SICK HEADACHE

Many varieties of headache exist, those most prevalent being sick or bilious headache, nervous headache, headache from constipation, etc.

Headache is an effect of disease, the cry of the suffering body for relief from some oppressing disorder.

Undoubtedly the cause must be removed in order to cure the headache permanently. Wrong action of the stomach, liver or bowels is responsible for nine out of ten cases of headache.

In sick headache (a very common form) there is sometimes nausea and vomiting and usually constipation.

In nearly all forms of headache

has proved itself a specific—a medicine that has cured where all others failed.

Keep the stomach, liver and bowels in perfect working order by the use of nature's regulator and tonic, Burdock Blood Bitters, which cures all forms of headache by removing the cause.

Miss L. Smith, Morrisburg, Ont., writes: "I desire to let you know how much good Burdock Blood Bitters has done for me. I was troubled with headaches all the time, and could get no relief, until a friend told me of your Burdock Blood Bitters. After taking two bottles of it, I can say that I am completely cured."

B.B.B. is for sale at all druggists and general stores. Do not accept something "just as good."

Hair Care

Hair and scalp diseases are caused by certain forms of germ life hidden deep in the scalp. To cure the surface conditions it is necessary to reach the cause below.

ELITE DANDRUFF CURE AND HAIR TONIC

does this. It penetrates the scalp and destroys the germs that cause the trouble. It does more—it nourishes the weakened hair bulbs back to health. It is both a germicide and a natural food for the hair. Gives the hair new life, luster and growth. Cures dandruff and stops falling hair.

WEDNESDAY. NOVEMBER 1, 1905.

AFFAIRS OF RUSSIA.

It was on November 1, 1894 that the Emperor Nicholas acceded to the throne. He was then 26 yeare of age. He has now signalised the anniversary of his accession by granting to his people a national Parliament based on the representation of all classes, the right of free speech, a free press, freedom of public assembly, and a large measure of personal freedom which includes the British safeguard of the writ of habeas corpus. The change is a sweeping one. The absolute power of the Autocrat is surrendered and Russia becomes a limited monarchy.

We presume the change is as great as any well-informed and judicious friend of liberty would think desirable to be made at a single step in the case of a nation such as Russia, where the masses of the people are at once so poor, so ignorant and so unused to liberty. But it must not be supposed that the Russian people even if they shall now accept the proffered conditions, will at once enter upon the enjoyment of such liberty as prevails in free countries. Centuries of arbitrary rule has so broken the spirit of the people that the greater half of them are not fitted to enjoy or assert their freedom, and their emergence into real liberty will be a slow and gradual process.

And it may be too late that the Czar has yielded. It is evident that he has yielded most reluctantly. It is only the humiliation of most a disastrous war abroad followed by insurrection at home, and the utter inability of his Government to negotiate a greatly needed loan in the present disturbed condition of the country, that has forced his hand. Nicholas is no friend to popular liberty, and his entourage were more determinedly committed to holding the people in complete subjection than he himself. The popular uprising has gathered such headway and become so conscious of its strength that it may refuse to be pacified by concessions, wrung from an unwilling despot and bureaucracy in the hour of their extremity. The people may demand the abdication, if not the banishment or death of the Autocrat.

The revolution is not yet over. It may even be that the freedom of speech, of the press and of public meetings now granted by the Czar will give a new impetus to the revolution at once, or some months hence. On the other hand the angry energy now devoted to revolutionary projects may possibly be diverted and dissipated in the election to the first National Parliament. Time will settle these questions. Witte is a strong and great man, who stands well with the people, and who has apparently brought the Czar to his terms. He may be able, if not to quell the storm, to so control it that the national transformation may proceed along peaceful lines. Be that as it may these days are big with fate for the Czar and his people.

The election in Fort Augustus district will be brought on promptly, nomination on the 18th and polling 25th, November.

There are some symptoms of activity in Scott Act enforcement in King's County, and there is room for still more, especially in the vicinity of Cardigan. In the meantime a sufficient number of signers have been obtained to the petition to repeal the Act with a view to bring in the Prohibitory Law, with its higher penalties.

Mr. Carnegie has given vast sums to public libraries all over the English-speaking world, but he is not the only philanthropist in that line. In seven months past $5,128,170 was donated for libraries in the United States, of which only one-fifth part came from Mr. Carnegie. And yet his total of library donations from first to last runs very close to forty millions of dollars, three quarters of which was bestowed in the United States.

Woodstock New Brunswick is a small town to become the beneficiary of nearly $400,000 from a deceased citizen. That is according to Canadian precedent, but such things are common enough in the United States. Indeed across the border it is no uncommon thing for a town the size of Charlottetown to receive millions from its wealthy citizens in the way of donations and legacies for public uses. Woodstock is nearer the American border and the late Mr. Fisher may have caught the generous infection by contiguity. In any case what better monument can a wealthy and patriotic citizen desire than that his superfluous wealth shall be expended in public utilities bearing his name for all time in the town where he had his home? We trust that some good citizen, abundantly blessed with this world's goods may in due time remember Charlottetown in the same manner as L. P. Fisher has remembered Woodstock.

Minard's Liniment Relieves Neuralgia.

It is well for the outside world to know that after a quarter of a century with the Scott Act continuously in force in the three Counties of Prince Edward Island, it is the temperance people and not the liquor interest which is seeking a change. The change is sought in order to bring our provincial Prohibitory Law into force throughout the entire Province; to give unity to the administration of prohibitory enforcement; to get the advantage of the better machinery and the doubled penalties of the newer law. It is a step forward that our temperance people are taking, and they are taking it deliberately and with determined resolution.

Admittedly the policy of high protection is inimical to the ship-building and ship-owning industry in both the United States and Canada. How much the Republic and the Dominion have lost in this way may never be known. Just now the Sewalls, the great shipbuilding firm of Bath, Maine, announce that they will build no more. They will allow their vast plant to pass into decay. In this age of growing and expanding commerce it is pitiful to read the figures of Canada's declining ship tonnage. It grows less year by year while our people are paying ever increasing millions yearly to British and foreign vessels which do our carrying trade.

The recent warlike utterances of the German Emperor, calling upon his military officers to keep their powder dry and their swords sharp, are thought by some to refer to the disturbed outlook in Austria-Hungary. Francis Joseph, the Emperor of Austria since 1848 and also King of Hungary since 1867 is now in his 76th year. He has weathered many storms in his time and it seems that only his high character and wisdom and the personal attachment of his subjects, hold the dual monarchy together. With the end of his reign Hungary will almost undoubtedly seek for separation. Troublous times await Francis Joseph's exit, and the Kaiser hopes to profit by the coming change, as Austro-Hungary has a large German population.

There had been down to the memorable evening of 30th October a current and widespread belief, which had also been the belief of the most eminent scientists from and before the days of Newton down to the present, that the ocean tides are caused by the attraction of the sun and moon. It required a very strong and very wise man, fortified with the best of reasons (in his mind) to strike down this belief as a superstition and relegate to a back seat the learned and distinguished savans who have written on the subject of the tides. This done, it would now seem to be necessary to acquaint the great waters with the fact of their liberation. For if this is neglected there may be danger that the waters of the seven seas will go on timing their motions by those of the greater luminaries as they have hitherto done, and "following the moon in neaps and springs" as from time immemorial. It is not enough to tell "to the marines" the new theory of the tides. The Atlantic and the Pacific oceans should be made acquainted with it, that they may take due notice and govern themselves accordingly.

Perhaps its diphtheria or scarlet fever. Keep your own home free from the germs of these diseases. Prevent your children from having them. You can do it with our Vapo-Cresolene. Put some Cresolene in our vaporizer, light the lamp beneath, and let the vapor fill the sleeping room. Have the children sleep in the room every night, for it's perfectly safe, yet not a single disease germ can live in this vapor. Ask your doctor about it. 56

NOVEMBER 8th, 1905

At their farm, Charlottetown Royalty, two miles from Charlottetown, the following registered Ayrshire Cattle.

One yearling bull, Glencairn, of Spruce Row sired by Glencairn 4th, bred by Robert Reford, Montreal; 1 yearling bull, Brown Chief, of Spruce Row, sired by Starlight of St. Anne's 1 two year old heifer in calf, by Starlight of St. Anne's, due to calve 7th January, 1906; one two year old grade heifer in calf; by Starlight, due to calve December 18th, 1905; 1 new milch cow, 1 dry cow, 1 registered shorthorn yearling heifer, 5 bull calves from 1 to 6 years old, all sired by Starlight of St. Anne's.

This stock is bred from the best blood obtainable for dairy purposes, as the sire of the young bulls offered for sale was purchased from Robert Reford, Esq., of Montreal, who owned one of the leading Ayrshire herds in Canada, who spared no expense in selecting the very best of the breed in Scotland, and their dams are mostly all sired by the noted bull "Dainty Lad of Elm Shade".
