CHANGING RESIDENCE.—Mrs. John Annear who recently returned to Montague from Boston left on Monday last for Calgary where she will make her home with her daughters. Mrs. Annear is widely known in this vicinity and the wish is general that her trip will be a pleasant one.—J.

HORSE NOTE —Nellie D. the game little pacer owned by Mr. C. E. White of Montague, added another triumph to her already long list of victories by winning second place in Class A. race at the recent Georgetown race meet. Had it not been for the accident in the second heat when one of the hobbles broke, setting her away back, she doubtless would have won first place. C. Farris is certainly doing his share in keeping Montague well advertised as a sporting centre.—J.

ARE GREAT WORKERS.—The Ladies Aid of the Montague Presbyterian Church held a pantry sale in Vickerson Bros' store on Saturday last, which was a decided success, a substantial sum being realized. These good women have been called upon of late to furnish a large amount of money, a complete system of sewerage has been placed in the Mansie, besides a general overhauling incidental to the coming of the new minister. These women are always equal to the occasion, however, and have enough money on hand to meet all present requirements.—J.

A GROWING INDUSTRY.—That marked improvement is shown in the quality of the sheep raised in this part of the Island is the opinion of Montague's widely known meat dealer Mr. Joseph McGregor, who in order to satisfy the epicurean taste of his numerous customers recently purchased from the Gordon brothers and Mr. Wilson of Northern Brudenell some of the finest lambs that he has yet seen in his long experience in the meat business. He doesn't think that even Ontario, the great sheep raising province, can produce anything better. There is no heart in the lamb that has the man that we know of that has the heart of the farmer more at interest in sheep raising, for he claims him as a citizen. He strongly urges upon the farmer, greater interest in sheep raising, for in all his travels, wherever he saw a flock of sheep, he also invariably saw every evidence of farming prosperity.—J.

FAREWELL SERVICE.—The Rev. H. A. Browne of the Montague Methodist Church preached his farewell sermon on Sunday evening last to a large congregation and with Mrs. Browne and little boy left during the week for the west coast. The true worth of Mr. Browne as a citizen is not easily estimated and their going away is a distinct loss to the community. Especially gifted as singers they will be greatly missed in musical circles. Showing that they appreciated several kindly acts on the part of Mr. Browne on previous occasions towards them, the Presbyterian congregation closed their church and joined their Methodist brethren on this occasion.—J.

UNION ROAD SCHOOL CLOSING
The closing exercise of Union Road School were held on June 26th, their being a representative attendance of visitors, who followed with interest the examination of the classes in the various pupils showed that they had been carefully trained by the teacher. After that examination of the pupils, Mr. James Essery was called upon to distribute the prizes. These consisted of a prize for Mr. A. G. Mallett, which was awarded to Margaret Mellett, and a prize for Margaret Mellett, and Mrs. A. Mellett, which was awarded to Grace MacLean. A Public School Certificate was received by Margaret Mellett. Remarks made by the chairman and others showed the high esteem in which the teacher, Mr. William Beaton, who has successfully taught in the school for two years, is regarded; and regret was expressed that he should feel it necessary to leave in order to take up work in another field. He will carry with him the good wishes of the community for his future success in whatever he undertakes. A presentation to the teacher was then made by the pupils, together with the following address: Union Road, June 26, 1924. Mr. William Beaton, Dear Teacher: We have once more gathered together for the close of another year of school work and I am sure if a vote were taken among your pupils and those interested in the school, it would be unanimous that you carry on your work here in the coming year. But if you do not see your way clear to do this we sincerely wish your success wherever you go, and we know that those with whom you work will be benefited. Therefore we ask you to accept this small token as a symbol of our gratitude for the strenuous effort you have put forth on our behalf in the past two years. Signed on behalf of your pupils, Mr. Beaton replied in a few well chosen words, thanking the pupils for their gift and for their good comradeship during his stay with them. He encouraged them to continue industriously to attain an education so as to better fulfill the duties of citizenship. A treat of candy given by the among all present. The singing of the Natl Anthem brought a very pleasant afternoon to a close.
