is still prospering. Unlike some sections of Canada, it has no "grief". Farming, in all its phases, is in a state of excellent health notwithstanding a comparative drop in the price of potatoes and other produce. Island industries are having good times.

It all means that our market will be immediately responsive to all bold cultivation of it.

And there is this additional factor of advantage, namely—the Island has an up-to-the-minute live daily newspaper.

REINS FOR SIR HENRY HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 25. (By the Canadian Press)—It was late summer, and the beautiful south shore town of Chester, invaded by thousands of American visitors, was in full swing, inspired by activities of a company renewing search for the traditional Captain Kidd's treasure on Oak Island, a few miles off the coast. Rules of the game barred automobiles, and the merry sleuths were riding everything from horses to wheelbarrows and bugles.

A Royal Military College cadet and his fair lady favored horses and they were getting along at a great rate when the youth discovered what he thought was a clue. He dismounted "Hold my horse, please," he said to a big man standing nearby, as he left to search the thickets. Returning twenty five minutes later he thanked the man and apologized for taking so long. The man was Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, who was in Chester as the guest of Richard Look of Montreal for several weeks.

"Father J. J."

By E. S. M.

Sir,—Many years ago, when in Summerside, in the interest of some writing, I met, and presumed to address, the benign looking gentleman, then visiting from Kinkora, and was gratified by a cheerful response, and ever after, it was a genuine pleasure to learn of his deservedly wide popularity in the various scenes of his spiritual warfare, and a sure consolation to know that he has now gone from his unremitting labors on earth to the enjoyment of that "rest which remaineth for the people of God."

For my good wishes ere his leaving for a visit to Rome, in attendance upon the late worthy reverend Bishop O'Leary, Father J. J. kindly sent me, from The Eternal City, one of the most interesting epistles which I have ever received, concerning principally their cordial reception at the Vatican, the special blessing imparted them by His Holiness, and the wonderful sight of the worshippers from every civilized country under the sun. A splendid return for the lines:

"Good bye! and the blessing go with you, Every inch of the way that you go," handed him by the Bishop ere leaving.

Upon his return the good padre kindly called, and gave such a glowing account of his travels through the Emerald Isle, that memory awoke to the long gone days when a joyous company of young people, students of the University with friends, sailed from Glasgow to spend a pleasant vacation therein. But now—most of that happy through, through faith and service are, we trust, Where oceans wide can ne'er divide Nor tide, nor space may sever: In home of youth's immortal bloom, They live true life forever.

CHURCH SERVICES

ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL

Owing to the absence of Rev. Canon Malone yesterday week in Port Hill Parish, Children's Day was not observed in St. Peter's Cathedral until yesterday. There was a large congregation present at the 11 o'clock choral celebration of the Holy Eucharist yesterday. The service was for the children when suitable hymns were sung, and a very instructive sermon preached by Canon Malone, when he took two of the Church Festivities to illustrate the lesson—the first was All Saints Day which was used to point out the course of the members of the Christian Church, some on earth, some in paradise and some before the Throne of God. The second lesson was on the Festival of St. Andrew, from which was pointed out the necessity of work and prayer for missions.

At Evensong the text for the sermon was the words "I know thy works, thou art neither cold nor hot." From these words a striking sermon was preached referring to slackness in the lives of the present generation in the things of God, and Baldwin, Borden and Bennett were referred to as stating that world conditions would not be fully corrected until the world got back to God.

Wednesday next is the Feast of Saint Simon and Saint Jude, Apostles and martyrs. Sunday next is "All Saints Day" when the 11 o'clock service will be festive. At 7 p.m. The office for the departed will be sung.

Shoe Production Increased Referring again to comparisons between 1931 and 1930 Mr. Stevens noted that the production of boots and shoes for the first eight months this year had risen from 10,639,698 to 11,997,630 pairs; imports of raw cotton from 54,120,000 to 54,850,000 pounds; imports of raw wool from 6,763,000 to 9,320,000 pounds; electrical output showed a drop only of from 11,787,497 to 10,784,192 kilowatt hours; flour production had dropped only from 10,192,132 to 9,305,064 barrels and sugar had dropped from 484,900,000 to 449,700,000 pounds. He interjected that the woollen manufacturers, who enjoyed fair tariff protection in Canada, should see to it that the wool clip of the farmers was all absorbed and in that way help thousands of farmers as well as the big western ranchers.

In the matter of employment, Mr. Stevens compared figures of 1930, putting the index at 100 for that year and showed for the textile trade the figure for 1930 was 102.3 and 98 in 1931, for leather

STEVENS SEES NEW ERA FOR THIS DOMINION

Trade Minister Cites Facts and Figures to Justify His Optimism.

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 24 (By the Canadian Press)—A message of confidence and optimism was brought to the Canadian Manufacturers' Association banquet here tonight by Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce. Prosperity, based on more permanent structures than those which had collapsed in the hectic days of 1928 and 1929 awaited the country in the new epoch which opens next year, he declared.

The Minister was given an eager hearing as he pointed to certain facts and figures to support his conviction that optimism was justified. He hoped these figures would be by way of contrast with the constant comparisons published on the financial pages of daily newspapers which he said, depicted little but the worst side of conditions. Things were undoubtedly bad at present but there was a silver lining, the Minister stated. His purpose was to seek to instill confidence in the country, in the people and in the future, for confidence was needed today throughout the world, more so than any other element in the human make-up. There was a great deal of apprehension rife. There was a lack of trust apparent, unfortunately and decidedly unnecessarily.

"A genuine effort to stimulate internal business is liable to bring more definite results than efforts spent in external trade," Hon. Mr. Stevens said. He pointed to the year of 1929, one of high prices, in which total production in this country had been disposed of on the basis of 20 per cent for external trade and 80 per cent for internal trade. An increase of one per cent in internal trade would mean an increase of $50,000,000. Whereas one per cent increase in external trade would mean only $12,000,000.

Stresses Internal Trade

"I am not seeking to diminish the need for expanding export trade but what I am seeking to impress upon your minds is the opportunity you have of making a fairly rapid expansion of the business of the country by stimulating internal trade."

Reports appearing constantly in the newspapers showing differences between today and the same day last year had a bad effect on the human mind, leading to an impression that all was bad, the minister said.

"As a matter of fact it is not so bad, in the matter of exports we find for the first eight months of 1930 and 1931 that the drop this year is 28.6 per cent. It sounds serious, nearly a third, but on the comparison of prices, as between the two years, we find that the drop would be only 13.3 per cent."

Mr. Stevens called attention to the low prices for building and remarked that many parts of the main cities of Canada would have to be rebuilt. He had noted of late the trend in that direction in Montreal.

The opportunity of building should be seized now during depressed conditions, he said, and the courage would be of benefit to the country at large. He quoted figures to support his contention as to low prices of building materials.

Shoe Production Increased

Referring again to comparisons between 1931 and 1930 Mr. Stevens noted that the production of boots and shoes for the first eight months this year had risen from 10,639,698 to 11,997,630 pairs; imports of raw cotton from 54,120,000 to 54,850,000 pounds; imports of raw wool from 6,763,000 to 9,320,000 pounds; electrical output showed a drop only of from 11,787,497 to 10,784,192 kilowatt hours; flour production had dropped only from 10,192,132 to 9,305,064 barrels and sugar had dropped from 484,900,000 to 449,700,000 pounds. He interjected that the woollen manufacturers, who enjoyed fair tariff protection in Canada, should see to it that the wool clip of the farmers was all absorbed and in that way help thousands of farmers as well as the big western ranchers.

In the matter of employment, Mr. Stevens compared figures of 1930, putting the index at 100 for that year and showed for the textile trade the figure for 1930 was 102.3 and 98 in 1931, for leather products the figures were 89 in 1930 and 87 in 1931, in transportation the figures were 90.8 and 96, respectively; for electric current, 130 and 123, respectively. So, commented Mr. Stevens, it was not so bad in those lines. On a ten year comparison of 1921 and 1931 it would be shown that despite setbacks, there had been a healthy, and in some instances even very heavy increases during the decade, in industrial production.

Increased Gold Output

The increase in gold production from 13 to 35 millions in the decade, should give Canadians heart and courage, he declared.

Referring to wheat Mr. Stevens reviewed figures of production and declared: "After two years of depression in what is my firm conviction that we are entering upon an era of reasonable optimism. We must, of course, remember that the purchasing power of the buying countries is somewhat weak, and we therefore expect a substantial advance in the wheat market, which will be a very encouraging thing for Canada."

It was not a question of bringing back the hectic days of 1928 and 1929, the Minister said in conclusion. It was necessary to adapt oneself to new conditions in 1932, which he felt, would usher in a new epoch. To that end it was necessary that all do their utmost, first to stimulate internal trade, second, to seek at home for primary products such as in the steel industry rather than import in heavy quantities.

School Teachers Leave The Room

TRURO, N. S., Oct. 25.—"Leave the room" is often said by school teachers, but very rarely to them. Truro had one of those very rare occasions last week when Mr. Justice Pilon, presiding at the fall session of supreme court ordered half a dozen school marns, including at least one principal, out of the court room because of improper conduct.

A case was being heard in which a public school teacher was on trial in connection with corporal punishment administered to one of her class.

"How high did the teacher raise her hand when she was strapping the plaintiff?" E. T. Parker, Halifax lawyer, asked a little girl witness. The witness signified the height. Then came another query: "How do you know that?" The answer: "I saw her."

It was too much for a group of pedagogues sitting in the jury box. Something stirred their risibilities. In union they laughed aloud. His Lordship ordered the removal from the court room of those who created the disturbance. And in less time than it takes to narrate it the sheriff had the offending ladies on their way out.

Large Shed With Contents Burned

QUEBEC, Que., Oct. 25.—Fire of unknown origin which broke out at 2 o'clock this morning totally destroyed the Quebec harbor commission's shed No. 25 with all its contents and twelve loaded freight cars standing alongside. The shed, located at the extreme end of the breakwater, measured six hundred feet in length and contained a quantity of sugar, slag British Columbia fir and other merchandise. The twelve cars were loaded chiefly with sugar destined for points west.

Sailing Doctor Tends The Fleet

HALIFAX, N. S., October 24.—(By the Canadian Press)—Home-made remedies and amateur doctoring are no longer the sole reliance of Nova Scotia's fishermen on the Grand Banks, who suffer the misfortune of sickness or accident. During the past season, the seventh throughout which a doctor has been sent out to cover the Banks on a government steamer, two hundred and eighty-five cases were treated successfully at sea by Dr. D. R. Webster aboard the steamer Arras, sent along with the fleet by the Dominion Board of Fisheries. The sea-going physician is a son of Dr. C. O. R. Webster, of Pictou, N. S.

Twenty nine necessary operations were performed at sea, though none of them were serious, and three fishermen who needed treatment which could not be given them aboard, were hurried to the special facilities of the hospital by the Arras.

Dr. Webster not only treated the cases of sickness occurring on the fishing vessels during their weeks at sea, but carried on investigations into the causes of hand infection among the men. So far as these are concerned, the fishermen were much more fortunate in 1930 than in previous years.

"In some years I have treated as many as sixty of these cases," Dr. Webster said "this year there were only two, and those of a mild character. It was a remarkable coincidence that with scarcity of bait and fish, hand infections practically disappeared. Squid were practically absent from the grounds."

In his report Dr. Webster says that "judicious use of brass chains on the wrist appears to be a large factor in reducing infection brought about by the chaffing of oilskins."

Of fourteen men who were treated for this in one year all but three had been working without the wrist chains.

Respiratory infections have been quite numerous among men of the fleet in some seasons, and are said to result from changes in atmospheric conditions the fishermen meet when their vessels reach the Banks.

Yellow-Brown Race Produced By Fashion

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 24—Edwin R. Embree, president of the Julius Rosenwald Fund, says in a book, just published, that a new race of brown skinned people, has been found in the United States.

The group, of whom there are 12,070,000 members was formed of the fusion of blacks, whites and yellow-browns, and is new in biological makeup, the writer says in his "Brown America. The Story of a New Race." The family tree of the new race, he writes, has deeper roots than that of the Mayflower descendants and has evolved in a century, as compared with the aeons required to develop the Egyptians, Greeks, Jews or Chinese. Mr. Embree's researches, the book says, have led him to the conclusion that more than half of the negroes in the United States have some white or Indian blood. "Black forefathers of the new race," he wrote, "were among the first white settlers of the new world. In 1619, according to John Smith's General History, there arrived in Jamestown a Dutch man, that sold us twenty negroes." So just twelve years after the establishment in Virginia of the first permanent British colony in

Fail To Reach Agreement

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 25.—Steamship operators and representatives of union dock workers, having spent the week in conference, proposal and counter proposal, yesterday had reached no agreement for settlement of the strike of Boston longshoremen.

America, and a few months before the Mayflowers landed the pilgrims at Plymouth, the beginnings of the new race were made.

The diversity of Africans brought in during slave days, even with no admixture of white or Indian blood the author continued, would itself have produced a new race different from any single tribe in Africa. But white and Indian blood began to be fused with the black.

"No special odium" he wrote, "was attached to the begetting of mulatto children in slave days. It was regarded almost as a matter of course."
