THE "BIT MORE."

When I was a boy I always patronized the little candy store that stood in the middle of the square, and was owned by an Irishman with a heart bubbling over with generosity.

—With what measure ye mete it shall be measured to you again.

And count the acts that you have done, And counting, find One self-denying deed, one word That eased the heart of him that heard.

But if through all the living day You've cheered no heart by yea or nay, If through it all You've nothing done that you can trace That brought the sunshine to one face.
