MOTHER GOOSE JINGLES.

Moderated so as to Meet the Popular Demand.

"The jingles of good old Mother Goose, which have gladdened the hearts of children through many generations, perhaps will live as long as the race endures, in themselves an unalterable fit of absurd literature," said the untamed poet. "Yet if they must remain unalterable in form why should they not be modified in spirit so far as to meet modern conditions? I contend that they should be, and with this idea in view the following simple substitutes"—

The untamed poet left his sentence unfinished, and his eye in a fine frenzy rolling, read as follows:

Little Bo Peep had lost her sheep
One day while feeling sorry,
"By their soot I will trace their hiding place,
For they're Pittsburg sheep," said
Boozie.

Hey, diddle, diddle, the cat and the fiddle!
The cow jumped over the moon.
"I'm midding high," said she, "but, my, just wait till I'm beefsteaks soon!"

Ride a "mobile" to hear people squeal
At fifty miles per hour;
Then swear in a court, for the people's sport,
That the limit was twelve miles power.

Simple Simon met a pleman
Telling his wares in town.
Said Simple Simon: "You're a guy, man,
Go way back and sit down."
Said the pleman to Simple Simon,
"You are a saucy elf!"
The pleman's hand was heavy, and
Si can't sit down himself.

Mary had a little lamb,
And her the policeman on the side,
They brought the bill to Mary,
"Good Lord!" she said and died.

Rockaby, baby, your cradle is green;
You in the park shall be frequently seen
To roll and to romp with the kids of your class
And hear the policemen yell, "Off of der grass!"

—Alfred J. Waterhouse in New York Times.

All For the Best.

"Yes," said Mr. Cumrox, "my daughter's commencement essay was very fine."

"Did you enjoy it?"

"I should say so. I wish I could write something like it."

"You regret not having applied yourself to literary pursuits?"

"No. If I had I probably couldn't have afforded to give Ethelinda the education which enabled her to produce this masterpiece."—Washington Star.

Accurate to the Letter.

"Understand you had a fight with Jones. How was it?"

"Oh, it wasn't much of a fight. Jones blustered around and threatened to thrash me. I dared the coward to lay a hand on me, and he didn't take the dare. It wasn't much of a scrap."

"Why, two or three persons told me he kicked you into the gutter."

"Well, that wasn't laying a hand on me, was it?"—Kansas City Journal.

Thomas Was Right.

Teacher—Now, Thomas, if I gave you five rabbits and then took back two how many rabbits would you have left?

Thomas—Four, please, teacher.

Teacher—Nonsense! How do you make that out?

Thomas—Please, teacher, 'cos I've got another rabbit at home.—Boston Globe.

All Out.

"I was looking for you and your automobile yesterday on the speedway, but you weren't out, were you?"

"Huh!" I was out three different ways. First I was out in it, then I was out of it, and when it finally struck a tree and blew up I was out on it about $600.—Public Ledger.

How to Come.

"I'm sorry I brought you to the shore at all," exclaimed her mother. "The idea of your being engaged to two young men. It's shameful!"

"Oh, I don't know, ma," protested the summer girl. "Give me time; I've only been here three days."—Philadelphia Press.

A Proud Parent.

"How is Josh doing at school?"

"Splendid," answered Farmer Corn-tossel. "He's been hazed, played football and joined two college societies, and ain't been to the hospital once."—Washington Star.

Hasily Pleased.

"The well is all dried up, Bessie, and we can't get no water."

"Never mind, George. I'd just as lief have lemonade."—New York Evening Journal.

A Novel Kite Competition.

An interesting competition is to be carried out under the auspices of the Aeronautical Society of Great Britain, to ascertain the maximum height to which it is possible to fly kites. The trials will take place on the Sussex Downs. The contest is of an international character, so as to obtain considerable data relative to the utility of kites for meteorological operations, and the best type of kites with which to attain high altitudes. There is no stipulation regarding the size of the kites, but only single kites must be employed, and a height of 3,000 feet is fixed as the minimum. The duration of flight must be one hour. Each kite will carry a weight of two pounds to represent scientific instruments. Several enthusiastic kite flyers have decided to participate in the contest. Various materials in the manufacture of the kites will be employed. Most of them will be made of canvas, but one will be flown constructed of aluminum. This is a decided novelty, but it is anticipated that it will work satisfactorily. The string is steel wire wound upon a big reel, and weighing fifteen pounds to the mile, so that at an elevation of 15,840 feet the kite will have to support a weight of 45 pounds. These will also be an exhibition fight by Mr. Patrick Alexander of almost every kind of kite used by man, inclusive of the Japanese and Chinese. In the event of there being insufficient wind to lift the kites from a stationary position, it is proposed to employ motor cars to give them a flying start, in precisely the same manner in which a boy runs, dragging his kite behind him in order to obtain sufficient atmospheric resistance to cause the kite to rise.

It Would Look Gay.

The minister of a little Scotch village was at the bedside of a Scotchman named Donald, preparing him by pious exhortations for the great journey. "Have you anything on your mind, Donald?" he asked. "Is there any question you would like to ask me?" And the minister bent down to listen to the dying man's reply. "Na, minister, I'm as afeard as I read like to ken the 'where' there'll be whiskey in heaven?" Upon his spiritual counsellor remarking that he had no such thought at such a moment, he hastened to add, with a knowing look: "Oh! it's no that I mind, minister; I only thought I'd like to see it on the table!"

The Walking Man.

Lord de Manley is a man who is familiarly known as the "Walking Jew." He is a great walker, and is said to walk faster and over more ground than any other man in London. This, perhaps, accounts for his thinness, which is extraordinary, and almost amounts to emaciation. Lord de Manley began his life in the Ride Brigade, and afterwards held a staff appointment in Canada. He has a beautiful place in Dorsetshire, but is unmarried, and his brother is heir to the title and property, which is extensive.

Fish Family Is Numerous.

The true fishes are estimated by Drs. Jordan and Evermann to number 12,000 species, belonging to 200 families. Of these, 8,500 species have been distinguished in the waters of North and South America.

Many Helpless With Paralysis

Who Could Now be Well Had They but Known of

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

We do not claim that every one who is paralyzed can be cured by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, for many are beyond the reach of any medical treatment and must finish their days in helplessness and suffering.

It is rather to those who are only partially paralyzed and to those who are slowly but surely developing the symptoms which indicate the approach of such ailments that we would suggest the advisability of using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the great food cure for diseases of the nerves.

"When you find yourself lying awake nights, suffer from indigestion and headache, feel drowsy after meals and losing energy, ambition and courage, it is time to pay attention to the nerves. You may find yourself irritable at times, worried over little things, unable to concentrate the mind, forgetful and absentminded, disheartened and discouraged. Better give some attention to the nerves.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food cures and prevents paralysis and locomotor ataxia. It does not ease by inducing unconsciousness and unnatural sleep. It does not deaden the nerves as do opiates and narcotics. But, on the other hand, by assisting nature and supplying the elements from which are formed new blood and nerve force, effects thorough and lasting cure and is bound to benefit all who use it.

Seldom if ever, has any medicine secured such heavy endorsement of physicians and people alike. The cures which it has brought about have often been most extraordinary, any one who regularly and persistently uses this great food cure is sure to find it of inestimable value as a nerve restorative and blood builder.

By noting your increase in weight while using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food you can prove that new firm flesh and muscular tissue are being added to the body. 50c a box, 10c boxes for $2.50 at all dealers or Edman, Bates & Company, Toronto. To protect you against imitations the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box.

It cures DIARRHEA, DYSENTERY, CHOLERA, CHOLERA MORBUS, CHOLERA INFANTUM, COLIC, CRAMPS, SPASMS, SUMMER COMPLAINT, AND ALL FLUXES OF THE BOWELS.

Its action is Harmless, Reliable and Effective.

Relief is almost instantaneous.

Dr. J. H. Welch, Charlottetown, P. E. I., writes: "I take great pleasure in telling you what Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry has done for me and mine. A year ago my little girl, now nearly three years old, was attacked with Cholera Infantum. It was in the hot season and she was teething at the time. The doctor gave her up; in fact, I did so myself. I finally decided to try Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry. I procured a bottle and it did her so much good that I got another bottle and by the time it was finished she was completely cured. As for myself, I have saved me from inflammation of the bowels several times. I always keep a bottle in the house and cannot recommend it too highly."
