TRIXIE FRIGANZA AT B. F. KEITH'S, BOSTON

Direct from the biggest success of her career at the New York Winter Garden, Trixie Friganza, the celebrated musical comedy star, comes to B. F. Keith's Theatre next week as the star attraction of a splendid vaudeville bill. Miss Friganza has not appeared in Boston for over a year, her last appearance here being with the "Passing Show of 1912." For her engagement at B. F. Keith's Miss Friganza will bring a brand-new repertoire of original songs and stories, and wear beautiful Parisian gowns. The bill will be exceptionally strong in comedy numbers. Charles Abearn and his big company of Cycling Comedians, who have just closed their second season as the star comedy number of the Gertrude Hoffman show, will appear in their new comedy bicycle act. One of the features is a great mile a minute race between Mr. Abearn and an automobile racer. Olga Perlova, the beautiful Russian dancer, and her big company of dancers, will appear in a unique Russian terpsichorean specialty, and other features will be Joe Keno and Koste Green in "Hands Across the Street," Percy Vargas and his company of English players in the uproariously funny comedy of English seafaring life from the pen of W. W. Jacobs, entitled, "The Bossun's Mate;" Darto and Clark, singing and dancing comedians, in "Sixty-Five," a modern hotel comedy; Jean Libonelli, the wizard of the xylophone; Handers & Hulse, two clever English eccentric dancers; and Lelando, the novelty oil painter.

A Paris Chemist Has Discovered How to Grow Hair

In Paris the ladies have entirely abandoned wearing rates, which is due entirely to this new discovery. It has been proven that Henna leaves contain the ingredients that will positively grow hair. That they contain this long-sought-for article is proven every day. The French are now placing on the market a preparation containing the extract from Henna leaves, which is having a phenomenal sale. This preparation is called SALVIA and is being sold with a guarantee to cure dandruff and to grow hair in abundance. Being delightfully perfumed, SALVIA makes a most pleasant dressing, and is sold by your druggist. A large, generous bottle can be purchased for 50 cents. Geo. E. Hughes, Special Agent.

THE BOOKS OF THE BIBLE IN POETRY

The following brief synopsis of the Bible books, in rhyme, has been kindly sent by Miss Fairweather, superintendent of the Junior League in Moncton, N. B. The Juniors of Moncton have profited much by memorizing the lines as here given:—

THE OLD TESTAMENT
In Genesis the world was made by God's creative hand;
In Exodus the Hebrews marched to gain the Promised Land.
Leviticus contains the law, holy and just and good;
Numbers records the tribes enrolled, all sons of Abram's blood.
Moses in Deuteronomy recounts God's mighty deeds;
Brave Joshua into Canaan's land the host of Israel leads.
In Judges their rebellion oft provokes the Lord to smite,
But Ruth records the faith of one in first and second Samuel of Jesse's son we read;
Ten tribes in first and second King's revolted from his seed;
The first and second Chronicles see Judah captive made,
But Ezra leads a remnant back by princely Cyrus' aid.
The walls around Jerusalem, Nehemiah builds again;
Whist! Hather saves her people from plots of wicked men.
In Job we read how faith will live beneath affliction's rod.
And David's Psalms are precious songs to every child of God.
The Proverbs like a goodly string of choicest pearls appear;
Ecclesiastes teaches man how vain are all things here.
The mystic Song of Solomon exalts sweet Sharon's rose.
While Christ the Saviour and the King the rapt Isaiah shows.
The mourning Jeremiah apostate Israel scorns.
His plaintive Lamentations their awful downfall mourns.
Ezekiel tells in wondrous words of dazzling mysteries;
While Kings and empires yet to come, Daniel in vision sees.
Of judgment and of mercy Hosea loves to tell;
And Joel describes the blessed days when God with man shall dwell.
A song Tekoa's herdsmen Amos received his call;
Whist! Obadiah prophecies of Edom's final fall.
Jonah displays a wondrous type of Christ our risen Lord;
Micah pronounces Judah lost—lost, but again restored.
And Nahum tells on Nineveh just judgment shall be poured.
A view of Chaldea's coming doom, Ezekiel's vision give.
Next, Zephaniah warns the Jews to turn, repent and live.
Haggai wrote to those who saw the temple built again;
And Zechariah prophesied of Christ's triumphant reign.
Malachi was the last who touched the high prophetic chord,
His closing notes sublimely show the coming of the Lord.

URBANVILLE.—The people of Urbanville and vicinity are availing themselves of the opportunity to have their wood sawed by Mr. Joseph L. Gallant of Abrams Village who is doing very satisfactory work in this line.—A young lad by the name of Larkin, had a narrow escape from death while walking on the railroad in the vicinity of Wellington Station. Being over-taken by the morning Express in a deep cut which afforded no means of escape, he did what was best in the circumstances, that is, lay down flat on the side of the track and thus saved himself. He however, sustained severe bruises which were attended to.—Mr. Larry A. Arsenault, Urbanville came home from Summerside Saturday evening and returned Monday morning.—Mrs. Marc J. Arsenault met with a painful accident last week. While doing her house work, her hand came in contact with a needle which after entering the flesh for over half an inch broke off. Mrs. Arsenault was immediately taken to the Summerside Hospital where her injury was attended to. Her friends are glad to hear that the accident did not prove as serious as was anticipated.—M.

WESTERN PERSONALS

There are Many Men who are Hard to "Hat"

Most of the men who now wear caps would be glad to don a derby or fedora—if they could get one that suited them, in fit and looks. And they have found it so hard to get a hat that felt as if it fitted well and looked as if it fitted well, and was becoming also, that they have almost given up hope.

If you Are One of These You'll Find Pleasure in Our Showing of Spring Styles

We had one dominant idea in buying our spring hat stock—we wanted to show such a variety of sizes, shapes and styles in good hats that every taste, every need, every desire could be satisfied. We've the hat here that will suit your size, weight, general appearance, even harmonize with the style of clothes you wear. For we've studied hats from every angle and can now satisfy your every need. Besides the beauty and freshness of the styles, the large stock and great variety of hats you find here—you want good price. And right here is where we give you excellent value for every cent you spend. Prowse's Hat Department is bulging with good buys in good hats. We know by tests—quality and price considered—that good hats cost less at Prowse's—and wear longer too.

lottetown, and its provisional direct-outstretched paw. The monkey darted or to be Messrs. Frank Hertz and away, and the man with the organ W. K. Rogers, of Charlottetown, disappeared also. A second later I missed a ring from the tray, and calling to the proprietor of the shop to retain the lady, I dashed after the organ-grinder and found the missing ring in the man's pocket. He also had several other articles of stolen jewellery, which had been handed to the monkey from various shops by the lady, who, it subsequently transpired, was his wife. Another female shoplifter who I caught red-handed carried in her arm a fluffy-coated pet dog, which she was in the habit of placing with childlike simplicity on the counters of the shops she entered. The dog was trained to thief, and its owner had only to give it a touch on the tail to indicate the moment of action. Quick as a flash the dog's agile paw would seize some small article of value within reach and conceal it in the confusion of downy fur that covered its legs. To be a successful sharp one must have iron nerves, absolute self-control, and abstemious habits. The former two are not as a rule possessed by women, and this being so it is a remarkable fact that some of the leverest card sharppers of the present day are of the fair sex. Female sharps are seldom brought to justice; their victims, mostly of the sterner sex, not caring to court publicity by prosecuting them. I have found that the average female pickpocket is far smarter than the man who piles the same game. This is probably due to the fact that her hands are smaller. A woman thief who was charged with picking a pocket was acquitted owing to the efforts of her counsel she employed to defend her. Before leaving the court she walked up to the man of law and thanked him, and he assured her that he had never for a moment doubted her innocence, and that her thanks were quite unnecessary. Half an hour later he missed his gold watch. The woman had cleverly picked his pocket while speaking to him.

SWINDLERS IN SKIRTS.

It has been said that women never make good criminals, but experience has taught me that in many ways the members of the fair sex who take to crime as a means of livelihood are often far cleverer than their male rivals. A detective to the writer the other day. Two of the smartest thieves who ever "worked" the Continent were an Englishwoman of middle-age and her daughter. They robbed hotels wholesale in France, and made in this way within a few months over $15,000. With this money they set up a well established in Paris, with carriage and servants. They found their way into Society, and as a result a wealthy merchant became susceptible to the charms of the daughter, who, by the way, was exceptionally pretty. An engagement followed, and the couple were to be married within a month. A certain jeweller in a large way of business in London, a good deal of whose valuable property had been transferred to the pockets of numerous shoplifters, asked me to spend a few days in his shop as an assistant, and I kept my eyes open for this purpose. The day following my appointment, Alexander Moore, a fashionable and well-dressed young lady strolled in and asked to be shown some diamond rings and brooches. Whilst she was examining the tray of jewels I placed before her, a bracelet of preference shares upon which a fixed dividend of 25 per cent per annum will be paid until December 31st, 1915, and 9,000 common shares; its head office to be in Charlottetown.

Milton Silver Patch Fox Co. Capital $16000 Shares $50

Very little information has been given the public regarding the immense possibilities of Patch Fox Ranching - in fact very few were bred in captivity until last year. The test more than exceeded the expectations of the owners as in every litter was found one or two Black Beauties. Another point to consider is that the fur which has advanced over 150 p. c. in value during the past year, is very popular with the nobility and the wealthy class.

If you consider carefully the above indisputable facts you will be convinced that the Milton Silver Patch Fox Co. is offering to the public a proposition hard to beat. The six pairs of foxes owned by the Company were not picked up at random but were carefully selected by men of several years experience in handling all classes of foxes. Most of the foxes in this Company are but slightly removed from the silvers. The very low capitalization of $16,000 for six pairs lets the investor in on the ground floor.

The ranch which is located at Milton is built of the best possible material and is up to date in every respect. The manager D. W. Howard has had several years experience in the caring and handling of foxes, and the services of an assistant has been secured who has had two years successful experience along this line. Mr. Investor, consider this proposition carefully—remember you only have about six months to wait for dividends. As there are only a few shares left don't delay, but send in your application to day.
