

QUALITY AND PURITY

We are very particular about the purity of our drugs but we are even more careful to see that the drugs we use in dispensing are of the highest quality—nothing doubtful finds a place on our shelves.

Worth remembering when your physician hands you a prescription to get filled.

A big Topic in Little Space

The Watch question is so big and many sided a matter that it would take a whole page of this paper to rightly describe all the different kinds of Watches in the market. But, after all, you can boil the whole matter down into this line, good watches keep good time. No matter how handsomely a Watch may be engraved no matter how elegant its looks, if it is inaccurate in time keeping it is a delusion and a snare. We wish you to know just one thing about our Watches, and that is, that an expert watchmaker rigidly tests each one before it enters our stock. If it doesn't meet the test triumphantly—if it is weighed in the balance and found wanting—it goes back to the maker at once.

"WHITER THAN THE SNOW"

Sinners of Every Degree Are Urged to Accept the Offer Which is Made With a Completeness That Fulfills Human Forgiveness to Shame—Black Sins and Their Everlasting Cure.

But, oh, my brother and sister, though man is hard upon fallen man, and woman especially hard upon fallen woman, yet God to-day offers pardon and peace for every penitent Magdalene. Though your sins against morality may be as scarlet, they shall be whiter than the driven snow.

St. Vitalis was a poor monk who in the seventh century was supposed to haunt the evil resorts of the Alexandrian capital. For many years the people thought he was a hypocrite and a libertine. One early morning, when soon coming out of a place of evil resort, he was fatally struck down by a passerby, with the scathing words, "How dare you, rascal—how dare you outrage Christ by not mending your wicked ways?" But hardly had the breath left the body of the humble monk than it was found out by testimony that for years he had given his life to saving social outcasts. What Christian woman are doing for ex-convicts? St. Vitalis was doing for fallen men and fallen women. At his funeral these social outcasts, whom he had by the power of the Holy Spirit, rescued, marched in front of his bier, chanting this cry: "We have lost our deliverer! We have lost our instructor! God help us! God help us!" To-day Christ is willing to go into the lowest brothel and into the haunts of the immorally vile and to say: "Come unto me and I will make thee pure. Come, every man. Come, every woman. Though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as the driven snow; though they be red as crimson, they shall be as wool." Christ is ready to forgive the murderer's sins. By that do I mean that he is ready to forgive the highwayman who, with lifted gun, shoots down the innocent pedestrian? By that do I mean that Christ is ready to forgive the fiend who poisons the helpless child or who in the dark night drives the knife into the heart of his sleeping adversary? Yes, Jesus is ready to forgive the convicted murderer though he may be standing upon the scaffold under the hangman's noose, about to expiate his awful crime. "Pardon for all" is the meaning of my text—pardon and peace and eternal life for all, no matter how vile, if in sincere repentance they will come to him and plead for his mercy through his atoning sacrifice.

But among the murderers who are to be pardoned I would also class those who have slain their victims by false signs, as well as by bullet or by gun. He is ready to forgive those who have slain by the lip as well as by the hand. In olden times the pirates along the coast of England used to change the positions of the lights. Then the sea captains, watching the beckonings of the false lights, would drive their boats upon the rocks and be wrecked. The pirates would rifle the drowned bodies as they would be floated upon the shore and gather together the wrecked cargoes. They were murderers—murderers whose weapons were false lights. So God will forgive even those murderers who have destroyed their fellow men by false examples as well as he will forgive those who have murdered them with the dagger or the gun.

"What!" some murderer says. "Pardon for my scarlet sins? Oh, no! It cannot be true. Why, you do not know what you are saying. My sins are worse than scarlet. They are black with the hopelessness of despair. There can be no pardon for me. Let me tell you my awful story: When I went to college, I was a very wild boy. I had there a roommate who was the son of a minister. He was a ruddy-faced lad and as pure as a little child. I taught him how to drink and how to gamble. I argued him out of his belief in the Bible. I led him on, step by step, into the paths of sin. One night—I can remember the time as though yesterday—he sat upon the corner of his bed, and, with a strange light in his eyes, he turned and looked at me and said: 'Jim, do you really believe that my mother's Bible is only a pack of superstitions? Do you believe there is no hell?' 'Yes, Harry,' I answered. Then I went on to convince him of it. Then he laughed a horrible laugh. Then he turned and said: 'Well, old superstition, good-by, good-by! May you live long enough to soften the dying pillow of my mother and father, but as for me, good-by, good-by! Come, Jim, let's go and take a drink.' 'From that moment, sir, that young fellow let loose all his evil desires. He seemed to leap into a very whirlpool of sin. Within a few months he was expelled from college. Within two years he committed suicide and this is the letter he wrote on the night of his self murder: 'Dear Mother,—This is the last letter you will ever receive from me. I have broken your heart, but try to forget and forgive. If there is no hell, as Jim says, this world is hell enough for me. From your disgraced and dying boy.' 'Did you do all that?' 'Yes,' he answered. 'Well, my friend, I know not how God will forgive, but he can and he will. The blood of Jesus Christ will ever cleanse you, if you will only ask for Christ's forgiveness. 'Whosoever,' Ah, that is the word. 'Whosoever, whosoever!' That means you. Yes, it means you. Though your sins be as scarlet they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool." Christ is ready to forgive also the merciless thief's sins, even as he forgives the thief upon the cross. He is ready to forgive the thief's sins, whether you have by evil jealousy stolen away a man's good reputation or have rifled a widow's pocketbook; whether you have stolen a good name or a financial income. "But," you say, "this appalling enumeration of crime has no applicability to me. I have neither robbed nor slandered nor slain, nor am I either drunkard or gambler." Assurance not, but, though by divine grace you have been mercifully kept from such depths of human infamy and degradation, your heart must still tell you that you are a sinner in need of a pardoning God. And if he stands ready to forgive the greatest of criminals and to wash away their scarlet sins how much more is he willing, O man, O woman, to give to your soul pardon for penitence and to welcome you into the gospel sheepfold!

Boils were so painful could not sleep at night.

APPEARED ON NECK, LEGS AND ARMS.

It is well-known to all that bad blood is the direct cause of all skin diseases and it is necessary for the blood to be cleansed before the eruptions will disappear. For this purpose there is nothing to equal Burdock Blood Bitters as the thousands of testimonials we have on hand will testify.

Mr. Willard Thompson, McNeill's Mills, P. E. I., writes us as follows: "I wish to state to you that Burdock Blood Bitters has done for me. Some time ago my blood got out of order and many boils appeared on my neck, legs and arms. They were so painful that I could not sleep at night. After having tried many different remedies without any success, I finally decided, on the advice of a friend, to use Burdock Blood Bitters. Before I had quite used two bottles the boils had completely disappeared and I wish to emphasize the fact that I think Burdock Blood Bitters the best blood purifier on the market to-day."

A GRAND SHOWING.

Andrew F. Gault, a prominent merchant and manufacturer of Montreal, insured his life in the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York. He was required to pay the sum of $16.90 per $1,000.00 each year. Recently Mr. Gault died and the Company paid to his heirs, not only the original insurance of $1,000.00, but $1,424.00 in addition, making in all $2,424.00. Mr. Gault paid fifty-two annual premiums, amounting to $878.80; the Company returned in dividends $545.20 more than it received in premiums from the insured.

Mr. Gault was insured under another policy in the same Company for a like amount, taken out a few years later, on which he paid forty-nine annual premiums of $18.28 amounting to $895.72. Dividend additions to this policy were $1,238.00 or $342.28 in excess of total premiums paid.

'Highly Satisfactory' 'Management Excellent'

GEO. GOODERHAM
49 Wellington Street East,
Toronto, December 28th, 1899.

To the North American Life Assurance Company, Toronto. GENTLEMEN,—I am in receipt of your cheque for $27,381.40, in settlement of my 15 year endowment policy. No 2651, issued by you Dec. 20th, 1884, for $20,000.

The result is highly satisfactory to me, and furnishes the strongest proof of the careful and excellent management of the North American life.

Personally I have been a strong advocate of endowment insurance, having carried over $500,000 on my life.

Yours truly,
GEO. GOODERHAM.
