John J Bowlen

Liveryman and Contractor, officer and barn 13 Champin street. Among those who have succeeded in business in Southbridge methods none are entitled to more prominent mention than John J. Bowlen. He established his livery business on Elm street in 1885 and built and moved to his present location in 1890. He had a fine large livery barn and the very best turnips to be had in this section. His building contains 32 stalls and is constructed upon the most modern plans. Aside from his livery business Mr. Bowlen has constructed a number of residence buildings, including his home and several tenements which he owns. He took the contract last year for building the state roads in the town of Sturbridge, and at once bought a stone crusher and road roller, and the coming season will make rapid progress with his work. Mr. Bowlen is a native of Prince Edward Island, Canada, coming here in 1871. He is a member of the K. of C., Foresters, a Master Workman, Member of Mass. Highway Assn, treasurer of the Veteran Farmers Assn, Mass., and takes an active interest in political matters, being secretary of the town Democratic committee, and was lately appointed street commissioner. He owns a fine farm of fifty acres in Sturbridge, to which he gives considerable attention. He is a pushing, energetic business man and has become successful through his own efforts.—Southbridge, Mass. Journal.
