—There passed away on Sept. 3rd, 1912, at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Edward England, Bidford, P. E. I. Miss Minnie Hayes from a long illness. She was a graduate of the Boston City Hospital, and after her graduation in 1896 became assistant matron of the Margaret Pillsbury Hospital, Concord, N. H., which position she held for five years. After leaving the hospital she engaged in private nursing until this past spring when she came home to rest, and was preparing for a visit to Toronto when she became ill. During her period of illness she was tenderly cared for by loved ones, especially her intimate friend Miss Flora Hamilton, trained nurse. Miss Hayes was a woman, who by her beautiful Christian character and unselfish life, endeared herself to a wide circle of friends. The floral tributes were many and beautiful and attested to the high regard in which she was held. The funeral service was held in the Methodist Church at Bidford, of which she was a member. Interment took place in the cemetery beside the church. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. J. Leard, who delivered a short address from Rev. 22' 12.

Much of her time was spent at the South Shore where she was made the guest of her uncle, George Gorveatt, who is a prosperous farmer and as they rode through the farming districts with its great machinery doing such noble work she reflected that surely Temperance and righteousness and industry must reign and prosperity must follow. Were it not for family ties that bind her to Massachusetts Mrs. Bartlett would spend the remainder of her life in the beautiful Garden of the Gulf.

Fall and Winter

The Very Latest in Stylish Suits For Men

A very strong demand for dressy Tweeds for general wear marks the opening of this Fall and Winter Season. Anticipating this, we have prepared a showing of Tweeds that for style and good value will appeal to any man. The popular Tweeds are of the rougher variety, while the patterns mostly in demand are the quiet plain effects, heavy stripes and checks not being popular. In colors browns are the strong favorite, with Greys a close second.

For the men who still prefer to wear Worsteds, we have a large and well as sorted stock, while the ever popular Blues and Blacks are here in a range of shades-styles and prices that will make choosing easy.

It will give us pleasure to show you the new cloths.
