

MARRIAGES

MARRIED

REEVES-LEARD.—At the Manse, Cape Traverse on November the 30th, 1920, by the Reverend James MacDougall, William Frederick Reeves of Freetown and Emily Francis Leard of Augustine Cove.

DEATHS

WHELAN, at Covehead Road, December 24 Julia Riley Whelan, aged 66 years. Funeral Sunday at 2 o'clock to St. Eugene Cemetery.

BARNEY.—At Attleboro, Mass., December 11th, Jessie, beloved wife of Jason Barney and daughter of the late Archibald McKinnon of Georgetown.

J. N. R. Statement Is Denied

OTTAWA, Dec. 24.—The statement from Sydney, N. S. that the employees of the C. N. R. would refuse to handle freight of any kind to or from the Dominion Steel Corporation and Nova Steel Coal Co., after December 20th, does not involve all the employees of the National lines. Mr. A. R. Mosher, Grand President of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees, which organization has a large membership among the freight handlers, shopmen, and other C. N. R. workers, stated this morning that no instructions had been issued to the members regarding shipments to and from the two companies.

WASTE OF HEAT

Experts who have made a study of the heating of houses aver that it takes two or three times as much fuel as ought to be necessary to heat the average dwelling house. The difficulty, they claim, is largely with the construction of the building. They lay down the rule that the way to heat a room economically is to insulate it. Most persons know that air space in walls conserves heat. But this is true only if the walls hold dead air. Most walls and ceilings aren't tight enough. Hot air goes through them like water through a net. Banking up lower walls of houses with dry leaves and earth still is practiced, but mostly in the country. Experts point out that city and town houses can be made tighter with little effort. The insulation of walls and ceilings can be improved, and much coal saved. It's worth considering in places where fuel is scarce or costly. An examination of many houses will show that the occupants literally are trying to "heat all outdoors."

Patons Limited

DOMINION OF CANADA PROVINCE OF PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.

IN CHANCERY

Before the Vice Chancellor No C-1444

In the matter of the application of John Honner Nicholson and Mary Rose Nicholson, infant children of Daniel John Nicholson, late of Kings County in Kings County in Prince Edward Island, Deceased Intestate.

Pursuant to a Decretal Order made in the above matter on the tenth day of December A. D. 1920 by His Honour the Vice Chancellor referring to me, all accounts and claims against the Estate of Daniel John Nicholson late of Kings County, in Prince Edward Island, Deceased Intestate.

Dated this seventeenth day of December A. D. 1921.

WILLIAM LEITH POOLE Master in Chancery

J. D. Stewart, K. C., Solicitor.

NOTICE

All accounts due me not settled by Jan. 5th 1921 will be placed in the hands of my attorney for collection.

J. P. BRADLEY, Kelly's Cross.

2466 12 23 ths st tues 61 x z

FARM FOR SALE

At York Point, 7 miles from Charlottetown by road, one mile by ice in winter and Govt boat in summer. 38 acres in best condition, large dwelling and barns, two summer cottages. Will sell whole or divide to suit. Price right.

D. W. WHITE.

NOTICE

Owing to existing conditions namely: falling off in prices in farm produce and a slow decline of same, we have decided to offer our goods to customers at the lowest figures possible.

We are carrying a heavy stock of boots and shoes, dry goods and hardware of all kinds. Most of this stock was purchased at pre-war prices.

Clearing Auction Sale

Clearing Auction Sale of hardware in lots to suit purchasers. I am authorized by Mr. Phillips to sell by Public Auction at the Crabbe Hardware store all the balance of hardware comprising something in nearly every line of goods as found in the general hardware store. Sale commencing on Thursday 23rd at 11 a. m. o'clock and continued from time to time until all is sold. Terms—Cash.

BENJ. CARTER, Auctioneer.

2447-12122-1

THE WOMAN HE MARRIED

BY JANE PHELPS

A BOX AT THE THEATRE.

Chapter 42

"I've been given tickets for the theatre tonight," Dick phoned in from the office. "Will you and Mother meet me downtown or shall I go home?"

"You'd better come home. I have everything for dinner and it won't be so good tomorrow."

"All right! I'll be early. They are dandy seats. Tell Mother to get ready before dinner. I know her of old. It takes her ages to dress."

"Someone has given Dick tickets for the theatre tonight," I told Mother Williams. "He says for us to dress before dinner. I will get all ready but my dress. We have quite a way to go so we will have to leave in good season."

I called Mrs. Dooley up and she agreed to run in and clear away the things after Junior was in bed. "You are sure she is honest?" Mother asked.

"As honest as I am!" I returned. "I had had her ever since Junior was born."

"So many people think it inconsequential to take food, and one must look out for small leakages." I turned impatiently away. I was tired of hearing about economy.

When Dick came in she was dressed in her best, which was very nice indeed. As usual to me that her mother was well dressed was ready all but my dress, and was dishing up the dinner in a huggalow apron.

"Your hair looks wonderful!" "No!" Dick remarked. "I took extra pains as I will wear no hat."

"That's up to you. Our seats are in a box. You can suit your self mother, as to wearing a hat or not."

"In a box? What swells we are!" I laughed. "I'll tell the world we are, for one night at least. Mr. Ozden bought them, but his family cannot attend. He said he might drop in on us during the evening—perhaps see the whole show."

"I was so glad I had a decent gown to wear, and after dinner hurried into my dress. Mother Williams followed me into my room to rearrange her hair which Junior had mussed a trifle."

"What a beautiful gown! I don't recall that you had it when you visited us," she said looking at me sharply. "No, it is rather new."

"It looks rather expensive. Nan too much so for Dick's wife to wear."

"I made no reply but was so angry I wanted to scream. That too, Dick entered in the door just then and asked: "What's that you said, Mother? I heard my name."

"I told Nan that dress was a very expensive looking affair for your wife to wear. I know what she'll cost nowadays."

MRS. VESSEY SAYS IT IS PERFECTLY GRAND

Charlottetown Woman Wants Other Sufferers to Know How Tanlac Has Ended Her Troubles—Health Splendid Now.

Mrs. Ronald Vessey, of 5 Douglas St., Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island is now an ardent champion of the merits of Tanlac since she began taking the medicine a few weeks ago.

While discussing Tanlac, which has been so beneficial to her, Mrs. Vessey seemed profoundly grateful and in commenting on her improved condition, said:

"Tanlac has been such a blessing to me that I want to pass the good news along for the benefit of others. Since last fall I have been in a bad run-down condition, had no appetite and felt tired all the time."

"I had no relish for food of any kind and actually dreaded to eat because of the suffering it caused me. I scarcely ate anything and even then I would blot all up and feel miserable with indigestion."

"I read about Tanlac and going on the idea that 'what is good for one is good for another,' I bought a bottle. The first bottle made me feel a little better and on the second bottle I began to feel fine."

"I began to eat better and enjoy my food. I have taken five bottles now and the results have been nothing less than wonderful. I can eat fine now and I don't think I have ever gotten more pleasure out of eating. And although I am eating just anything and everything I want, I never feel a touch of indigestion."

"Before taking Tanlac I was terribly nervous. The least little thing would upset me, but now my nerves are perfectly steady. I have strength to do all my housework without tiring and, in fact, I feel just fine all the time. Tanlac is just grand and I am glad to give my testimonial to be used in letting others know about it."

Tanlac is sold in Charlottetown by Reddin Bros., in Montague by H. J. Mahon, J. P. White, Murray River, H. M. Chisholm, North Tryon, R. H. Coohon, Murray Harbour, Lord's Company, Borden, Lord's Company Cape Traverse and Lord's Company, Charlottetown, J. W. McEwen, Bristol, A. J. McNevin, Bonshaw.

"I had no relish for food of any kind and actually dreaded to eat because of the suffering it caused me. I scarcely ate anything and even then I would blot all up and feel miserable with indigestion."

"I read about Tanlac and going on the idea that 'what is good for one is good for another,' I bought a bottle. The first bottle made me feel a little better and on the second bottle I began to feel fine."

"I began to eat better and enjoy my food. I have taken five bottles now and the results have been nothing less than wonderful. I can eat fine now and I don't think I have ever gotten more pleasure out of eating. And although I am eating just anything and everything I want, I never feel a touch of indigestion."

"Before taking Tanlac I was terribly nervous. The least little thing would upset me, but now my nerves are perfectly steady. I have strength to do all my housework without tiring and, in fact, I feel just fine all the time. Tanlac is just grand and I am glad to give my testimonial to be used in letting others know about it."

Tanlac is sold in Charlottetown by Reddin Bros., in Montague by H. J. Mahon, J. P. White, Murray River, H. M. Chisholm, North Tryon, R. H. Coohon, Murray Harbour, Lord's Company, Borden, Lord's Company Cape Traverse and Lord's Company, Charlottetown, J. W. McEwen, Bristol, A. J. McNevin, Bonshaw.

"I had no relish for food of any kind and actually dreaded to eat because of the suffering it caused me. I scarcely ate anything and even then I would blot all up and feel miserable with indigestion."

"I read about Tanlac and going on the idea that 'what is good for one is good for another,' I bought a bottle. The first bottle made me feel a little better and on the second bottle I began to feel fine."

"I began to eat better and enjoy my food. I have taken five bottles now and the results have been nothing less than wonderful. I can eat fine now and I don't think I have ever gotten more pleasure out of eating. And although I am eating just anything and everything I want, I never feel a touch of indigestion."

"Before taking Tanlac I was terribly nervous. The least little thing would upset me, but now my nerves are perfectly steady. I have strength to do all my housework without tiring and, in fact, I feel just fine all the time. Tanlac is just grand and I am glad to give my testimonial to be used in letting others know about it."

Tanlac is sold in Charlottetown by Reddin Bros., in Montague by H. J. Mahon, J. P. White, Murray River, H. M. Chisholm, North Tryon, R. H. Coohon, Murray Harbour, Lord's Company, Borden, Lord's Company Cape Traverse and Lord's Company, Charlottetown, J. W. McEwen, Bristol, A. J. McNevin, Bonshaw.

"I had no relish for food of any kind and actually dreaded to eat because of the suffering it caused me. I scarcely ate anything and even then I would blot all up and feel miserable with indigestion."

"I read about Tanlac and going on the idea that 'what is good for one is good for another,' I bought a bottle. The first bottle made me feel a little better and on the second bottle I began to feel fine."

"I began to eat better and enjoy my food. I have taken five bottles now and the results have been nothing less than wonderful. I can eat fine now and I don't think I have ever gotten more pleasure out of eating. And although I am eating just anything and everything I want, I never feel a touch of indigestion."

"Before taking Tanlac I was terribly nervous. The least little thing would upset me, but now my nerves are perfectly steady. I have strength to do all my housework without tiring and, in fact, I feel just fine all the time. Tanlac is just grand and I am glad to give my testimonial to be used in letting others know about it."

Tanlac is sold in Charlottetown by Reddin Bros., in Montague by H. J. Mahon, J. P. White, Murray River, H. M. Chisholm, North Tryon, R. H. Coohon, Murray Harbour, Lord's Company, Borden, Lord's Company Cape Traverse and Lord's Company, Charlottetown, J. W. McEwen, Bristol, A. J. McNevin, Bonshaw.

"I had no relish for food of any kind and actually dreaded to eat because of the suffering it caused me. I scarcely ate anything and even then I would blot all up and feel miserable with indigestion."

"I read about Tanlac and going on the idea that 'what is good for one is good for another,' I bought a bottle. The first bottle made me feel a little better and on the second bottle I began to feel fine."

"I began to eat better and enjoy my food. I have taken five bottles now and the results have been nothing less than wonderful. I can eat fine now and I don't think I have ever gotten more pleasure out of eating. And although I am eating just anything and everything I want, I never feel a touch of indigestion."

"Before taking Tanlac I was terribly nervous. The least little thing would upset me, but now my nerves are perfectly steady. I have strength to do all my housework without tiring and, in fact, I feel just fine all the time. Tanlac is just grand and I am glad to give my testimonial to be used in letting others know about it."

Tanlac is sold in Charlottetown by Reddin Bros., in Montague by H. J. Mahon, J. P. White, Murray River, H. M. Chisholm, North Tryon, R. H. Coohon, Murray Harbour, Lord's Company, Borden, Lord's Company Cape Traverse and Lord's Company, Charlottetown, J. W. McEwen, Bristol, A. J. McNevin, Bonshaw.

Church Services

ST. JAMES CHURCH. 11 a. m. sermon 2.30 p. m. Sunday School and Bible Classes 7 p. m. sermon. Rev. Robert Murray Special Christmas music. Seats free. Visitors welcome.

ZION CHURCH. 11 a. m. sermon, 2.30 p. m. Sunday School and Bible Classes 7 p. m. sermon. Preacher Rev. G. C. Taylor.

METHODIST CHURCH. 11 a. m. sermon, subject The Cause of Christmas Joy. 2.30 p. m. Sunday School and Bible Classes 7 p. m. sermon, subject, "God's Great Gift." Preacher Rev. G. W. F. Glendinning. Visitors welcome.

BAPTIST CHURCH. 11 a. m. sermon, subject "God's Gift to Humanity." 2.30 p. m. Sunday School and Bible Classes 7 p. m. sermon, subject, "Your Gift to Humanity." Preacher Rev. C. R. Freeman.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH. 8.30 a. m. Holy Communion 11 a. m. Morning Prayer and sermon. 2.30 Sunday School and Bible Classes. 7 p. m. Christmas Carol service. Rector Rev. H. D. Raymond.

ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL. SUNDAY AFTER CHRISTMAS. Holy Communion at 8 a. m. Matins and Litany 8.30; Holy Communion, (Choral) at 11 a. m. Preacher, Rev. Archdeacon Watson, 7 p. m. evensong. Rev. H. C. Light, preacher.

PEOPLES CHURCH. 2.30 p. m. Sabbath School and Bible Class. 7 p. m. sermon. Rev. D. M. Lamont, preacher. Prayer meeting Thursday evening 7.30

CHRISTIAN CHURCH. 11 a. m. sermon. 2.30 Sunday School. 7 p. m. sermon. Preacher Rev. H. Mahon.

SALVATION ARMY. 11 a. m. Holiness meeting; 2 p. m.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The President of the United States is without power under existing law "to shut out wheat imports," but he apparently has certain powers under the Lever Act to stop future trading in wheat, the Federal Trade Commission says in a speech made public today at the White House. The commission says it is questionable whether the barring of Canadian wheat "would have the effect its advocates expect," and while making no recommendations one way or the other, indicates it believes this move would be inadvisable.

WILSON POWERLESS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The President of the United States is without power under existing law "to shut out wheat imports," but he apparently has certain powers under the Lever Act to stop future trading in wheat, the Federal Trade Commission says in a speech made public today at the White House. The commission says it is questionable whether the barring of Canadian wheat "would have the effect its advocates expect," and while making no recommendations one way or the other, indicates it believes this move would be inadvisable.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The President of the United States is without power under existing law "to shut out wheat imports," but he apparently has certain powers under the Lever Act to stop future trading in wheat, the Federal Trade Commission says in a speech made public today at the White House. The commission says it is questionable whether the barring of Canadian wheat "would have the effect its advocates expect," and while making no recommendations one way or the other, indicates it believes this move would be inadvisable.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The President of the United States is without power under existing law "to shut out wheat imports," but he apparently has certain powers under the Lever Act to stop future trading in wheat, the Federal Trade Commission says in a speech made public today at the White House. The commission says it is questionable whether the barring of Canadian wheat "would have the effect its advocates expect," and while making no recommendations one way or the other, indicates it believes this move would be inadvisable.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The President of the United States is without power under existing law "to shut out wheat imports," but he apparently has certain powers under the Lever Act to stop future trading in wheat, the Federal Trade Commission says in a speech made public today at the White House. The commission says it is questionable whether the barring of Canadian wheat "would have the effect its advocates expect," and while making no recommendations one way or the other, indicates it believes this move would be inadvisable.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The President of the United States is without power under existing law "to shut out wheat imports," but he apparently has certain powers under the Lever Act to stop future trading in wheat, the Federal Trade Commission says in a speech made public today at the White House. The commission says it is questionable whether the barring of Canadian wheat "would have the effect its advocates expect," and while making no recommendations one way or the other, indicates it believes this move would be inadvisable.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The President of the United States is without power under existing law "to shut out wheat imports," but he apparently has certain powers under the Lever Act to stop future trading in wheat, the Federal Trade Commission says in a speech made public today at the White House. The commission says it is questionable whether the barring of Canadian wheat "would have the effect its advocates expect," and while making no recommendations one way or the other, indicates it believes this move would be inadvisable.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The President of the United States is without power under existing law "to shut out wheat imports," but he apparently has certain powers under the Lever Act to stop future trading in wheat, the Federal Trade Commission says in a speech made public today at the White House. The commission says it is questionable whether the barring of Canadian wheat "would have the effect its advocates expect," and while making no recommendations one way or the other, indicates it believes this move would be inadvisable.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The President of the United States is without power under existing law "to shut out wheat imports," but he apparently has certain powers under the Lever Act to stop future trading in wheat, the Federal Trade Commission says in a speech made public today at the White House. The commission says it is questionable whether the barring of Canadian wheat "would have the effect its advocates expect," and while making no recommendations one way or the other, indicates it believes this move would be inadvisable.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The President of the United States is without power under existing law "to shut out wheat imports," but he apparently has certain powers under the Lever Act to stop future trading in wheat, the Federal Trade Commission says in a speech made public today at the White House. The commission says it is questionable whether the barring of Canadian wheat "would have the effect its advocates expect," and while making no recommendations one way or the other, indicates it believes this move would be inadvisable.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The President of the United States is without power under existing law "to shut out wheat imports," but he apparently has certain powers under the Lever Act to stop future trading in wheat, the Federal Trade Commission says in a speech made public today at the White House. The commission says it is questionable whether the barring of Canadian wheat "would have the effect its advocates expect," and while making no recommendations one way or the other, indicates it believes this move would be inadvisable.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The President of the United States is without power under existing law "to shut out wheat imports," but he apparently has certain powers under the Lever Act to stop future trading in wheat, the Federal Trade Commission says in a speech made public today at the White House. The commission says it is questionable whether the barring of Canadian wheat "would have the effect its advocates expect," and while making no recommendations one way or the other, indicates it believes this move would be inadvisable.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The President of the United States is without power under existing law "to shut out wheat imports," but he apparently has certain powers under the Lever Act to stop future trading in wheat, the Federal Trade Commission says in a speech made public today at the White House. The commission says it is questionable whether the barring of Canadian wheat "would have the effect its advocates expect," and while making no recommendations one way or the other, indicates it believes this move would be inadvisable.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The President of the United States is without power under existing law "to shut out wheat imports," but he apparently has certain powers under the Lever Act to stop future trading in wheat, the Federal Trade Commission says in a speech made public today at the White House. The commission says it is questionable whether the barring of Canadian wheat "would have the effect its advocates expect," and while making no recommendations one way or the other, indicates it believes this move would be inadvisable.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The President of the United States is without power under existing law "to shut out wheat imports," but he apparently has certain powers under the Lever Act to stop future trading in wheat, the Federal Trade Commission says in a speech made public today at the White House. The commission says it is questionable whether the barring of Canadian wheat "would have the effect its advocates expect," and while making no recommendations one way or the other, indicates it believes this move would be inadvisable.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The President of the United States is without power under existing law "to shut out wheat imports," but he apparently has certain powers under the Lever Act to stop future trading in wheat, the Federal Trade Commission says in a speech made public today at the White House. The commission says it is questionable whether the barring of Canadian wheat "would have the effect its advocates expect," and while making no recommendations one way or the other, indicates it believes this move would be inadvisable.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The President of the United States is without power under existing law "to shut out wheat imports," but he apparently has certain powers under the Lever Act to stop future trading in wheat, the Federal Trade Commission says in a speech made public today at the White House. The commission says it is questionable whether the barring of Canadian wheat "would have the effect its advocates expect," and while making no recommendations one way or the other, indicates it believes this move would be inadvisable.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The President of the United States is without power under existing law "to shut out wheat imports," but he apparently has certain powers under the Lever Act to stop future trading in wheat, the Federal Trade Commission says in a speech made public today at the White House. The commission says it is questionable whether the barring of Canadian wheat "would have the effect its advocates expect," and while making no recommendations one way or the other, indicates it believes this move would be inadvisable.

MONEY!

We want a large amount and get it quick. We therefore offer

FOR SALE

One of the finest farms in Kings County consisting of 270 acres, formerly occupied by the late John G. Scrimgeour Esquire, situated within 1-2 mile of the thriving village of Cardigan. This farm is now in an excellent state of cultivation, and will be sold either as a whole or in blocks to suit purchasers.

We also offer:-

FOR SALE

Our lumber mill property, consisting of a general milling plant—rotary, three planers, and moulders, shingle machine, lathe machine, treenail machine, turning lathe, band saw, etc., steam boiler and three engines, electric generator and electrical power outfit for boring etc., together with a lot of ship building machinery.

All of the above will be sold at very reasonable prices, and terms can be arranged to suit purchasers.

BOOK ACCOUNTS

Must be looked after before first of the New Year. All parties having notes on account not settled after above date are liable to find them in the hands of an attorney for collection.

MERCHANDISE

We are also giving special discounts on all lines of goods in the store to meet lower costs of manufacturing, and it will pay prospective buyers to call and consult us before purchasing elsewhere.

J. A. Macdonald & Co. Ltd.

CARDIGAN.

2485-12-24fmu6i.

"D & F" SAUSAGES

Choicest cuttings from Selected Pork; Purest Spices; most careful manufacture,—three superlatives combining to produce.

HIGHEST QUALITY

Our Smoked Meats are recognized leaders for years with most particular customers. And they cost you very little, if anything, more than ordinary quality.

ASK FOR "D. & F." BRAND

Meats, Lard and Sausages. Packed and cured by experts, under continual DOMINION GOVERNMENT INSPECTION.

Davis & Fraser

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I.

Have You Considered the Additional Service?

Every new telephone adds to the potential value of your telephone.

It is another point you may desire to call some day

It is another possible client or customer able to reach you quickly and conveniently.

When the present schedule of rates went into effect, there were only 866 telephone subscribers connected to our system.

To-day our records show that there are 3707 telephones in use in this province.

2841 ADDITIONAL customers or clients placed next door to you by telephone.

When the full facts of the telephone rate situation are understood and the additional value considered, there are few, we believe, who will question the fairness of the proposed new schedule.

The Telephone Company of Prince Edward Island

Hints for the Motorist

BY ALBERT L. CLOUGH

FOR CARS THAT "HIBERNATE"

Safe Storage may be Combined with Ready Serviceability

The following suggestions are offered to motorists who lay up their cars upon the coming settled winter weather. It here being assumed that the place of storage is unheated. If it is reliably heated, less stringent precautions are necessary. No car should be stored where it is damp or where smoke, fumes or animal vapors can reach it. It should be thoroughly washed before being put away. The wheels should be up and well lubed and all nickel or brass exposed parts should be coated with vasoline or other metal preservative ointment. Cushions can be removed to the house, if thought best. Every drop of water should be removed from all parts of the cooling system—radiator, pump jack and piping. Filling the engine for a few minutes, with all draft cocks open, helps to dry out the system. If there is a chance that the car may be occasionally used, the cooling system may be filled with a sufficiently strong alcohol mixture, instead of draining it. All four wheels should be left raised off the floor on substantial blocks, boxes or jacks. This is essential, otherwise the tires may become deflated and the rims stand for a long period on the tubes and castings, seriously injuring them. The practical advantage of removing the tires and laying them away in a good dark place only to replace them in the spring is not clear, although this procedure is well recommended. It has the disadvantage that it makes it impractical to use the car, during "spells" of pleasant winter weather. The thing is to ensure that the car shall not be left standing on flat tires. In order to prevent the striking of members of the clutch mechanism, the clutch pedal should be blocked in its disengaged position, which is readily done by wedging a stick of wood, cut to the right length between the heelboard and the pedal. Disc brakes require this precaution especially. There is no occasion to draw off the gasoline, unless to reduce the fire hazard asuming that there are no leaks in the system, but it is important that all water that may have collected in tanks, carburetor or piping should be removed. The gasoline shut-off to the carburetor should be closed.

MAIL CONTRACT

SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the Postmaster General, will be received at Ottawa until noon, on Friday, the 4th February, 1921 for the conveyance of His Majesty's Mails, on a proposed Contract for four years, six times per week on the route Tracadie Cross Rural Mail Route No. 1 from the Postmaster General's pleasure.

Printed notices containing further information as to conditions of proposed Contract may be seen and blank forms of Tender may be obtained at the Post Offices of Tracadie Cross and at the office of the Post Office Inspector.

JOHN F. WHEAR, Post Office Inspector

Post Office Inspector's Office, Charlottetown, 23rd Dec. 1920.

2447-1235th31.

Notice to Fox Men