FOUR NEW SHIPS FOR SERVICE

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 27.—In his speech recently, at a banquet given by the Board of Trade, Sir Thomas Shaughnessy announced that the steamers Empress of Ireland and Empress of Britain, now part of the C. P. R. Atlantic fleet, might shortly be expected at Victoria to take part in the Trans-Pacific trade.

The statement of the Canadian Pacific president that the two Atlantic Empresses will go to the Pacific for the Orient service is held here to indicate that a decision has been practically arrived at to establish on the Atlantic a faster service than is now given.

The question has been under consideration for more than two years but action was delayed first by the movement for the establishment of a new "All-Red" route, and second by a naval emergency which has prevailed during the greater part of the year.

The removal of the Atlantic Empresses to the Pacific Ocean is interpreted as meaning that four new Empresses will be built for the Atlantic—faster than the present steamers—and that the management has the assurance of substantial Government subsidy in the form of remuneration for carrying mail.

HIS PRISON TERM NETS HIM $19,000

Shrewd Yukon Steamer Watchman Realized This Sum Through Compromise With Police—Stole $69,000 Gold Bricks.

SEATTLE, Oct. 27.—"Bobbie" Miller has returned after eighteen months spent at McNeill's Island Federal prison, and six weeks at Fairbanks, Alaska.

Pursuing a definite plan, Miller, two years ago, took $69,000 in gold bricks from a Yukon steamer, of which he was night watchman, substituting birdshot. Knowing always that he would be caught, he carted $50,000 under a warehouse on the Chena River. The balance he carted elsewhere.

Miller was assured he would get the nearest thing to life sentence that aaskan court could give. "All right," smiled Miller, "no brick for a two year sentence. The bank wanted the other $19,000, but no judgment moved him. He had figured that as his home stake. He won, being given a Marshall and a led the United States Marshal and he led the worried bankers across the Chena and told them where to dig. They found their share and Miller was taken to the government penitentiary where by model conduct he cut down his time to eighteen months. Then he went into Fairbanks, trailed by detectives as the insurance company which still had to make good for $19,000 worth of gold he had cashed for himself. And now, despite detectives and other hindrances, he is back with a nicely titled paper for the mint value of the balance he held. He announces that when the opportunity comes he will hide his name and his past, and with stake in hand, go somewhere where his ability for finance may have full swing
