largest crowds of the season is expected to witness this four point contest as both teams are felt to be evenly matched and a win for either of them will go a long way towards gaining a position in the play offs.

On Thursday night the Army team which has been improving every game will again take on the Sailors from H.M.C.S. Queen Charlotte. These two teams fought it out last Tuesday night at the Forum with the Navy coming out on top on an 8-2 score but after witnessing the soldiers against the Y.M.C.A. on Friday, the return match is anyone's victory.

St. Dunstan's second game of the league and of the week will take place Friday night at the Forum when they meet the powerful Y.M.C.A. team. A win for the Square brigs coached crew will mean a sixth straight win for the team and would give them undisputed leadership in the race for league honours.

The officials of the league, of the Charlottetown Forum at St. Dunstan's University and members of all six league teams are endeavouring to give visiting servicemen and citizens entertainment through their winter nights by operating the City Hockey League.

Canadiens Hand Bruins 7-2 Lacing

MONTREAL, Jan. 10 (CP)—Anyone who had the desire to make up excuses for the Boston Bruins would find it hard to account for the 7-2 defeat handed the Bruins by Montreal Canadiens in a National Hockey League game here Saturday night.

Actually there is no excuse to offer for the Boston team for the Canadiens put on such a fine showing of hockey that the Bruins were outclassed from start to finish.

Corbett Drillon set up the first two goals in the first period, the first after three minutes of play on assists from Glen Harmon and Buddy O'Connor. Near the midway mark Bill Cowley drew a penalty—his first of the season—and Drillon was again taking passes from Drillon, Hiller and O'Connor, establishing a 2-0 lead.

Wings Score Shutout Over Maple Leafs

TORONTO, Jan. 10 (CP)—Detroit Red Wings defeated the Leafs 4-0 Saturday before 11,568 fans, in handing the league's highest-scoring team its first shutout.

Capitain Syd Howe opened the scoring at 6:41 of the third period, using Harry Watson and Mud Bruneteau as decoys as he swept in with only Bucko McDonald and Eddie Wares tailed before the period ended. Watson sandwiched another between Wares' two scoring thrusts. Wings outshot Leafs over the full distance 46-37.

The shutout was the season's third for Johnny Mowers, Detroit netminder who is leading the league in shutouts with a wide margin. He gave him a 3-1 edge in that department over Broda, who has recorded the season's only other shutout.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (CP)—Montreal Canadiens pushed the down-trodden New York Rangers right through the cellar and into the basement of the National Hockey League tonight by romping to an easy 7-4 victory before 13,375 cash customers in Madison Square Garden.

The victory moved the Canadiens out of immediate danger of relegation to the bottom of the heap, for it dropped the Rangers three points deep in the cellar and made their hopes of hitting the Stanley Cup playoffs about as rosy as Rommel's African affair.

"Dear Mother: I am well and hope you got my last letter before this. It will be a "red letter day" for me when I hear from you. Do not worry about me. I get enough to eat. We get quite a bit of food from the Red Cross, also 35 cigarettes per week. Let Lorne know my address and tell him to write to me. You can get information from the Red Cross about what you can send me. I think you can send me some books to read. They have classes here in different subjects but suppose I shall soon have to go to work. Some of the fellows here have been here since Greece. The treatment of prisoners here is very good. Write as often as you can. The number of letters we can write is limited so I will send them all to you. There is not much news. Do not worry—it is all in the game. Love, Fulton"
