F. C. ELFORD

other countries, United States, England and Italy, were all extremely anxious to have the Congress, Canada was successful in securing it for 1927.

On of the reasons why this was possible was because of the splendid showing which Canada made in her National Exhibition at Barcelona, it being the most attractive exhibit from any foreign country. The birds which were shown displayed such vigour and strong constitution that they were almost a sensation to the 27 other countries represented at the Congress. Further in these birds there were those not only with standard bred qualities, but there were birds that had qualified in Registration and Record of Performance, the product of Canada's national encouragement of breeding for egg production.

What the Congress Will Mean to Canada

It is expected that the Congress will be the largest world gathering that Canada has ever seen. It will be the largest poultry gathering in the whole world, in all probability there will be several thousand delegates from outside of Canada, many of them coming across the water. From 20 to 40 different countries are expected to be represented by delegates and exhibits.

The bringing together of so many influential visitors from the leading countries of the world will mean a great deal to Canada, just in the advertising value of the fact alone. There is also the general stimulus which this meeting will give to the poultry industry here in Canada, an industry that already has had almost phenomenal development during the past decade. It will mean considerable to the further development of an export trade in breeding cockerels. The Congress at Barcelona and after the Wembley Exhibit in England, advertised Canada's cockerels as nothing has ever done, inasmuch that during the past two years Canada has shipped bred-to-lay cockerels to many countries of the globe. It is expected that the Congress coming to Canada will do a great deal to establish an export trade in these government guaranteed, northern grown cockerels, which will mean not a little to this country.

There is a further advantage Canada expects to secure, and probably this will have the most far-reaching effects of any, and that advantage has increased immigration. Many of the delegates will be government officials, editors and writers, and men and women engaged in extension work in their own countries, largely in Great Britain. There is no doubt such people coming to Canada and being given the opportunity to see this country will go back home to preach Canada as a good place to live in.

To What Extent are You Interested?

There are three points I want to mention very briefly under this heading, and they are, (a) your attendance at the Congress, (b) the Exhibit which the province may make, and (c) the visitors who will see your province as tourists driving through on their way to Ottawa, or as foreign delegates who might be brought here after the

ATTENDANCE

Every province should be represented with as large an attendance at the Congress as possible. There are reasons why this is very desirable, it is a good thing for the province to have the people who are interested in the province, able to see the many influential visitors from such a number of countries. From a national standpoint it is important that we have a large attendance at the Congress, this is Canada's congress, and we want to keep it Canadian. It is reported that there will be 2,500 delegates at least from the United States. It is not desirable that the delegates from outside of America go back home high in their praises of only the United States. Canada must have as many delegates at this Congress as all other countries together, and in order to have them we must depend on the individual provinces sending a large number. This is not a poultry convention it is a world gathering.

EXHIBITS

An opportunity such as the Congress will give to this country to show the rest of the world what Canada has in poultry should be made use of to the fullest extent. It must be demonstrated that the class of poultry which was taken, in a few numbers to Barcelona, is represented in Canada by the thousands of Millions. It is desirable, therefore, that the National Exhibit of live poultry have not only the quality but quantity as well. There will be two divisions in this national exhibit, an educational display and the live bird exhibit. In the former each province will exhibit its own national story of poultry development. In the latter the live bird exhibit, the birds who stayed together will bear the name of the breeder and the province, so both will get full advertising.

In addition to these National exhibits an opportunity will be given for each province to stage an exhibit of its own, this exhibit to show what work is being carried on in the province. There will be no objection that in the literature there is included information as to what a good province this is for settlers. Mr. Edward Brown of London, England, President of the World's Poultry Congress, when driving through the Maritime Provinces in June expressed himself as delighted with the country, and wanted to know why people from a country so much like their own, and where they would feel so much like their own, and where they would feel so much at home. It is hoped that this province will provide this opportunity of telling the rest of the world what you have here.

Visitors to the Province

There will be two opportunities given for visitors to Canada to see the Maritime Provinces. The first will be before the Congress opens, when it is expected that many United States tourists who come to the Congress by car will be induced to travel through the Maritime Provinces enroute to Ottawa. The second one will be after the Congress is over, when it is hoped that a hand picked train load of influential delegates will be given the opportunity of seeing the Maritime Provinces, along with the other provinces of Canada.

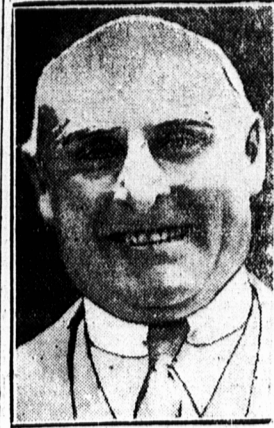

Tourists by Car

This trip as tentatively outlined for U. S. tourists is to bring them in at St. Stephens on to St. John, and have them leave their cars there, the province of Nova Scotia to see to their transportation from Digby via Halifax to Pictou, from the province of Prince Edward Island to look after them on the Island and for the province of New Brunswick to provide transportation from Tormentine to St. John, where they will pick up their cars and proceed up the St. John river to the Quebec border. Briefly this makes a trip from, say, Boston to Ottawa a trip of over 1700 miles, and approximately 14 days time.

In the Maritime Provinces alone, counting ferries from St. John, Halifax, P. E. I., and back to St. John 800 miles with an estimate of five days time, or a weeks time in taking in this trip as far as the Quebec border. It gives approximately to each province in the Maritime: N. S. 350 miles and 3 days; P. E. I. 100 or more miles and 1 day; N. B. about 300 miles and one full week. I expect to meet many of the prospective U. S. tourists next month, and want to tell them what you are doing to induce them to take this trip.

Seeing Canada by Train

The question of say two hundred picked delegates, seeing Canada has not yet been definitely settled but it is expected that arrangements will be made, the dates that they would be here being approximately the early part of the second week

Provincial Baseball League Tonight

At the Abegweit grounds this evening at 8 o'clock the Abegweit and Summerside will meet in the third game of the Provincial Baseball League.

The westerners are coming down strong and are in first form to annex the game and intend to go back to the western capital with their first victory in the League tucked under their belt.

The Abbies are confident they can again come through with a win and are equally determined that they shall go through the series without a single defeat.

So that with both aggregations working at top speed the fans are assured of something good in the Baseball line.

Westville Man Defeats Marathon King

(Special to the Guardian) ANTIGONISH, July 22.—James Westville of Westville captured the 5 mile race here yesterday, defeating J. C. Miles, the Marathon King, who came second.

Angus McDonald of Antigonish was third. The track was heavy on account of a big rain which threatened to postpone the games. About 4,000 people attended packing the new grandstand to the limit and besides crowding the field.

Miles was given an ovation when he was introduced to which he fittingly replied.

Dan R. Chisholm, holder of two dominion championships, was defeated by McGillivray of Westville in 220 but won the 440 yd. run easily.

Miles will run Friday in Yarmouth, N. S.

In August. The suggestion is that the delegates be brought from Ottawa east by one railroad, then returned to Ontario and on to the coast by the other railroad and brought back to Toronto by the first railroad and left at the Canadian National Exhibition which opens in Toronto August 27th.

Provincial Committee

This province has a local Congress committee with the Commissioner of Agriculture as chairman and his Deputy as Secretary. This committee will be glad to answer any questions upon the matter. Upon this committee will be many men representing various live organizations interested in the welfare of this province.

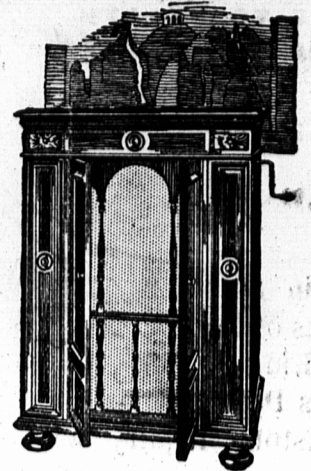

President J. A. Webster, of the Rotary Club said that although the matter was one mainly for the local government he felt sure that with consulting the other members that the Rotary and Motor League will do all they can to assist in this matter.

Rotarian R. L. Cotton was in the chair and the guests were Rotarian Sidney Bonnell, Messrs. George Lightizer, Roland Phillipson and A. B. Cosh. The musical program included excellent solos by Mr. Phillipson and Miss Wheeler both of whom were entered.

Rotarian C. H. Chandler on behalf of the picnic committee announced that the annual picnic will be held at the Cliff Hotel, Wednesday, August 4th was fixed as the date.

An electric sander for removing varnish or polishing hardwoods is claimed to perform in an hour work that would require a day if done by hand.

The Music Itself! is what you hear in its true beauty when the Orthophonic Victrola plays

"Where's the band?" —And with that query a squad of railroad workers in a little Quebec village craned its necks to "see the parade". The music was coming from a new Orthophonic Victrola in a neighboring home. In Winnipeg, the other day, a prominent organist stopped in the street to listen to the strains of pipe organ music floating from a window above. Mystified—led on by the touch of a master organist, he followed the music to its source, a new Orthophonic Victrola.
