

"WHISTLE, GIRLS, it makes lovely, tempting lips"

JULIA FOSTER picks up a new exercise that moulds the mouth into youthful lines.

WHISTLE!

Here's a stunt for keeping lovely lips kissable. Whistle! Whether or not you can make a noise, pucker up your lips and try to whistle two to five minutes a day. An expert told me this can do more to chase away mouth lines and keep lips up-standing than any other exercise she knows.

Beauty in a test-tube

OLIVE OIL for the complexion! Always known to keep skin, soft, supple, youthful. But can you get enough olive oil in soap? There is the exact amount—in that test-tube at the right. To this generous olive oil content can be directly traced the great benefits of Palmolive Soap to the complexion.

Do you know what is in the soap you are putting on your face? Palmolive tells you. Palmolive is the only large-selling soap made of vegetable oils exclusively. Other Palmolive ingredients are simply palm oils necessary to produce a richer, creamier, more workable lather than possible with olive oil alone.

Over 20,000 of the world's leading beauty experts have for years urged the use of Palmolive Soap.

Julia Foster is employed by Palmolive to report last-minute beauty news. She talks with experts, attends beauty conventions, visits smart restaurants, clubs, theatres. Watch for her next beauty news.

Commissioner Reveals Facts Regarding Railway Finances

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 15.—(By The Canadian Press)—"In all the period between 1918 and 1931, putting debits and credits together, we (referring to the Canadian National Railways) have never earned enough money to pay coal, oil and wages. We've never paid one cent to capital," declared Sir Joseph Flavelle, member of the Royal Commission on Transportation, tonight. Sir Joseph was commenting on the evidence of A. R. Mosher, spokesman for the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees, following the latter's submission. A general discussion on the merits and demerits of public ownership was precipitated in which Mr. Mosher strongly defended government-controlled railways.

"Ownership on the present, huge scale by the public was a war relic," Sir Joseph asserted. In 1915 Canada was confronted with immense responsibilities in the discharge of her war obligations. No money could be borrowed in New York or England, and the Government was faced with heavy burdens relating to the railways. Instead of turning the roads over to a receiver, the Government took them in charge, thus reversing the procedure of the United States.

Enlarging upon the statement that the publicly owned road, in spite of having met its obligations in respect of bonds held by the public over a period of five years; had not paid "one cent to capital," Sir Joseph asked Mr. Mosher if he was going to put all the Canadian roads in that position. (Mr. Mosher had advocated Government-ownership of the railways).

The Brotherhood spokesman contended that that position was a result of the Government having taken over roads which had been bankrupted by private ownership.

In the course of the discussion Sir Joseph Flavelle took occasion to deny a former remark by one of the railwaymen's spokesmen who asserted that, from his information, the government had taken over the old Canadian Northern because the "Canadian Bank of Commerce had been heavily involved." That statement, Sir Joseph declared was absolutely wrong.

The discussion developed when Mr. Loree declared that between 1930 and 1931 the return to capital on railway investment had increased only about 75 per cent, while the return to labor had risen about 1200 per cent. The improvement to capital was not commensurate with that to labor, contended Mr. Loree.

Sir Joseph Flavelle declared that since 1918 the Canadian National Railways had never paid "one penny to the country."
