... Life Savers banish digestion worries

Yes, sir, eat beans and mince pie and pickles if you liked—but be sure to pop a Life Saver into your mouth when dinner is over. These minty Life Savers are a mighty comforting digestive aid. Make them an after-meal habit. They're handy and convenient to carry and are identified by the Life Savers hole: if it hasn't a hole it isn't a Life Saver. On sale everywhere, five cents.

LIFE SAVERS are made in Canada

"About the greatest man that ever lived in this community was Skinner—broad-minded, big-hearted, and brilliant—and yet he died with all his talents unsuspected." "How did you come to find out about it?" "I married his widow."

—HOUSE BURNED — The residence of Mr. Kenneth Yeo, of Port Hill was destroyed by fire about five o'clock on Saturday morning. It is thought that the fire started from sparks from the flue.—S.

—WORTHY OF NOTE—The special music for the anniversary services on Sunday in Trinity United Church was of a very fine order. The anthem chosen for the morning service was composed by Professor Fletcher, formerly of Charlottetown, and dedicated to Rev. Hammond Johnston, who was a former pastor of Summerside.—S.

—FINED $3 AND COSTS—Three drunks arrested over the weekend, were fined three dollars and costs in the Summerside Police Court on Monday morning. Raymond Arseneault was sent up to a higher court on a charge of stealing a watch from a man living at Borden. S.

—REMINISCENCES — Rev. Dr. Pringle in his opening remarks at the anniversary services at Trinity Church, Summerside, made reference to his earlier visits to Prince Edward Island, which would interest the older generation. Although born in Charlottetown he left at the age of four years for Nova Scotia. Seventy-one years ago at the age of ten, he returned coming by way of Point de Chine to Summerside on the steamer Westmoreland, arriving on a lovely June morning about four o'clock. His first impressions of Summerside were beautiful ones. He also spoke of his childhood days near Montague and also of his college days at Prince of Wales. His next visit to the Island was made in a schooner from Montreal. Thirty three years ago he was visiting in Charlottetown and he was asked to speak at Summerside one evening. Thinking the last train leaving at 3.30 p. m. would be in time Dr. Pringle went aboard, arriving at Emerald, he found out that the train went no further. The minister was in a quandary, but the station master came to his assistance and had a special train made up for him. Dr. Pringle said, "The only time I ever rode in a special train was just for me. It costs five dollars." That was his second visit to Summerside. The visit on Sunday was the third and the people of Summerside express the hope that it will not be the last. On Monday evening, Dr. Pringle met the congregation of Trinity Church in Epworth Hall and told them of his life in the far north.—S.

—Mrs. Daniel Noonan, of Bedeque, left Saturday for Montreal to accompany her brother, Mr. W. Henry Noonan, who is returning to his home in Summerside.—S.

The Kirk In Assembly

(By Burning Bush in the Toronto Globe)

By Burning Bush in Toronto Globe Peterboro', June 8.

The spirit of romance is still very much alive in the Christian Church. With a chivalry and magnanimity that would have graced the days "when knighthood was in flower," the General Assembly elected Dr. H. R. Grant as Moderator. It was a fine tribute to a romantic figure whose whole ministry has been noted for its unselfish service. Although weakened by the burden of thirty-six years' pioneer labors, this veteran in the early hours of the Assembly has demonstrated his ability to guide the destinies of the highest court of the Presbyterian Church.

The New Moderator

The Assembly had a most auspicious beginning. Without the slightest tinge of acrimony the election for Moderator was conducted. Discarding the request of several for a ballot vote, the Commissioners stood to signify their adherence to the nominee, Dr. Shortt's candidature was ably moved by Dr. Roxborough of Edmonton, and then that gifted ex-Moderator, the Rev. W. G. Brown of Saskatoon, with his churches that Peterboro' proudly boasts; and of the wonderful men in the churches, who, by their sanctity, have assisted in the period of depression. The city has many large manufacturing plants, the Canadian General Electric and other worthy enterprises; but not one failure has occurred in any line of industry. The President of the local Ministerial Association, Rev. J. Gordon, conveyed cordial greetings.

Two impressive speeches were made by visiting delegates. Prof. D. Lamont of New College, Edinburgh, spoke for the Church of Scotland. More eloquent lips might have carried the message, said Dr. Lamont, but non whose heart beat more loyally to the traditions and purpose of the Canadian Presbyterian Church. Dr. Lamont said that he wished to invite the Presbyterian Church to a covenant with Scottish Presbyteries to pledge ourselves to deeper simplicity of faith and reconsecration to the task that faces us in the world. We are living in a time of crisis, he remarked, economic crisis and political crisis, but these are only aspects of the spiritual crisis. Thomas Carlyle said, "They are in the saddle"; and today the Church is commencing to realize that we have been worshipping things. We must dethrone this type of idolatry, and put the soul back into the saddle again. With loud applause the Assembly received this speech.

A few minutes later Archdeacon Blagrove, the representative of the Church of England, moved the Assembly by his eloquent and kindly speech. In a letter from the Primate of all Canada, regret was expressed that he could not be present to carry greetings. But he asked the Archdeacon to convey his warmest greetings, not alone because he was a friend of our retiring Moderator, but because of the position that the Presbyterian Church occupies. Archdeacon Blagrove said he believed that in their communion they had a treasure, likewise in the Presbyterian, but the Christian Church is a fellowship in which there need not be uniformity. Let us have unity in variety, a variety in which there lies a rich contribution for the world.

Sympathy for Dr. Goforth

The Assembly was deeply moved when a lay Commissioner drew their attention to the condition of Dr. Goforth in war-torn Manchuria. The veteran missionary of the Presbyterian Church has lost his eyesight completely. When he returned to the foreign field last year it was minus one eye; now the retina of the second has failed and he is totally blind. A small committee was appointed to cable the sympathy of the court to both Dr. and Mrs. Goforth, who, despite this handicap, have resolutely decided to carry on.

The Civic Welcome

Delegates from the city and from sister Churches made very happy speeches to the Assembly. The Mayor, in welcoming the Commissioners, conferred upon them the key to the freedom of the city—"except to the Government store," which, he said, they would scarcely need. He spoke of the wonderful
