Mr. Hugh Morrison was the auctioneer.

—NARROW ESCAPE.—While hauling and driving on the public roads is almost broken up at present, the ice has been considered safe to travel on until Tuesday, when one of Liverman McNelis's teams, driven by two men, plunged into the icy cold waters of the Wilmot River, one of the men also went through, the other landed on solid footing. A number of neighbors soon gathered around the scene and with the utmost difficulty succeeded in extricating the horse and sleigh. Apparently none are the worse for the cold bath, still travellers should bear in mind that the ice is very treacherous on this season.—H.

AVOID SPRING ILLS

Purify and Build Up the Blood with Hood's Sarsaparilla

In the spring your blood needs cleansing and enriching. You feel poorly, and there is more or less eruption on your face and body. Your appetite is not good, your sleep is broken, and you are tired all the time.

You need Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is the one safe and effective tonic that has stood the test of forty years. It makes the pure red blood that will make you feel better, look better, eat and sleep better. It is the old standard tried and true, all-year-round medicine for the blood and the whole system.

Ask any druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla, and insist on having it. Nothing else acts like it, for nothing else has the same formula or ingredients and so there is no real substitute. Get it today.

Ten Submarines Are Destroyed By Seaplanes

LONDON, April 9.—Details concerning the destruction recently of ten German submarines by naval aircraft, eight by seaplanes, and the others by dirigibles, have been obtained by the Associated Press from Admiralty reports. The first case is described as follows:

"While on patrol in the English Channel a seaplane sighted a submarine eight miles away, directly in the path of an oncoming convoy of merchant ships. The seaplane dived at 90 miles an hour. The submarine attempted to escape by submerging, but was just as the seaplane reached a bombing position and released two bombs one of which exploded on the conning tower. The seaplane dropped two more bombs into the midst of the air bubbles from the collapsed submarine, which was of the largest type, carrying two guns."

Even Got a Photograph.

The second case: "At dawn a seaplane sighted a large submarine on the surface, with a member of the crew standing by the gun. The seaplane dropped a bomb on the tail of the U-boat and afterward photographed the sinking submarine with a big hole in its deck. A second bomb was dropped close to the submarine's bow and the U-boat collapsed."

The third case: "Two seaplanes attacked a large submarine traveling on the surface at fourteen knots, with two men in the conning tower. A bomb was exploded close to the conning tower, and the submarine began to sink stern-first. A second bomb was dropped close to the submarine's bow and the U-boat collapsed."

The fourth case: "Three seaplanes sighted a large submarine as it was submerging and dropped two bombs close to the conning tower, causing the submarine to turn turtle and disappear in a mass of land wreckage."

Both Ends in Air.

The fifth case: "A seaplane sighted two submarines close to the surface and dropped two bombs. One bomb was ineffective, but the other hit the deck fairly amidships. The submarine was hidden by the smoke of the explosion and when the smoke cleared the U-boat was sinking with both ends in the air."

The sixth case: "A seaplane saw the track of a torpedo fired at a merchantman. It dived toward the surface and sighted the black shadow of the submarine, well below the surface. It dropped two bombs which both exploded close to the submarine resulting in a large quantity of oil, bubbles and wreckage."

The seventh case: "Two seaplanes sighted a U-boat on the surface and dropped a bomb each. The first bomb caused a heavy list to the U-boat, which began to sink by the stern. The second bomb exploded in the centre of the swirl, demolishing the U-boat."

The eighth case: "A seaplane dropped a bomb on a submarine just emerging, and the U-boat disappeared with a heavy list to port. The pilot dropped a second bomb into the swirl, and a few minutes later a patch of oil 150 feet long and 12 feet wide appeared in the surface."

Caught When Coming Up.

The ninth case: "A naval airship at midday sighted a suspicious patch of oil and circled it in an effort to ascertain the cause. Suddenly a periscope broke the surface in the midst of the oil. The airship dropped a bomb close to the periscope, and a series of bubbles began appearing, indicating that the damaged submarine was moving slowly away under the water. Several

UNUSUAL SALES AT BIG FUR AUCTION

(Special to The Guardian) NEW YORK, April 9. (At New York Fur Sales.)—Subscriptions to the third Liberty Loan amounted to about $1,665,000, which was afterwards increased to $1,740,000.

Buyers present at the opening sessions of the annual spring sale of raw furs in the Masonic Temple here today purchased skins valued at $750,000. Several unusual things marked the morning session. One was the selling for the benefit of the Red Cross of the pelt of the largest muskrat caught in North Dakota.

It was finally sold to a buyer from St. Louis, for one hundred and fifty-five dollars, which established a new world's record in muskrat prices. As for the sale the offerings of fox got the most interest, the best blue fox brought $141, and finest cross fox was sold for $157.50, the choicest fisher commanded $66.50.

Because of the bond selling and the special offerings, the collections of red fox and white fox had to be put over a day. Wolverine prices showed no change when compared with those obtained for these skins at the sale held here last January, but the other furs disposed of showed these percentage advances: Fisher 15, northern otter 15, southern otter 10, blue fox 50, grey fox 15, cross fox 30, and Australian fox 20.

more bombs were dropped in the path indicated until satisfactory evidence was obtained of the enemy's destruction."

The tenth case: "An airship dropped two bombs over a submarine which was engaged in attacking merchantmen. Great patches of oil and bubbles indicated severe damage, and trawlers made this complete by dropping charges."

Much Depressed in Spirits

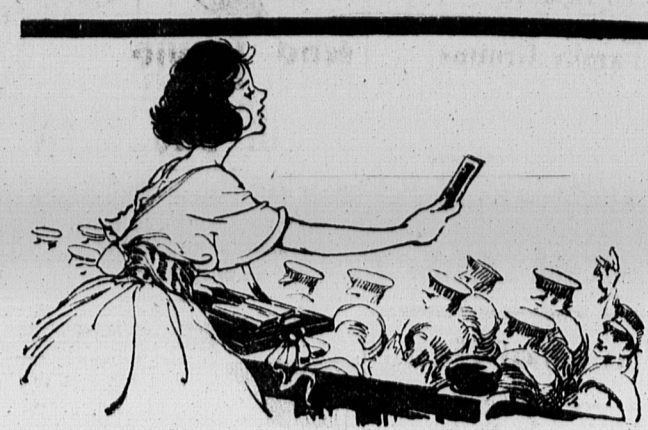

On Account of the Exhausted Condition of the Nerves—Though Several Doctors Were Consulted Results Were Disappointing

Albert, N. B. April 12.—All energy and ambition seem to disappear when the nerves become exhausted. Hope and confidence fall and you feel blue and get to looking on the dark side of things.

Such was the experience of Mrs. Tingley, but she soon got to seeing things differently when Dr. Chase's Nerve Food was used to form new rich blood and build up the exhausted nerves.

Mrs. Geo. T. Tingley, Albert, N. B., writes: "Will you please allow me the privilege of giving my experiences with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I was for a long time in a very nervous, run-down condition, and much depressed in spirits. I suffered a great deal at times, and it was four or five years ago before I fully discovered what the real trouble was. The least noise would irritate me, and at times I felt as though I certainly would go crazy. I took various medicines recommended to me, and consulted different doctors but to no effect. A friend advised me to begin the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food at once. I complied with the request by procuring the medicine at the earliest convenience, and can truly testify today to the great benefits I received therefrom. I was able to see a marked change in my condition before I had finished the use of two boxes. I kept up the treatment, however, until I had taken about a dozen boxes, and now feel safe in saying that I am cured of nervousness. I am entirely relieved of those terrible feelings I used to have, and cannot too highly speak of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which has done so much for me. I shall ever be ready to testify to the merits of this wonderful remedy, and gladly recommend it to all who suffer as I did, feeling sure it will give them quick and permanent relief."

This letter was endorsed by George C. Anderson, J. P. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, a full treatment of 6 boxes for $2.75, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Do not be talked into accepting a substitute. Imitations only disappoint.
