Wish to point out to you the advantage of all rail shipment, by which method you are assured of getting delivery of your goods in first class mechanical condition and just at the time you want them.

The uncertainty and late planting often caused by late Steamer delivery is not good business and any slight saving in price over all rail delivery is more than offset by having your Fertilizer hauled home before the planting season begins and your crop planted and growing as soon as possible.

Our representatives are now on the island and will be glad to talk the matter over with you.

U. S. UNDER PROHIBITION CORRECTION

Sir,—In Monday's Guardian a quotation from the Atlanta "Constitution" describing prohibition conditions in that city was erroneously ascribed to Rev. Billy Sunday. The statement should have read: "Sabbath recreations in Atlanta, said by Rev. Billy Sunday to be the most Christian city in the country, as described by a correspondent in the Atlanta 'Constitution'. I regret that this error has occurred, and hasten to correct it at the earliest opportunity. I am, Sir, etc.

BRITISHER.

LIBRARY SITE

Sir,—Your correspondent "Upan Cummin" suggests one or other of the lots on the North or South sides of the Market House, as a suitable site for the Library and Museum building required in Charlottetown. The suggestion seems to be well worth the consideration of our newly elected City Fathers, the Provincial Government and all who are interested. The building, when erected, should be architecturally good, and it should be in a central part of the town.

LATE HOURS

Sir,—I fear that our young people generally are getting into bad ways. When I was in town a few nights ago, I met numbers of young boys and girls on the streets after ten o'clock; and in the country, too, I note that the late habit is growing. The old saying was: "Early to bed and early to rise 'Is the way to be healthy, wealthy and wise."

That should be remembered and taught in these days. It is a true saying. Out in the night air, and standing about doorways at 10 and 11 o'clock at night is not likely to result in good health; nor is rising at eight and rushing to work in business at nine likely to produce wealth.

PROPOSED SANATORIUM

Sir,—It is agreed, upon all sides, that we must have a sanatorium, and the Provincial Government will, of course, have to provide it. But the question of when it is to be established, is one to be discussed. I think that it should be on high ground, close to the railway so that patients will always be supplied with the purest and best of air, and that supplies of coal and other things may be brought to it, at the least possible cost. There are along the line several sites that would be suitable—if available. If there is in the employ of the Government or in the Government, a man of good judgment, let him go to it, as soon as possible.

A GOOD HEALTH

CAPE BRETON'S OUTLOOK

Sir,—It is to be hoped that the change of management at Sydney will have some good effect upon the industries there and in other parts of Cape Breton, and that the Governments, both Federal and Provincial, and the people generally will lend all the help they can to restore and maintain those industries.

"Fruit-a-tives" the sure way to regular health

They are of the utmost importance to the farmers of this island of Prince Edward. Farmers and gardeners need a nearby market that they can depend upon; and the industry at Sydney, New Glasgow, Amherst, etc., afforded markets for their produce that they could rely upon. We want to see them restored; and we should co-operate to that end. We shouldn't be too ready to buy things made in the United States and Europe. We should purchase things made at home and in our own nearby country. We should co-operate for the benefit of one another, and keep our money in our own provinces by the sea. Even if the prices were a little higher, what does that signify to the farmer, who has a good nearby market in which there is a steady demand for his produce?

The government, too, should discourage, rather than encourage, the importation of foreign-made and foreign-grown goods, by the imposition of customs duties upon imported articles. Why should not the revenue be obtained in that way rather than by the imposition of direct taxes every time a man has to draw a cheque or sign a note?

A GARDENER

ST. LAWRENCE PROJECT

Sir,—The question that has been raised by the St. Lawrence Project is certainly a very important one. If the project should be carried out, we in this Island will only, I suppose, be affected in a general way. We ought, however, to look at the question from the point of view of the country at large. If adopted, the project should not, it seems to me, be under the direction or control of any one of the United States, its provinces or its Government; for we know that they, being the wealthiest and strongest and most wide-awake will, of course, get ahead of us in the deal, or if not that there is liable to be disputes over the matter, that had better be avoided. But it is in a position to finance and carry out such an immense project? Canada has certainly done great things already. But in building and buying railways, etc. the government has accumulated a public debt of—I see by The Guardian—more than two billions of dollars. It seems to me that this debt of $250 or more, that this debt of man and child in all Canada should be reduced radically before any other large project, for which additional debt must necessarily be incurred, is undertaken. As it is there are pressing requirements of the country in all its future, for instance, in the near future, for the standardization of the Murray Harbor Railway and the addition of another car ferry—of which we ourselves know.

That's the way I regard the project. It's a matter about which Canada will, I think, do well to "go slow." But I'm only one—and not a great one. I'd like to read the opinions of others who know more about the business than I do.

I am, Sir, etc.

Hot Cocoa Is a Mother's Great Ally

I don't know what we'd do without hot cocoa, for say what you will, children do tire of the steady round of that all-important food, milk. And some children have a positive distaste for it unless presented in a more or less disguised form.

Careful as most mothers are to see that the children's glasses of milk have their full share of cream, I have noticed that very often when they make cocoa they use ordinary bottled milk, from which they even sometimes carefully dip the top layer of cream.

Cocoa Should Be Made With WHOLE Milk

You won't make such a mistake, if you prepare the children's cocoa with Carnation Milk. There's no way to rob any particle of cream. Do you know why? Carnation Milk is "homogenized"—that is, every little globule of cream is broken up into particles so minute that they can't rise to the surface but are held captive all through the milk, giving every drop of milk an equally generous share of enriching cream. Every drop has, in fact, a double portion of cream, for Carnation Milk is evaporated to double richness.

There's another great advantage in using Carnation in the preparation of foods for children. It's safe. Not only has it been sterilized, but the milk itself is produced under ideal conditions from selected herds, and is the purest of rich whole milk.

BURIAL YESTERDAY

The funeral of the late Joseph Gallant which was largely attended, was held yesterday morning from his late residence 232 Euston St., to St. Dunstan's Cathedral where the Requiem Mass was celebrated by Rev. P. X. Gallant of Bloomfield, brother of the deceased, who also held service at the grave. The pall bearers were: Messrs John A. Senault, Edward Dowling, P. Hughes, John James, E. Parkman, and J. McKenna.

SLED COLLIDED WITH CAR

What might have been a very serious accident occurred about five o'clock yesterday afternoon, when Charlie Bentley, the nine year old son of Mr. Charles Bentley, 112 Elm Avenue, was coasting down a hill, collided with a passing motor car. It is said that his sled passed under the car, fortunately not striking the wheels. The little fellow was taken at once by the driver to the Prince Edward Hospital where it was found that he was only slightly bruised and shaken.

SOCIAL GATHERING

A very enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Murdoch Ross on Monday evening, Jan. 30th, when Miss Agnes Bell was the guest of the Y. P. S. C. E. of Zion Presbyterian Church. During the evening an address was read and a presentation of a chest of flat silver made to Miss Bell, who has been a valued member of this Society for several years, and whose departure from the Province is greatly regretted. The remainder of the evening was spent in games and music.

SOCIAL GATHERING

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hammond Pierce, Brackley, on Jan. 17th when the newly appointed directors of the Hall Co., with their wives and other friends of Mr. Pierce gathered to celebrate his birthday. The evening passed very pleasantly with games and music, the music being furnished by Mr. Wallace Bryenton, after which a dainty supper was served by Mrs. Pierce. A very enjoyable evening was brought to a close by bouncing Mr. Pierce after which the guests departed to their homes wishing him many "happy birthdays." Among those present were: Mrs. Keziah Jack, Mrs. Mrs. J. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jackson, Mrs. Marie Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Mac-

MY KITCHEN NOTEBOOK

by Mary Blake Domestic Science Counselor

Carnation Milk is completely replacing ordinary bottled milk for cooking in many thousands of homes, not only because of its greater uniformity, its dependability, and the economy which its rich creaminess effects, but because of the better results it gives. Because of "homogenization," it gives a smooth, fine texture, a rich creaminess that even the best of bottled milk cannot equal. Soups and sauces have increased food value with the use of less butter. Cakes have a finer texture with better keeping qualities. Puddings, waffles and griddle cakes are more delicate; candies smoother and creamier; ice cream richer, more velvety.

Send for the Carnation Cook Book—"My Hundred Favorite Recipes." It will show you fascinating new qualities to be obtained in old dishes simply through the use of this better milk. It's free. Address Carnation Milk Products Co., Limited, Aylmer, Ont.

Carnation Cocoa

3 tsp. cocoa (for children 2 tsp.), 2 tsp. sugar, 1/2 cup hot water, few grains salt, 1 1/2 cups Carnation Milk diluted with 1 1/2 cups water; 3/4 tsp. vanilla. Scald diluted milk in double boiler; mix cocoa, sugar, salt and hot water; cook over low flame 10 to 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add scalded milk to cocoa; cook in double boiler 10 minutes. Whisk with Dover mallow before serving; place marshmallow in cup; pour cocoa over it. Makes four cups.

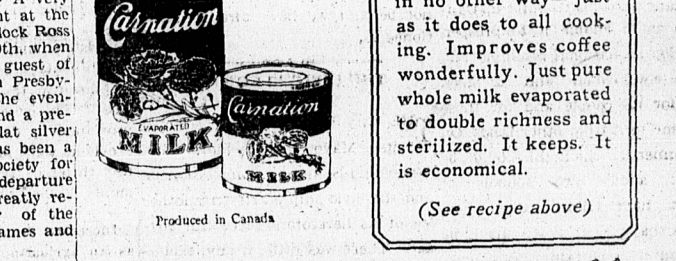

For Finer Cocoa

gives to cocoa a rich smoothness and extra food value obtainable in no other way—just as it does to all cooking. Improves coffee wonderfully. Just pure whole milk evaporated to double richness and sterilized. It keeps. It is economical.
