(Continued from Page 1) worthy, he said. Martin White, second engineer, of Poulamond, N.S., one of the survivors, was reported recovering slowly from exposure and shock in hospital here. He was told today that his son, Harry, was lost. At Montreal, Capt. Thomas Smith commander of the Sand Merchant until last June, said "it was a stroke of fate that sent her to the bottom. There was no steader, safer boat afloat on the lakes." It was uncertain tonight when the survivors would be able to return to their homes in Canada. They were suffering from shock and several had heavy colds.

TORONTO, Oct. 19—(CP)—Unless an inquiry or a royal commission investigation is instituted in the meantime, Thomas L. Church, Conservative member of parliament for Toronto East, will ask for a parliamentary probe of the sinking of the Sand Merchant when the House of Commons meets, he said today.

"A wreck commissioner inquiry can do nothing," Mr. Church said. "I have since 1922 brought up in the House several times the operations of sand pump companies, taking sand from Federal harbors and on the Great Lakes for which they pay nothing." The Member said the inquiry he proposes would embrace a general investigation of lake shipping.

ARICHA, N. S., Oct. 19—(CP)—In the lonely village of Poulamond, 15 miles from here, Mrs. Martin White rejoiced tonight that her husband had been saved from the sunken sand-sucker Sand Merchant, even though her son had been drowned with 18 others when the boat went down in Lake Erie Saturday night.

Mrs. White believed at first both members of her family were lost when the Lake vessel overturned and sank in a storm. Her husband was second mate on the Sand Merchant, but Harry, her eldest child, had been with the vessel "Only a short time."

"Mrs. White's husband and son were both drowned yesterday, weren't they?" Dr. E. A. LeBlanc, French Acadian physician in Poulamond, asked friends in Sydney, 50 miles away, today. "That will be good news for her," he replied when he was told Martin White was one of the seven survivors of the far-away disaster.

Martin White, a native of Newfoundland, came to Poulamond 25 years ago and married a native-born girl. He is father of eight children.

TAXI-CAB ARMY MADRID, Oct. 19—(AP)—The sorely-pressed Government defenders of Madrid tonight mobilized a "taxi-cab army" similar to that employed by the French in the first battle of the Marne.

At the front, the routed Government militia fell back on Torrejon de la Calzada, only 16 miles from Madrid. Every available man or boy who could aim a rifle was pressed into service as the Government utilized all resources to stem the Fascist advance. Three thousand taxis were lined up with drivers assigned to each in the event it is necessary to augment the lorries and double-decked buses now being used for troop transport.

For days laborers have erected cement pill-boxes at strategic points in the city and strung barbed wire barricades. If the Fascists should gain the city, the Government leaders promised, they will have to fight hand-to-hand every inch of their way through the streets. General Jose Asensio, Government commander of the forces defending the capital, installed reinforcements at Parla, north of Torrejon, and prepared to back up any possible retreat with this second line of defence.

Within Madrid the Government clamped down new regulations to conserve the resources of the capital. Street lights were ordered turned off at 10 p.m. and water supplies were limited. Stringent regulations on the capital's food supply also were ordered.

TALAVERA, SPAIN, Oct. 19—(AP)—Fascists insurgents tonight hammered spokes of steel down into highroads leading into the hub—Madrid. One motorized column rolled northeast from Illescas, forcing the retreating Government militia back on Torrejon de la Calzada, only 16 miles from the capital.

Another fork of the Fascist advance marched speedily up from the converging road from Maqueda. Tonight the advance units of this column were only four miles from the immediate objective, Navalcarnero. Fascist leaders everywhere were jubilant, and General Emilio Mola, in a broadcast, said his troops would be in Madrid "within a few days."

Most observers, however, thought the insurgent command would await further consolidation of its positions before launching the final direct attack on Madrid. On the Northern Front, the Fascists rescued Oviedo from the ferocious, dynamite-tossing Asturian miners who had besieged it for three months.

A garrison of Fascists was liberated and the insurgent leaders reported food supplies were being trucked into the city. When and if Madrid should fall, the Fascists said, Government leaders and sympathizers would have only a few highways and airways open for escape.

The Fascist troops due west of Madrid renewed drives which they hoped would take them into El Escorial, their immediate objective. A fierce aerial battle was fought over Illescas as the victorious Fascists marched into the city. Three insurgent planes shot down an enemy bomber and a pursuit ship. Both pilots were burned to death.

close whether his government would withdraw from the body. LISBON, Portugal, Oct. 19—(AP)—Premier Antonio De Oliveira Salazar tonight re-affirmed Portugal's determination to continue its ancient alliance with Great Britain. "Our foreign policy has one point which is unchangeable—that of the British alliance," Salazar declared. "Nothing can lead us or the British to alter it, even in the smallest clauses."

Portugal's "strong man" announced the army would be re-equipped and strengthened in the near future. "The army cannot be a group of civil servants in uniform," he said.

BOARD WILL INVESTIGATE WAGE DISPUTE

Railway Employees Seek Return of 10-Per-Cent Wage Reduction.

OTTAWA, Oct. 19—(CP)—On recommendation of Canadian railway employees respectively, Hon. J.G. Gardiner, Acting Minister of Labor, has appointed two members to a Board of Conciliation which will investigate the 10-per-cent wage reduction dispute involving approximately 100,000 workers.

The acting minister tonight announced that W. Sanford Evans, of Winnipeg had been appointed on recommendation of the Canadian Railways and Fred Bancroft, Oakville, Ont., on that of the employees. Under the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act the next step will be for Mr. Evans and Mr. Bancroft to confer with a view to making a joint recommendation for chairman of the board. If they agree on a man he will probably be appointed by the minister. Failing agreement, the minister will make the appointment himself.

The difference arose when employees of both the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways asked for a discontinuance of the 10-per-cent deduction from basic rates of pay which has been effective for some time. The request was refused, and employees thereupon applied to the Minister of Labor for appointment of a conciliation board.

Employees of the two big roads, and of the following subsidiaries are affected: Dominion Atlantic Railway, Quebec Central, Northern Alberta Railways and Esquimaux and Nanaimo Railway. Indicated by their work, employees affected are as follows: Locomotive engineers, locomotive firemen, hostlers and hostler helpers, conductors, trainmen, railway telegraphers, commercial telegraphers, mechanists, carmen, boiler-makers, blacksmiths, sheet metal workers, electrical workers, stationery firemen and others, maintenance of way employees, pipe fitters, railway and steamship clerks, and signal maintainers.

maintain an action for seduction and no damage had been proved. Mr. Maclean attacked this finding on two grounds, maintaining proof of damage was not necessary and that in any case damage had been proved.

Explanation of the approved list of hospitals was made at the opening of the Congress by Dr. Malcolm T. MacEachern, Associate Director of the American College of Surgeons, who has charge of the Hospital Standardization movement. Relating its history, development, and progress, Dr. MacEachern stated: "The Hospital Standardization movement was inaugurated nineteen years ago by the American College of Surgeons, now comprising approximately 12,000 leading surgeons in the United States and Canada, for the purpose of encouraging, assisting, and guiding hospitals to meet certain definite requirements for the proper care of patients. At that time only 89 hospitals in the United States and Canada could measure up to the requirements. This number has now increased to 2,567 or 72.2 per cent of all hospitals of 25 beds and over caring for acute diseases. More than 40,000 individual surveys of hospitals have been completed by the American College of Surgeons at its own expense, a mammoth task performed solely for the protection and benefit of the public.

"Since the inauguration of the Hospital Standardization movement, the death rate in approved hospitals has been cut in half. Risk in major surgical operations has been reduced to a minimum, methods of administering anesthetics have greatly improved, and the treatment of cancer, goitre, fractures, and other serious conditions is vastly more effective. Moreover, during the past two decades, the average stay of patients has been reduced one half in approved hospitals."

(The approved hospitals in this state include the Prince Edward Island Hospital, the Charlottetown Hospital, the Provincial Sanatorium and the Prince County Hospital.)

5 Judges Hear Appeal Argument In Brownlee Case

OTTAWA, Oct. 19—(CP)—With five judges of the Supreme Court of Canada tonight rests the issue of whether Miss Vivian MacMillan recovers any damages from John Brownlee, former Premier of Alberta, for an alleged seduction.

Argument in Miss MacMillan's appeal from judgments of the Alberta courts concluded before the Supreme Court today and the judges reserved their decision. The jury at the trial in Edmonton awarded Miss MacMillan $10,000 and her father, Allan D. MacMillan, $5,000. Justice Ives refused to enter the verdict and dismissed the action. The Alberta Court of Appeal upheld him unanimously regarding the father's claim but two of the five judges would have allowed the girl's appeal. From this decision Miss MacMillan appealed to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Questions of both law and fact were involved as Neil Maclean argued for Miss MacMillan and A.L. Smith and R. Marland represented Mr. Brownlee. In dismissing the action Justice Ives held damage was necessary to

Island Hospitals On Approved List

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 19—"Medical practice and hospital service in the United States and Canada today are giving the people of these two great nations the best that medical science has to offer," declares Dr. George Crile of Cleveland, Chairman of the Board of Regents of the American College of Surgeons, which is opening its twenty-sixth annual Clinical Congress here today. "The American College of Surgeons is dedicated to the improvement of our hospital system and medical practice," says Dr. Crile, "and through its requirements for approval of hospitals, it stimulates those institutions to contribute to the advancement of medical science as well as provide proper care for the sick and injured, and teach health regulations for the prevention of disease, so that hospitals may better fulfill their sacred duty of saving human lives."

"One out of every 15 persons throughout the United States and Canada was a patient in a hospital last year. Today there are approximately 800,000 persons in hospitals receiving treatment for various ailments or diseases. Inasmuch as no person can foretell when he may need hospital care, knowing about hospitals in times such as these is extremely important, and actually constitutes a measure of preparedness. Each year the American College of Surgeons publishes a list of approved hospitals with which the public should be thoroughly familiar."

Explanation of the approved list of hospitals was made at the opening of the Congress by Dr. Malcolm T.
