"NOTHING BUT TROUBLE" IS MERRY NEW FUNTEST FARRING LAUREL-HARDY

The Laugh Parade is in town these days and Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy are its drum majors. That means there's a gale of laughs at the Prince Edward Theatre where the angular Stan and the round Ollie are appearing in "Nothing But Trouble."

Tossed out of job after job as a family in-laws and thereby butler-chef team, the comedians find themselves in demand because of the manpower shortage and are hired by socially ambitious Mrs. Hawkey, played by Mary Boland.

Their first assignment is to serve a dinner to the guardian of a young king-in-exile and thereby hangs a tale of one of the funniest movies to hit the Prince Edward Theatre screen in many months. Stan and Ollie meet the young ruler without being aware of his identity and mistake him for a homeless walf. The lad, tired of being guarded and preferring the freedom of the average American lad, doesn't disillusion them. Eventually the trio learns that the guardian, Prince Saul, is plotting to do away with the king and become the ruler himself.

The film takes them all through a hilarious series of events which sees them get things right only after the kind of rib-tickling misunderstanding Stan and Ollie always have been famous for.

Having just returned from a flight out into the blue yonder, these lads various Maritime Air Cadet Sqdns. are attending a special N. C. O. Instructors' Summer Camp Course at R.C.A.F. Station, Summerside, P.E.I. this week. The course includes an intensive study in drill, physical training, discipline among other subjects. Right to left they are: A. W. MacDonald, M. E. Delroy, and W. D. Sherran, all of Charlottetown, P.E.I. (R.C.A.F. Photo)

Surplus Airmen's Equipment for Sale

MONTREAL, Aug. 2 - Articles of airmen's equipment appealing alike to Dad and Junior will soon appear in Canadian shops from Halifax and Charlottetown to Victoria and Vancouver following a national distribution through wholesalers by War Assets Corporation. It was announced today. Flying helmets, gauntlets, flying goggles and men's leather belts are included in a list of goods declared surplus by the R.C.A.F.

Leather flying helmets—30,000 in this lot—are lined with chamomile, equipped with straps for adjustment and security. Made to provide protection in sub-zero temperatures, these helmets would be welcome in the Prairies or in woods country in winter time, but they also have an appeal for kiddies playing airman, and even suggest use as boys' football helmets.

Airmen's gauntlets, numbering 15,000 pairs, are lined, being designed to come with extreme cold at high altitudes. They, too, are useful for out-of-doors men working in low temperatures.

The airmen's goggles are padded and useful for driving in any season. Belts have been in short supply in men's shops and 20,000 now going to market should assist in welcome in the Prairies or in woods country in winter time, but they also have an appeal for kiddies playing airman, and even suggest use as boys' football helmets.

These goods were sent to War Assets Corporation, Reclamation Depot at Valleyfield, Quebec, checked for condition and packed for distribution to the wholesalers.

Baptist Sunday School Hold Annual Picnic

The Baptist Sunday School held its annual picnic Wednesday afternoon at the camp grounds at Marsfield.

The weather was ideal and a very large number of the Sunday School children, along with their parents and adult members of the church and congregation were transported to the grounds by bus and cars.

Swimming, games, races and softball were enjoyed to the limit by young and old, and a well stocked canteen catered to the hungry and thirsty ones. The General Chairman was Superintendent, Mr. E. R. Rupert, who was assisted by Richard MacLean, Oscar Diamond, Ham MacCann, Chester Brehaut, and Louis Simmons.

The supper arrangements left nothing to be desired and were under the capable direction of Mrs. J. P. Campbell.
