DOWN - THE - BACK STRETCH

J. W. Boulter, Secretary of the Provincial Exhibition returned Monday evening from the Royal Winter Fair, Toronto where he attended a meeting of the Canadian Fairs Association and consulted with heads of Exhibitions from all over Canada. He reports the "Royal" as good as ever.

Hedley T. Fulton, Upper Stewiacke, N. S., who sold Jane Azoff 1.59 3-4 and another speedster raced for him by Dr. H. M. Parshall this season, purchased two yearlings at Walnut Hall Farm's sale at Lexington in September, afterwards selling them. It is understood that he has recently bought them back and they will be trained by Dr. Parshall at Urbana, Ohio. We would hate to think of Hedley quitting the harness game, but of course would prefer to see him racing a stable in the Maritimes.

Jane Azoff 1.59 3-4, large chestnut mare, first of the two-minute brigade to find residence here, is attracting considerable attention when she appears on the streets driven by Willard Kelly. The purchase of a free-for-aller by C. H. Horton of Prince Edward Island has turned the thoughts of other Maritimers in the same direction, and an effort is being made by parties in Sydney to bring in Laurel Hanover 1.59 1-2. Parties in Halifax and Moncton are also negotiating for free-for-allers. If they buy quite a nice field will be available.

The market for future racing material in the form of yearlings was stronger in New York last week than 1937 which was the best the sport had ever known. Higher average prices were realized by Hanover Shoe and the Village Farms than any previous year. Nineteen yearlings brought $1,000 and over, the top price being $8,100 for Edgar Hanover. Seven of the nineteen were sired by Guy McKinney 1.58 3-4, five by Chuck 2.04, four by Abbedale 2.01 1-4 and one each by Spencer 1.59 3-4, His Majesty 1.59 3-4 and Sandy Flash 2.14 1-4.

Frank Adams, well known horseman of Halifax, purchased two yearlings at the Old Glory last week. This will be good news for Billy Hood, Frank's trainer, who is keen on young stuff.

Dillon Hall 2.00, son of The Laurel Hall 2.06 3-4 and the former pacing queen Margaret Dillon 1.58 1-4, has been purchased by parties in New Zealand and will start on his way to the Antipodes next week.

Jim Jordan, popular Maine reinsman, had the most winning heats in New England and the Maritimes, landing first 88 times. A few years ago it was Pearce Chappelle that topped the reinsmen in Maine, then it was Harry Clukey's turn, now Jim Jordan is "it".

There is talk of the world's champion trotter Greyhound 1.55 and the world's champion pacing mare Her Ladyship 1.56 3-4, making the long trek to New Zealand for a series of exhibition miles down there. Far away New Zealand and Australia too, have increased their interest in harness horse racing tremendously the past five years. Good tracks, good purses and large crowds have done the trick.

Roy Miller, former great reinsman and one of the keenest judges of horses in the United States, has purchased the following fast record performers for shipment to Denmark:—Silver Prince 2.05 1-4, Royal Tartan 2.07 3-4, Sunny Morn 2.07 1-2, Sir Peter Britton 2.04 3-4, Ziggidy 2.08, Ann Dillon 2.09, Filena 2.09 1-2, Lottie Hanover 2.09 1-4, Pearl McElwyn 2.12 and Vic McElwyn 2.12 1-4.

Charles Martens of Belgium, purchased quite a number of trotters at the Indianapolis sale two weeks ago. O. Corbeil & Company of Montreal, also bought several head including Smackover C. Grattan, p. 2.08 1-2, five-year-old bay gelding by Grattan at Law, Mickey Grattan p. 2.08 1-2, six-year-old gelding by Grattan at Law, Cochato Hal, p. 2.12 1-2, Lord Parrish (4) 2.08 3-4, Strathwood Roy, p. 2.04 1-2, an eight-year-old stallion, Rivetta's Guy 2.09, six-year-old stallion, Addie Hanover (3) 2.04 1-4, Evelyn Azof (4) 2.07 1-2, and some unmarked trotters and pacers.

The top figure of the two days sale was $12,100, paid by Leo McNamara of Indianapolis for Vesta Hanover (3) 2.00 3-4, formerly owned by John E. Kelly, Bangor, Maine, but last year in the stable of Sep Palin. The Indianapolis sale is a popular one with Canadian and Maine buyers, although there were very few sales to the potato state this year; probably things are not so good up there as we understand the blight struck the potato crop causing extensive damage, and anything that registers adversely on potatoes affects horse racing, as the potato kings enjoy the sport and when good times are on, buy speed.

Vic Fleming, Canadian reinsman now located at Syracuse, N. Y., has added the Indiana pacing sensation of 1938, Harry Dewey 2.05 to his string. In 23 engagements over a two-year stretch, he has been fifteen times first, five times second and never worse than fourth.

"Doc" Parshall, who had Jane Azoff 1.59 3-4 in his stable this season, has, according to the records of 1938, three of the four top money winners in the colt classes, and in each case they have won over $10,000. Peter Astra 2.02 1-2, sensational juvenile trotter, won $10,308, Blackstone (2) 2.03, leading race record and money winning juvenile pacer of the year becomes the greatest money winning two-year-old pacer in history on his season's earnings of $14,954, and Chief Counsel (3) 1.57 3-4, won ten of his eleven races and headed the money winners in his class by earning $10,220.

B. C. Mayo, who was persuaded by Dr. Parshall to purchase the two full brothers Chief Counsel and Blackstone when they were yearlings sold at the Old Glory sale, found his investment of $7,900 in horse flesh returning an aggregate in winnings of $36,328. Of course the genial Doctor would deduct considerable of that amount for entries and training expenses, yet they must have proved highly profitable even though horse racing over the big rings is a very expensive proposition.

At the recent New York horse show five of the entries in the roadster class were horses with records from 2.02 1-4 to 2.10, and the way they sped around the twelfth of a mile course was something wonderful to behold. They had been specially trained to take the corners on high. It was the most interesting class of the whole show —with perhaps the exception of the jumpers.

Congratulations to Cecil Stewart, Hampshire, Director of the Provincial Exhibition and frequent winner at Maritime shows with horses and cattle, on his election as President of the Maritime Live Stock Breeders' Association.

Laura Bell by Peter G. 2.04 1-4, owned by J. W. Sanders of Tillsonburg, Ontario, was one of the busiest race horses on the continent for a short period this fall. In one stretch of eleven days, from September 27th. to October 7th, Laura won seven races and a heat in another race therefore she competed in eight races in eleven days. Starting on September 27th, she raced five days in a row, winning on all occasions. This is probably a world's record. Just two heats were lost during that five day stretch, and in another five, from September 17th to 21st, Laura won three races in five days which with her other victories brings her total to twelve wins out of eighteen starts the past season.

Early Dreams, full sister to Better Times 2.07, trained a couple of season's here by Bill Cummings for Hedley T. Fulton, Upper Stewiacke, is being advertised for sale by J. S. Koch of London, Ontario, who bred her. She raced seven times last summer, was four times first, twice second, once third and is eligible to the 2.27 class.

One hundred and ten years ago at Staines, England, the American horse Tom Thumb trotted 100 miles without pause or rest in ten hours and seven minutes. He was hitched to a rig which weighed 106 lbs.

Sons and daughters of Peter the Brewer led the list of heat winners during the season's racing in Maine. They showed in front 53 times while the get of Dillon Volo were in second place with 51 heats won.

When the curtain rung down on harness racing in Maine November 5th, statistics showed that it was the longest racing season in the history of the Pine Tree State—or Potato State which ever you like to call it. 1,343 heats were raced, the fastest being a mile in 2.00 1-2 by Lone Ace 1.59 1-4 over the mile track at Old Orchard. Miles in 2.02 to 2.05 were turned in by the bay pacer Federal, raced by Henry Clukey and a mile in 2.03 over the half-mile track at Topsham, Maine, October 12th, was negotiated by Dusty Hanover, driven by Henry Clukey.

Ringers have been notably absent from the turf the past few years, but word comes from the southern states that a horse represented as Peter Stokes had secured a record of 2.10 there. At the same time the real Peter Stokes was in pasture in Indiana, also the driver who was supposed to team him was in Indiana.

The last horse had hardly passed through the Indianapolis sale two weeks ago before contractors started demolishing the building where the sale was held to make way for a monster pavilion that will be used for sales, horse shows and various exhibitions seen at the Indiana state fair.

Pop Eye was one of the bargains at the Indianapolis sale. He is a three-year-old chestnut gelding with a record of 2.07, sired by Single G. 1.52 1-2, "the horse that time forgot". John R. Graff of Huntingdon, Indiana, nabbed him at $300.

Thirty-five years ago—or to be exact September 10th, 1903—Rosemont, grey gelding by Almost Wilkes, owned by Dr. F. S. McDonald, Souris, won the three minute trot at the Nova Scotia Exhibition with a summary 1-2-1-1. Sheila Mac won the second heat, George Mansfield was third horse in the summary, Dewey Guy fourth and Parklo, owned by Owen Trainor, Charlottetown, fifth; two other starters. Time, 2.22; 2.22 3-4; 2.23 1-2; 2.26 1-2.

Miami Going In Strong For Winter Sports

(By Alan Randal, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, Dec. 2—Everett McGowan, former hockey player from Vonda, Sask., provides most of the thrills at the 1938 Ice Follies in Madison Square Garden. His apache dance on skates, in which he tosses his Missus, Ruth Mack, in a series of airplane spins, brings down the house. Ev says figure skating is tougher than all other ice sports combined. He should know because he once was a speed skater. Then he played hockey for Vancouver, Winnipeg and Edmonton amateur teams. Later he stickhandled for New York Rangers' farm team at Springfield.

Miami, going in for winter sports in a big way, announces the Tropical Hockey League's four months season will get under way next Saturday. The Miami winter card includes baseball, diamond ball, air races, horse races, dog races, boat and yacht races, tennis and, of all things, night golf. As the AP's Paul Mickelson remarks: "Yes, sir, Miami's going to make good in winter sports even if it has to freeze to death."

As soon as Sunday night's Rangers-Americans N. H. L. game is over Madison Square Garden will be changed into the great outdoors. It's for the winter sport show.

When it comes to bargain race horses of 1938 El Chico ranks first. William Zeigler of New York bought him at Saratoga in 1937 for $2,700 and this year El Chico won $84,000.

Alice Marble wowed cafe society last night when she made her bow as a night club singer. But the tennis star doesn't intend to let singing interfere with her game. She reports it is merely a means of taking care of the butcher, baker and candlestick maker. Hank Greenberg says Babe Ruth's record of 60 home runs in one season is safe for all time. The Detroit Tiger slugger doubts if he'll ever be able to reach his own high of 58 home runs again and adds: "After all, 58 homers is a helluva lot of home runs."

TOO SLOW FOR HIM

LONDON —(CP) —Holder of the world's land speed record of 357 miles an hour, Capt. George Eyston was fined 20 shillings ($4.66) for speeding on Victoria Embankment. He was clocked at 37 1-2 miles an hour.

Bourque Finds Pro Game Tough And Much More Serious Than Amateur

(By Robert Clarke, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

MONTREAL, Dec. 2—Let it thereby be told by Claude Bourque, proud holder of his first National Hockey League shutout after only 13 days of big time hockey from the amateur ranks, that the professional game is tough and the monied men have a glint in their eye that bodes no good for a goalkeeper.

"It's a lot different from the amateur game," said Bourque last night after Montreal Canadiens had defeated Boston Bruins 2-0. "When an amateur player misses a goal, or his shot goes wide when he's in close, he'll probably just laugh. But the pros . . . H-m-m . . . They're different. Say, they don't like missing at all. They certainly don't."

The youthful Bourque, born in Oxford, N. S., but more recently from Moncton, N. B., should know whereof he speaks. It was just a day less than two weeks ago that Manager Cecil Hart signed him from the amateur Verdun Maple Leafs here to replace Wilfie Cude in the nets for the Flying Frenchmen. Claude lost his first two starts, as Canadiens extended an early season losing streak to seven straight games.

But the Canadiens haven't been beaten in their last three starts, drawing with New York Americans and defeating Detroit Red Wings and Boston. The shutout was the first such defeat inflicted on the Bruins this season and only their second loss in eight games. Bourque found the shutout "pretty swell."

"But those last few minutes, when I was wondering whether it would be a shutout, certainly were nerve-wracking," Bourque exclaimed in the dressing room after the game. "When that final bell went I couldn't get off the ice soon enough. I was so excited I didn't even notice anybody until I got in the dressing room."

Teammate Paul Haynes, the cagy centre player who assisted in both Canadiens goals against the Bruins, presented Bourque with the puck after the game.

"Paul thought I would like it because I got my first shutout with it, and I certainly was glad to get it as a souvenir. You know, I'll bet there's a telegram waiting at the house for me from my mother and father about the game. They'll probably get more kick out of my first shutout than I will.

"It was pretty swell to get the shutout, but I don't care about them as long as we win. You can't win them all that way and it's O. K. by me if we always manage to score one more goal than the other team."

Bourque's sharp eyes gleamed excitedly as he told how he had "looked behind at the big clock five times in the last period."

"I don't like to look at the clock but I just couldn't help myself as the minutes ticked off in the third period. The first time five minutes had gone by, the next time seven, then 12 minutes and then 15. Say, maybe I looked at it more than five. I don't know."

Rangers Fast Rounding Into Shape At Practices; Seek Game With Halifax

Charlottetown's new senior hockey team is fast rounding into shape it was reported by officials last night. The practice sessions held this week were of the light variety. The boys concentrated on getting their "ice legs" and the feel of the blades. When the team drops over the boards on Monday of next week it is expected they will get down to real business.

Walter Lawlor, who coached Berwick Bruins in the Valley League the last two years, is showing he has lost none of his old time form including his brilliant poke-checking ability in pivoting the Cudmore-McClintick line in the workouts. Another line which has impressed railbirds is the "kid line" of McEachern, Worth and Jay Much is expected of this trio if they choose to stay with the home outfit.

It was reported last night that McEachern has received an offer from Glace Bay, but is loath to part company with his line-mates. The trio are much in demand in other Maritime sectors and the boys are torn between throwing in their lot with the Rangers or accepting more lucrative positions in allegedly more fertile fields. The line of Blacquiere, MacKinnon and Whalen rounds-out the shock troops, altogether an impressive array of strength.

Training for the rear-guard posts are roarin' Wes Storey, Darrach and Woods. Darrach is reportedly showing much zeal in the practices and holds promise of being the rign man in the right place.

It was also announced last night that negotiations have been opened with Halifax to have the Wolverines perform here on Friday, December 16th. No definite reply is expected until today.

Saint John Beavers Keep Winning Streak Intact

SAINT JOHN, N. B., Dec. 2 —(CP) —Undefeated in a series of exhibition hockey games so far this season, the leagueless Saint John Beavers continued their winning streak tonight by blanking the Halifax Garrison team 2—0.

The visitors showed greatly improved form as compared with their play here Wednesday night when, tired after a tedious trip over bad roads, they lost 7—2 to Beavers. The Haligonians' combination work was better and Pickard was particularly good in net.

The first peroid was scoreless. A penalty cost Halifax the opening goal in the middle session. Carr-Harris was off when "Swede" Oslen skated up the ice with Baird. Olsen missed near the goal mouth and Baird scored neatly. The assisting left winger, a mainstay of Beavers last year, played tonight for the first time this season.

Saint John was a man short in the third period when they counted the only other goal of the game. Russell broke away with the puck while the Garrisons were ganging the local net. He was followed up the ice by Carr-Harris and had only Steadman and the goalie to beat. Carr-Harris checked from the rear as Russell pushed home a slow shot.

A penalty was imposed against Carr-Harris but the goal was allowed.

Crystals Will Have Strong Teams, Report

The weatherman has started plenty of gossip these days. Hockey is next in order; it is rumored the Crystals Hockey Club will sponsor three strong squads this year. That is a Senior, Intermediate and Junior teams. The senior Crystals, champions of P. E. I. senior group last year, are intact plus two or three new players who now have employment here. By all indications the Crystals will have a senior team that will compete with any in the Maritimes. The intermediate squad have some forty odd players to select their all star team from.

The juniors are equally as strong and although not "bragged-up" as much as some of the Maritime lines, they have a youthful line second to none of the calibre of "Windy" Steele who is now making a name for himself with the Hershey Bears in the International American League.

The annual meeting of the Crystals Club will be called for early next week when plans for the winter will be made. S.

Smoke Eaters Defeat Flyers

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

CORNWALL, Ont., Dec. 2—Trail Smoke Eaters, Europe-bound for an exhibition series, eked out a 3-2 victory over Cornwall Flyers of the Provincial Hockey League tonight. Smoke Eaters defeated Flyers for the Allan Cup last spring.

Penalties helped the Trail squad to victory before 3,500 fans. After each team had scored in the first period, Smoke Eaters banged in two fast goals half-way through the second frame when George Shaw was with the timers.

Dick Kowcinak collected two Trail goals with McCreedy bagging the other. Shaw and Harry Doran were the Cornwall snipers.

Smoke Eaters, who end their barn-storming cross-Canada trip next week in Saint John, from where they sail for Europe, were never headed after Kowcinak opened the scoring in the third minute of play.

Shaw tied the count in the first period but McCreedy and then Kowcinak again rapped in tallies within a minute of one another mid-way through the second to give the westerners a two goal margin. Cornwall's second tally came five seconds before the close of the second session.

Notre Dame Favored Over Southern Cal.

(A. P. by Guaridan's Special Wire)

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 2—Notre Dame's football forces, determined to march on to the mythical 1938 United States collegiate grid championship, reigned slight favorites over the University of Southern California tonight as indications pointed to a record-breaking crowd for tomorrow's 13th annual struggle between these two teams.

Hailed as the greatest team since the Rockne-coached machine of 1930, the Irish from South Bend, Ind., rolled into Los Angeles to find the town in a frenzy of excitement and confidence high—but not too high—in the Trojans of U. S. C., Rose Bowl representatives of the Far West.

Gunnar Barlund To Meet Toles

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 —(AP) — Gunnar Barlund, Finnish heavyweight, and Roscoe Toles of Detroit today were signed for a 10-round bout at the Hippodrome, Dec. 9. The fight replaces the Glen Lee-Cal Gagni bout, which was called off yesterday when Gagni developed a bad cold.

Everything In Readiness For Tonight's Island Heavyweight Title Bout

It's fight night at the Charlottetown Sporting Club tonight with George Leslie of Souris making his third bid for the Island heavyweight title against defending champion George Graham in a scrap that has all the earmarks of being even more sensational and bloody than was the case the last time this same pair of heavies tangled with Graham winning the fight and the title he now possesses after six rounds of the most rugged fighting the fans witnessed in an Island ring this season.

And tonight's fight shapes up just the same way. Both are in slendid physical condition and both are eager to have it over with just as quickly as possible; there is no plan of battle mapped out in either camp. The boys are just going out from the opening bell swinging and although fans won't see any clover boxing exhibition —and they don't expect to —nevertheless they will see two men go out and fight wholeheartedly with all they have for just as long a time as the fight lasts.

Both will be an even bet entering the ring. The wise boys are finding it hard to predict a winner but the participants themselves are both predicting victories; there can only be one so come along and see just what one will win.

The semi-final between Tom Claybourne and hard-hitting Tiger Hennessey is being talked about just as much as the main bout. Here is a scrap that really has the fans up in the air trying to forecast a winner. Many are inclined to give Hennessey the edge and just as many are pulling for Claybourne. Hennessey, a terrific clouter if the opening presents itself is also a clever boxer but stacked up against the Charlottetown boy he will be facing one of the most elusive if not the most elusive Island fighter to tag solidly on the Island today. Claybourne many times has entered the ring the underdog in the betting but always he has surprised with the stand he made and tonight will probably be another case of just this. There is no doubt but that Hennessey will be a slight favorite by ring time but don't sell Claybourne short. Hennessey will have a hard time finding a good opening and at the same time he will have to watch his opponent plenty close for there is plenty of punching power in that left hand of the Charlottetown boy.

A good bunch of preliminaries will round out what should be an action-filled card. So fans who like their scrapping of the real-honest-to-goodness variety had better not fail to be at the Sporting Club tonight where action a-plenty is promised.

The first bout will be called at 9:30 sharp.

Benefit Concert Well Attended

There was a good attendance at the Charlottetown Sporting Club last night when a benefit concert was given for Tom Holmes, veteran driver of race horses, who was injured in an accident on an Island track early last summer. The concert was under the direction of Mr. J. Austin Trainor.

Numbers on the enjoyable program included: Overture, Al. Bianchard's Orchestra; song, Miss Pearl McGuigan; old time music, O. K. Presby and his Novelteers; song, Miss Francis Bradley; tap dance, Miss Ruth Carver; readings, Mr. George Beers; pipe selections, Piper Wilfred Burke; songs, Mr. Gordon Camp; highland fling, Miss Josephine Leightizer; song, Miss Mary Gallant; tap dance, Mr. Eddie Bourgeault; comedy skit, Jack McCourt and Mr. Peake; club swinging, Mr. Wallace E. Scantlebury; dance, sailor's hornpipe, Miss Josephine Leightizer; magic act, Prof. Manekana; solo, Mr. Russel Downe; singing hit, Mr. Ray Lobb.

The program concluded with Uncle Eph's Birthday Party, introducing guests, dancers, etc., and a big birthday cake. A toast to Tom Holmes was given to the air of Auld Lang Syne. A door prize was won by Mrs. MacDonald. After the concert an enjoyable dance was held.

Intermediate Team Called The 'Abbies'

The newly formed Intermediate team will be known as the Intermediate Abbies it was decided last night by club officials.

In addition to the names mentioned in yesterday's issue the following were inadvertently ommitted, Fred Bradley, Joe Murnaghan and Vern McLellan. The Abbies will hold a practice about the middle of next week, when they will work out with the Junior Royals. The boys are also looking forward to a workout with the Senior Rangers in order to get into condition.

The team will register in the intermediate playdowns and should provide stout opposition for any of their opponents.

Mel Diamond will replace Doug MacLeod as coach. Pressure of work forced Doug to decline the job.

They will strut their stuff, along about Christmas time, at Madison Square Garden, supplying the background with New York Rangers for Gable's new hockey starring picture.
