BY PLANE FROM BOSTON—Mrs. Loiselle (formerly Miss Foley) left Boston at 11.00 o'clock a. m. on Friday, arriving in Summerside at 8.45 p. m. where she took the 6.00 o'clock bus to Alberton, arriving about 8.00 o'clock at her mother's bedside in the Western hospital. Mrs. Patrick Foley (her mother) passed away on Saturday. —K.

IRISH MOSS—The comparatively new industry of gathering Irish Moss (formerly rockweed) has assumed major proportions on the beaches from Killdare Shore around the North Cape to Minicouash on the west coast. The owners of farms having shore fronts offer no objection to moss gatherers from far inland, regardless of possible riparian rights. It is being gathered by children of six years of age and old-timers of 85. People with large families, often in meagre circumstances, have become opulent in two years. It has become a bonanza for people with limited capital. The requirements are some jute bags or a horse and truck wagon. After every brisk breeze people swarm to the shores to gather their harvest and they have become so adept in gathering the direction of the wind that they know fairly well to which coast or point to go. Three prices, according to grade and quality are paid by the buyers, who eventually sell to J. H. Myrick Co. of Tignish. It is generally understood that the Myrick Co. of Tignish worked up the trade by dealing with Boston firms who process the moss for medicinal and multifarious other uses. —K.

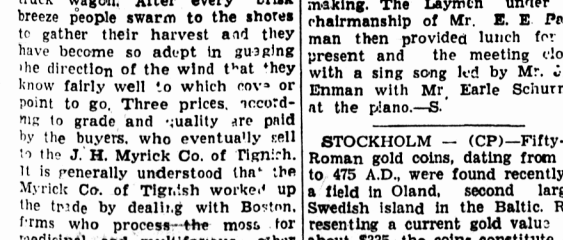

STOCKHOLM—(CP)—Fifty-six Roman gold coins, dating from 400 to 475 A.D., were found recently in a field in Oland, second largest Swedish island in the Baltic. Representing a current gold value of about $35, the coins constitute one of the biggest finds ever made in Sweden.

NEW PLYMOUTH N. Z.—A magistrate's court here has decided that kissing a girl in the front seat of a car—if the car is traveling along the road at the time—is dangerous driving. A driver who admitted that he ran off the road and into a ditch because he was kissing a girl was fined $13.
