

SIR WM. MACDONALD TO MEET BROTHER AFTER 60 YEARS

Brother Who Left P. E. I. 59 Years Ago Now Living in a Scow House in Portland, Ore., Making Living as Bill Collector— Tells of Blue-eyed Sweetheart.

On Monday, January 16th, last, a three column headed article appeared in The Guardian in which the first news was given to the reading public and to many of the immediate relatives of the re-appearance in the western portion of the continent, James Macdonald, the millionaire tobacco king of Montreal. The subject of the article, for nearly a quarter of a century, had lived in far distant California, on the Pacific coast, without knowledge of the home of his childhood, and his once familiar face was but a memory to his friends. Since the first revelation to the world of the whereabouts of the aged emigrant, the facts published in The Guardian have gone throughout the press of Canada and the United States and have obtained continental wide publicity. The leading great American dailies have given such space to the story and the hero of the tale has been interviewed by newspaper men on many occasions.

The following which appeared a few days ago in a leading New York journal is a sequel to The Guardian story of January 16th.

SUMMERSIDE LADY HOCKEYISTS WIN

SUMMERSIDE, Feb. 4.—(Special)—Are we in it? Well I guess, Alpha-Alphas, yes, yes, yes. We are the girls—we make the fuss—who are the others—Don't ask us. Rah, rah, rah—Ray, ray, ray. We are the girls of the A. A. A.

minutes the Alphas evened the score. Thus the first half ended. In the second half the Mienas after about fourteen minutes play again led by one and at three minutes before time the Alphas again made the count equal. In the play-off of ten minutes which followed no goals were scored. It took about four minutes of a five minute play-off to decide the game when the Alphas shot two goals in quick succession. During the second half of the game Hope Massey was laid off for six minutes caused by a weak spell, and in the last play-off she was again laid aside for the remainder of the game. In the first five minutes of the play-off Helen Mitchell was also obliged to retire for the remainder of the game and Cassie Matheson of the Alphas retired to even the number. When Miss Massey dropped out the second time Miss Earle of the Mienas also retired leaving the balance of the game to be played with five on each side. Towards the close Blanche Grady received a slight injury which stopped the game for about a minute.

FROM THE PROMENADE.

The rink was crowded with enthusiastic lovers of the sport, and many others who never before saw a game of hockey, much less between two teams of girls—this being the first female contest in P. E. Island hockey.

During the last few minutes of the game the Alphas were without Hope. At half time the ladies' room resembled an hospital, though nobody felt the least bit ill.

Use only Catarrhzone, complete outfit. $1.00; sample size 25c.

Individual criticism would hardly be fair, remembering that the players are ladies. Skirts seemed an awkward dress sometimes but they were convenient for stopping the puck. Broken sticks. Yes, broken sticks. There was nothing unlike hockey. The Charlottetown girls are heavier than the Alphas. But then weight does not always count. Good things are often done up in small parcels.

Lemons, etc., were the usual stimulant. The Alphas gave the visiting team a supper at the Mawley House after the game. There was the customary toasting. The girls know how. And the Misses Mawley know how. There was a happy time.

NO REASONABLE MAN expects to cure a neglected cold in a day. But time and Allen's Lung Balm will overcome the cold and stave off consumption. Cough will cease and lungs be as sound as a new dollar.

The public are appreciating in a very practical manner our every day market. They know if too busy or overlook market day, that their wants can be supplied just as well the next day. Then again we have a daily market right along side. Of course we make vegetables a specialty but we would also draw your attention to some other lines. That honey from Newson's farm, only a limited quantity left. Our own production of tomatoes in cans, going fast. Also the very superior brand of canned peas, butter beans, corn, etc. Miscellaneous—Parsley, lettuce, cabbage, turnips, beets, carrots, parsnips, onions, potatoes, apples by the peck, hand picked beans, pearl barley, split peas, yellow eyed beans to arrive shortly. Cheese wholesale and retail. Etc.—J. J. Gay & Son, east end market, Charlottetown. Telephone 270, market; 150, residence. 1111.

EXCITEMENT ON QUEEN STREET

There was considerable excitement on Lower Queen Street and the vicinity last night shortly after 8 o'clock and quite a large number of spectators were attracted to that locality. The principals were William McKinnon, a saloon keeper at the corner of Kent and Queen, and another named James McDougall. The trouble started when McKinnon smashed a number of panes of glass in the office of T. B. Riley in the Riley Building. While the destruction was in progress Councillor D. J. Riley came on the scene and it is alleged that both McKinnon and McDougall attacked him. The combat waxed warm for some time but finally the assailants were put to flight. Counc. Riley pursued McKinnon who fled up one of the side streets, and managed to capture him near W. K. Rogers Co's office on Great George. Here they struggled till the arrival of Officer Walker who had been telephoned for. McKinnon was taken in charge and shortly afterwards Officers Walker and Carter arrested McDougall. Both will come up for trial this morning on charges of drunkenness and assault on Mr. Riley.

A wrecking train was sent out shortly after one o'clock and worked all day and through the night bit up to midnight the engine has not again been righted.

BLAIR'S RESIGNATION WAS DISCUSSED YESTERDAY

OTTAWA, Feb. 3.—(Special)—The proceedings in the House today were of some what sensational nature when the discussion turned on Mr. Blair's resignation. The Government had introduced a bill providing that Judges may be appointed to the Railway Commission; that they can only be removed after impeachment by both Houses and that upon retiring they shall have the same privileges and allowance as if they had remained on the Bench. Justice Killam was selected to fill the vacancy. This bill was opposed by the Opposition and several members denounced the Government policy in Blair's appointment to such an important position after he had been refused confidence in the Grand Trunk Pacific deal. This led to a demand for enquiry into Mr. Blair's resignation on which subject many Opposition members censured the Government. Hence Logan, Liberal, replying, accused the Opposition of being in league with a man in Montreal who formed a plot with Blair to overthrow the Government. He said The Montreal Star had announced that Blair would go on the stump for the Opposition before the Government knew anything of Hon. Mr. Blair's resignation. Mr. Logan closed by declaring that the Government would shortly know more of the affair. Mr. Bennett read charges in Ottawa

Events regarding the alleged theft of The St. John Telegraph by David Russell and involving Mr. Blair. These charges involving a Liberal ex-Minister formed another reason why the Government should not refuse an investigation. He quoted Hon. Mr. Emmerson's interview in the Montreal Herald with its insinuations that Mr. Borden was mixed up with Russell and Greenshields in the conspiracy as another reason and warned the Premier that he would dangerously offend public feeling in Ontario if he refused. Logan interjected, "you'll get all the investigation you want," and Bennett took occasion to warn Sir Wilfrid that if the matter was brought before the Committee of Privileges and Elections he should change its chairman, as present chairman, Mr. Logan, had been mixed up with a peculiar attempt to vote improperly in a recent election in Ottawa and was hardly fit for the position. The Premier and Ministers made no response to any of these demands. Alex. Johnson of Cape Breton quoted copiously from Conservative newspaper comments on Blair's resignation and claimed that these showed that Conservatives had inside knowledge not in possession of the Government. He was called to order several times by the Opposition but the Speaker refused to interfere. Other speakers omitted any reference to the Blair incident and confined themselves to a resolution and House which had been very disorderly, quieted down.

REV. MR. FULLERTON'S LECTURE

A crowded hall greeted Rev. T. F. Fullerton last evening in St. James school room to hear his lecture upon the Japan-Russia war. After giving a synopsis of the war between Japan and China, and explaining how after the war Germany, France and Russia came in and robbed Japan of her victories, the lecturer gave an account of the principal engagements at the opening of the present war. The subject dealt with was principally the naval engagements that have occurred since the opening of the war in February last. The views shown gave vivid illustrations of a number of the men of war in battle. A number of the principal Japanese and Russian naval and army commanders were also shown and short descriptions of each were given. The learned lecturer stated when Admiral Togo's picture was put on the screen, that Presbyterians were noted for being good fighters and that Admiral Togo being a Presbyterian has illustrated that fact admirably in the present war. The second part of the lecture dealing with the engagements before Port Arthur, the surrender of the Russian fortress, will be given on Feb. 14th next and doubtless a large audience will be present as last night.

AN ADMIRALTY LORD BOASTS OF THE NAVY

LONDON, Feb. 24.—(Special)—A speech delivered in Hampshire, village of Eastleigh by Arthur Hamilton Lee, Lord of the Admiralty, creates a sensation. In dealing with Great Britain's recent redistribution of naval forces Mr. Lee admitted that Britain had not so much to look towards France and the Mediterranean as to the North Sea and fleets had been distributed so as to enable them to deal with any danger in that direction. Should war be declared under existing conditions the British navy would strike its blow first before the other side had time to react that war had been declared. He asserted that by recent naval reforms Great Britain's strength as a naval power has been doubled in the past few weeks. London papers suggest that Premier Balfour should put a muzzle on Mr. Lee.
