Agoncillo Flies to Montreal—Peace Treaty Will Not be Ratified—Campbell Bannerman Becomes Leader—Caprivi Dead—France's Latest Sensation—Trains Collide.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—(Special) Senator Wolcott of Colorado, speaking in favor of the ratification of the peace treaty said "America, during the recent war, had the support of England and the influence of their trained diplomats. Had it not been for her America would not have emerged from the recent war with colors flying so high. Today she is America's only friend among the nations. Others stand opposed with bitter hatred, hoping America will encounter some repulse."

Agoncillo, the representative of Aguinaldo has gone to Montreal. He says the Filipinos prefer the Spaniards to Americans.

The general belief now is that the outbreak at Manila makes the ratification of the treaty certain.

DEATH OF DR. S. DODGE.

(Halifax Herald, Feb. 4, 1899.)

The community was startled yesterday afternoon when it was learned that Dr. Stephen Dodge had died suddenly. He had been in apparently good health and was home in the middle of the day for lunch as usual. On returning to town he called at the office of a brother physician and finding him away proceeded on to his own office. Not long afterwards, Mr. Romans, whose office is in the same building, heard the sound of heavy breathing and opening Dr. Dodge's door found him lying on the floor. Hastily Mr. Romans telephoned and then ran to call a physician, but when they returned life was extinct. Dr. Dodge has been for almost thirty years a familiar figure in Halifax. He was born in the county of Hants about sixty-two years ago, and carved his own way to the eminently respectable position he so lately filled. After acquiring an academic education, he proceeded to New York and was graduated at the College of Physicians and Surgeons of that city in the year 1859. He then entered on the practice of his profession in Kentville where he is well and favorably remembered. Somewhere about thirty years ago he decided to devote himself entirely to the special branches of his profession, and to that end again proceeded to New York, where he spent some time in studies pertaining to the pathology of the eye, ear and throat, as well as the subject of deformities, in all which Dr. Dodge was practically the pioneer practitioner of Nova Scotia.

A FRIEND OF THE POOR.

In all these matters, Dr. Dodge was well known to the citizens of Halifax and quite generally to the whole province; but it is perhaps not so well known that from the first moment that his services could be more available, he devoted his knowledge and skill to the benefit of the poor and the unfortunate. Up to the day of his death he was in constant attendance at the dispensary and the hospital, and from the founding of the school for the blind he gave the fruits of his long years of study for the good of his pupils.

Especially in his annual reports to the trustees of the Dispensary, citizens will remember his strenuous efforts to enlighten the public in regard to the care of their eyes and the preservation of their sight, while the directors of the institution for the deaf and dumb have for many years acknowledged their obligations to Dr. Dodge for his services so fondly and generously given. Dr. Dodge was also connected with the Halifax Medical College, as professor of ophthalmology and otology, and at present was also lecturer in laryngology and rhinology. He was an active member of the Provincial Medical Society, serving one year as president, and for many years he never failed to present one or more scientific papers for the edification of his associates, and the advancement of medical science. During several years he was also a member of the medical board of Nova Scotia, and his associates will remember with pleasure his punctual attendance, and his unremitting exertions in furthering the interests of his profession and the welfare of the general public.

The writer has known Dr. Dodge intimately for a period of about twenty-five years.

Dr. Dodge was married to Florence, daughter of the late Judge Blanchard of Kentville, and of his family three children, two sons, Blanchard, Ray, and a daughter, Clara, (now Mrs. Ings. of Charlottetown,) with his widow, survive him. One child died in infancy. Of the cause of death it can only be said it was probably the rupture of an aneurism, or of a large blood vessel in close proximity to the heart.

The Drugs Killed Him.

Brantford, Ont. Feb. 3.—Particulars of the death of Thomas McIntee, of Burford, came to hand yesterday. It appears Mrs. McIntee had been suffering from an attack of neuralgia, and purchased a small bottle containing a mixture of chloroform and laudanum. During the night she reached for the bottle, intending to apply the lotion to her face. While doing this the lady was overcome by the fumes of the lotion of the chloroform and fell back in the bed, the bottle falling from her hands and emptying in the bed between them. The deadly fumes affected Mr. McIntee's heart, which was naturally weak, and next morning a domestic found Mrs. McIntee's heart in an unconscious condition and her husband dead in bed beside her.

FIGHT AT MANILA

Insurgents Attack U. S. Troops at Night.

Americans Victorious and Capture Seven Villages—Insurgents Still Surround Manila—Dewey's Report—He Threatens Aguinaldo—Trouble in Porto Rico.

MANILA, Feb. 6.—(Special)—On Saturday night two Filipinos tried to pass the American lines and refused to halt when ordered. The sentry fired.

The result was a general attack by the insurgents. Fighting was kept up all night, and the Americans repulsed the Filipinos, capturing the villages of San Juan, Del Mont, Santa Ana, San Pedro, Macati, Santa Mesa and Lomia.

The splendid military police system of the Americans prevented an outbreak in the city.

Very few were killed, the total casualties being 175.

Manila is surrounded by insurgents and Admiral Dewey has notified Aguinaldo that he will lay the city in ashes if the Filipinos enter there.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—(Special)—The papers here all agree that the Filipinos have made a great mistake and express the hope that the Americans will act promptly in suppressing the insurrection.

DEAR SIRS.—I was for seven years a sufferer from Bronchitis trouble, and would be so hoarse at times that I could scarcely speak above a whisper. I got no relief from anything until I tried your MINARD'S HONEY BALSAM. Two bottles gave relief and six bottles made a complete cure. I would heartily recommend it to any one suffering from throat or lung trouble.

KIPLING'S MOVEMENTS.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Among the first passengers to embark on the first passenger yesterday morning were Rudyard Kipling and Mrs. Kipling, looking in robust health. Mr. Kipling was kept busy some time with his baggage. Under the new customs rule this part of the embarkation occasioned much inconvenience to him; all of his eighteen articles of baggage had to be thoroughly examined, but his declaration was partially accepted.

To a question about his visit, Kipling said: "I can't think of anything to say. The labels on my luggage will tell where I am going."

Each article was marked in what Mr. Kipling said was his own chirography, to the Hotel Grenoble. He will stay at that hotel for a while, but will go presently to his favorite American city, Washington, and afterwards to the City of Mexico, which he has never seen and where he intends to remain some little time to study the people and the existing conditions of the country. He will endeavor to collect data and material for a number of stories and sketches, using the Mexican and Aztec as the principal characters.

The Kiplings were met by Mr. Ballester, father of Mrs. Kipling.
