The drawing room was prettily decorated with Autumn leaves and potted plants. The bride to be was escorted to a seat of honor by Miss Elizabeth Ramsay under a beautiful arch of cut flowers and autumn leaves to the strains of Here Comes The Bride, played by Mrs. George Ramsay. The many beautiful gifts which were brought in were opened by Mrs. Dugald MacDiarmid and Mrs. Neil Simpson, while the accompanying verses were read by Miss Grace Easter and Mrs. Wall. Miss Georgie Yeo and Mrs. Keith Mann arranged them on the table. Miss Hamilton thanked those present for their lovely gifts in a gracious manner and all joined in singing For She Is A Jolly Good Fellow. The gifts were costly and numerous. A beautiful china dinner set was a gift from several friends in Hamilton. When the gifts had all been admired all joined in a sing song of old favorite songs. —GUEST SPEAKER — Flight Lieut Russel Woodside of the R. C.A.F. of Summerside was the guest speaker at the United Church at Malpeque on Sunday evening, there was a very large congregation present at this service Rev. Mr. Crowdis conducted the devotional period and introduced the speaker together with several from the R. C. A. F. depot, two, ladies and four gentlemen who all contributed greatly to the service of song in assisting the Male Choir in the hymns of the service. They also delighted this large congregation with solo and chorus duet and quartette. The hymns were familiar and favorites of all, Softly and Tenderly Jesus Is Calling, The Old Rugged Cross and Now The Day Is Over. Rev. E. R. Woodside's message was based on the theme, The Heritage Of a Christian in all the walks of life. His message was most helpful and greatly appreciated. At the close of the service Rev. Mr. Crowdis on behalf of the congregation extended sincere thanks to Lieut Woodside and to the R. C. A. F. members for their help. The large congregation and all joined heartily in singing Will Your Anchor Hold followed by the National Anthem and Benediction brought this splendid service to a close.—V.

snipers. And they sure could snipe."

Jack Fowler of Toronto, a young-looking soldier, had his left hand ripped off by a piece of shrapnel and a hole gouged in his leg.

"I was with the Toronto Scottish," he said "and was stationed with an ack-ack gun on a tank-carrying barge. The wind blew away our smoke screen, and then we were about 1,000 yards off shore Jerry began to throw everything he had at us.

"I was firing as fast as I could and had stopped for a minute to rest, placing my hand on my knee. A shell came over and took off my hand and at the same time ripped out a piece of my leg."

Fowler said he failed to get ashore. Just as he had failed to get ashore at Dunkerque. "I was among the first Canadians to go overseas", he explained, "and was placed on a boat ready to sail for France just before France fell. But it fell too soon and I had to wait two years for another chance."

Lone officer among the Dieppe survivors was Lieut. John Counsell of Hamilton. He refused to say much about the action. "The men were marvellous," was his one comment, to which he added, "Dieppe gave the troops a new interest."

He even refused to divulge what injuries he had suffered. "I got knocked around a bit, but it's nothing serious," he said casually, though he was still confined to bed

MacDonald - Eddy In Captivating 'I Married an Angel'

Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy are now at the Capitol Theatre amid bevies of beautiful girls and innumerable musical fantasies in "I Married an Angel", adapted from the Broadway stage hit. It marks Eddy's first appearance as an all-out comedian, presents Miss MacDonald in an angelic character, and introduces a series of lavish musical presentations.

The story deals with Eddy, as a playboy, falling asleep during a gay party and dreaming he married an angel. The angel gets him into innumerable comical complications, until he wakes from his nightmarish sleep to find romance with the girl whose counterpart the dream angel was.

The production is rich in its melodic interludes, Miss MacDonald and Eddy having such duets as "I Married an Angel", "Spring Is here", "The Man in the Street" and "Paris in Spring". Other song hits include "A Twinkle in Your Eye", "Surprise Party," "End of a Dream" and "Paris Honeymoon Suite."

—RECEPTION FOR FLIGHT SGT. HINSON A. MACLEOD AT O'LEARY.—Many friends from O'Leary and vicinity gathered at the Baptist parsonage Saturday evening to do honor to Flight Sgt. Hinson A. MacLeod, son of Rev. A. A. MacLeod. Hinson is the first boy who has returned to O'Leary after doing service over Germany. As a pilot of a Hudson Bomber he was shot down over the Bay of Biscay losing most of his right hand. An address of congratulation, welcome and best wishes was prepared and read by Mrs. Milton Smallman, who has three members of her family in the services. A purse of money the gift of the friends present accompanied the address. Following the presentation a social time was spent during which Hinson sang several solos. Flight Sgt. MacLeod has been home on furlough visiting his family at O'Leary after spending nearly two years at the front. He is now undergoing flying tests and appearing before medical boards in the hope that he will be permitted to fly again. The latest word is that he has passed many tests satisfactorily and will be attached to the Ferry Command after taking a refresher course. A preacher before his enlistment, Hinson preached for his father on four occasions during his stay at home. In his messages he thrilled his hearers with stories of God's providential care when he and his crew were in great danger. His testimony was that prayer is a mighty force and he urged all to pray for the boys over there.

K. of C. Observe Columbus Day

The anniversary of the discovery of this continent by Christopher Columbus was celebrated by the Summerside Council of the Knights of Columbus on Sunday and Monday. On Sunday morning the members attended Mass and received holy communion in a body. Rt. Rev. Mgr. G. J. MacLellan presided. He said it was edifying to see the Knights of Columbus there in a body receive holy communion. By that act they supernaturalized their activities by showing their motive for what they did was the love of God. He congratulated the Council on the camp which was held last summer for underprivileged boys. This was a worthy work and was carried out in the right way in an atmosphere of religion. He also congratulated others who had helped this project.

He advised the Council to go forward with their activities ignoring those critics who have no record of accomplishment behind them; to be wary of old age grown cynical but avoiding the pitfalls of over enthusiastic youth which has not had experience.

On Monday evening a dinner was held in the Olympia restaurant for Knights and their ladies. The principal speaker was the Rev. J. D. MacNeill of North Rustico. The Grand Knight, Mr. F. C. Murphy, welcomed the guests and Mr. Elmer Pineau acted as toastmaster. The toasts were as follows: The King, The Pope and The Church; responded to by Flt. Lieut. Rev. T. P. Butler. Our Order, responded to by E. P. Foley, M.L.A.; The Ladies, responded to by W. H. Noonan.

Father MacNeill began by reviewing the life of Columbus who in his struggle for recognition and later during his perilous voyage exemplified the virtue of perseverance. This virtue, the speaker said, is the outgrowth of charity and courage and he reminded his hearers that it is necessary in the life of every practical Catholic. "We are living in a world divided into two lines, the Christian and the pagan. There is no compromise, we must be one or the other. A Christian life is a positive one. We will be judged by good deeds done, not by evil deeds we did not do. He gave a message of courage to his audience because in the end we have nothing to fear but God and God is a just judge." A vote of thanks was moved by J. E. Murphy and seconded by Pilot Officer S. J. Campbell. —S the various numbers mingled with the multitude of sounds floating through the building.

Murnaghan's barrell is again on exhibit and keeps up its familiar revolving act "mixing up" the tickets for the grand prizes. This barre was constructed by Mr. P. Murnaghan of Charlottetown.

Excellent displays of fancy work and home cooking, attracted large numbers of people and these articles were sold in large quantities during the evening. The refreshment booths, wheels of fortune, dart games and other amusements were also well patronized.

Hon. Dr. McMillan

Hon. Dr. McMillan, in his address, stated that the Charlottetown Hospital was the oldest one in the province and has been carrying on its charitable work ever since first opening its doors about 63 years ago. He pointed out that, after undergoing a rigorous inspection and examination set by the American College of Surgeons, the institution had again been declared a standard hospital. It has continued to maintain this record ever since first obtaining it. This is the public's guarantee of receiving the best medical treatment there.

The door prize last night went to Miss Aherne of Charlottetown while the chicken dinner, lotteried every night in front of the fancy work booth, was won by Miss Marjorie Quinn, 58 Richmond Street.

A short musical entertainment was put on during the evening by Don Messer and his orchestra. The program included several solos by Charlie Chamberland, who will be a guest artist each night the bazaar is staged.

HOLY REDEEMER

Rev. G. McKenna, C.S.S.R. was celebrant of the 10.30 mass at the Church of the Most Holy Redeemer at Sunday morning. The sermon for the occasion was preached by Rev. G. Crowley, C. S.S.R.

In the evening Rev. Father McKenna celebrated Benediction and preached the sermon.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

Synchronizing with the national season of Thanksgiving, the annual services of Harvest Thanksgiving were held in St. Paul's Church last Sunday. The Church was beautifully and appropriately decorated for the occasion, and these decorations enhanced in their beauty by the soft sunlight filtering through the stain-glassed windows created an atmosphere at the morning service peculiarly in keeping with the theme of Worship, Praise and Thanksgiving.

At the morning service the sermon was preached by the Reverend A. C. French, Padre at the Airport, who took as his text: "And when ye reap the harvest of your land, thou shalt not wholly reap the corners of thy field, neither shalt thou gather the gleanings of thy harvest. And thou shalt not glean thy vineyard neither shalt thou gather every grape of thy vineyard; thou shalt leave them for the poor and stranger: I am the Lord thy God" (Leviticus, chapter 19, verses 9 and 10).

At the evening service instead of a sermon, Mr. Will J. Green, a representative of the Christian Business Men's Association, known as "The Gideons", spoke to us about the work of that society, its origin, its growth and the work that it has been doing. In introductory remarks, he referred to his previous visit here, and to the great assistance and encouragement given to him at that time by the Reverend Dr. H. D. Raymond.

After Mr. Green had finished speaking the Rector, Reverend A. LeDrew Gardner, spoke of the appropriateness of the message on this day of Thanksgiving, and gave assurance of his and the church's support of the great work of The Gideons.

Maritime Y.P.S. Convention Is Concluded

Mr. Ralph W. Kane of St. David's Church, Halifax, was re-elected president of the Maritime Conference of Presbyterian Young People's Societies at the annual conference held in Charlottetown over the week-end. The three day sessions opened Friday and concluded Sunday night.

Mr. Ralph MacLean of Zion Presbyterian Church, Charlottetown, was made first vice-president while Mr. Gordon MacDonald of Bethel Church, Scotsburn, N. S., was elected second vice-president and Miss Phyllis Littlejohn of St. Andrew's Church Moncton, became third vice-president.

Other officers include: Fourth vice-president, Miss Faukes, Campbellton, N. B., fifth vice-president Miss Mary Wilson, Glace Bay; Sixth vice-president, Mrs. Lauder, St. John's, Newfoundland; Secretary, Miss Jean Cameron, Bethel Church Scotsburn; Publicity Secretary, Miss Sara Cameron, East River, St. Mary's N. S.; and Treasurer, Mr. Austin Munroe, Middle River, N.S.

The concluding service was held Sunday at Zion Church. It included installation of officers and an informal fellowship period. Guest speaker was Rev. E. A. Thomson, Secretary, Board of Sunday Schools and Young People's Societies Presbyterian Church in Canada, Toronto. He spoke on crusading for Christ.

Sunday morning conference delegates attended a communion service at St. James Presbyterian Church. Services were conducted by the minister, Rev. T.H.B Somers, M.A., S.T.M.

In the afternoon a meeting was addressed by Miss Ethel MacDonald, former missionary to Japan Miss Mary Nicolle also spoke briefly on Intercollegiate work.

Saturday night delegates attended a conference dinner at Zion Church hall.

Devotion to God and service to men were the two great dimensions to life, Rev. Mr. Thomson, declared in his address Sunday night Not "what is my neighbor, but whose neighbor am I?" must be the question each person asks himself.

At the closing session delegates in formal resolutions and in brief speeches expressed thanks to those who assisted with the meetings, directly or indirectly.

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

"Thou crownest the year with thy goodness". This is "Thanksgiving" and the whole pulpit section of the church was decorated with the fruits of the field and garden (principally the latter) but there was one omission—no sheaves of grain—perhaps that was due to the early harvest, however, wheat is the vital crop and it is abundant therefore we can with heart and voice "Raise the song of harvest-home."

Rev. Dr. Miller who was in charge of both services referred to our privilege and duty of being thnkful and raised the question as to whether we were thankful enough when we think of conditions in other parts of the world. All the hymns of the day were expressive of thanksgiving and the choir rendered a splendid anthem "Ye shall dwell in the Land"—Stainer—with Miss Doris Tait and Mr. Roy Smallman as soloists, all under the direction of Professor A. Roy Kendall.

Rev. F. E. Barrett, D.D., representative of the Maritime Home for Girls was the special speaker and a summary of his remarks will be found in another column.

In the evening Pilot Officer Gordon Needham gave a delightful solo "While the earth remaineth"—Maunder—and Dr. Florence Murray gave a most interesting and instructive address on "Christian Work in Korea in wartime"

At the close Dr. Murray was warmly greeted by many in the audience.
