QUANTITIES OF KILLED BY CAR FOOT TAKEN BY NEAR HALIFAX S. OFFICERS

Driver Is Arrested Charged With Manslaughter.

(Canadian Press) HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 12.—Doris Johnson, 14 a resident of the colored settlement of Five Plains, forty miles from here on the road to Windsor was almost instantly killed near her home this afternoon when struck by an automobile, and her two companions were seriously injured. The occupants of the car, a white man and three colored people were arrested here this evening, charged with manslaughter.

The three were walking along the road when their attention was attracted by a wildly careening car approaching them. The car struck another and without slowing up, swerved across the highway and struck the party of pedestrians who had taken to the ditch, according to eye witnesses. After the accident the car stopped and a girl came back to investigate. She remained only long enough to see what damage had been caused and returned to the car which started away toward Halifax. The girl died five minutes later.

The girl in the car had been recognized and a jury empaneled by Dr. J. W. Reid, M.P.P., ordered the driver of this car on a charge of manslaughter. Information was telephoned to Halifax and the arrests followed. Those arrested were James Murphy, owner and Charles Davis, driver both of Halifax, and Edith Jones and Doris Croxton, Windsor. Murphy was the only white member of the party.

On Friday the sheriff's office at the county jail in Bangor looked like an overstuffed pawshop. The place was piled high with a vast quantity of endles variety of goods, ranging from silver teaspoons to horse blankets and from wrist watches to gum boots.

The sheriff and his men had made another visit to the robbers' den where on Thursday they unearthed some of the plunder acquired in recently by burglars in the eastern and northern Maine, and this time they cleaned the place out completely. The robbers' den is a house in Herman, Me., on a road branching off from the main highway which for some time has been occupied by Steve Hoppe, associate of Clifford Reeves and Leroy Haley, and who frequently by the latter pair. Hoppe bought the place two years ago and at once made extensive repairs on the property and a half frame house, which was a wreck

Churchill Renews Singapore Base Question

(Canadian Press) LONDON, Oct. 12.—Winston Churchill is belaboring the MacDonald government for its treatment of the dominions. "Singapore," said Mr. Churchill, "seems very remote from here but it is a vital point in imperial unity and unless there is a harbor there it is not possible for the British navy to enter the Pacific and render the protection of British sea power to Australia and New Zealand. The government has refused to allow a harbor to be constructed and has said to the Australians, 'You can shift for yourselves. This has been said almost on the morrow of the war in which 500,000 men offered themselves for the motherland.'"

BIGGER NAVY FOR FRANCE

(Special to the Guardian) PARIS, Oct. 12.—Minister of Marine Dumesnil plans to give France a fleet such as he believes is required by her geographic position and that of her colonies. "I am going to strive to restore to the country the navy it no longer possesses. It needs before all a defensive navy, not an armada which might be a danger to world peace," said the Minister. "That fleet would be kept strictly within the limits of the recent treaties and to begin with I am trying to establish a balance between the surface, underwater and aerial divisions."

TAKES STAND ON EGYPTIAN QUESTION

(Special to the Guardian) LONDON, Oct. 12.—Whatever Premier Bruce of Australia and the other Dominion ministers may feel about the future of the Sudan have been completely removed by the British White Paper just issued. Today's message to the Times from Alexandria says Zaghul's demand came as a shock to many Egyptians. The general outlook is well represented by the Egyptian comment. NOTED FRENCH PISTOL BATTLE WRITER PASSES REVIVES WAR IN CHINATOWN AWAY

World Loses Brilliant Literary Light in Death of Anatole France. (Canadian Press.)

Anatole France

TOURS, Oct. 12.—Anatole France is dead. In the passing of this noted author there is lost to France and to the whole world the genius of a man who, as interpreter of the French spirit during the past 50 years has been without a rival. He wrote for France, but the whole world read him, and the world united in commending him in heartfelt phrases on the occasion of his 80th birthday, April 16, 1924. Anatole France showed to the world the real France, compassionate, devoted, brilliant and spiritual, and he has been described as the ultimate flowering of French genius. Ramsay MacDonald said of him in 1924: "There is not any living writer who is so fully appreciated in his own country, or who has interpreted in so durable a manner the luminous beauty and human sympathy of French genius. The writings of Anatole France are known for their imaginative and delicate grace, the simplicity of his style and its beautiful translucency. Of imagination France once said: 'It is the imagination, with its lies, that sows all the beauty and the virtue in the world. We are greatly only through our imagination.'" France was a great French liter-

Strife Among the Tongs Breaks Out in New York.

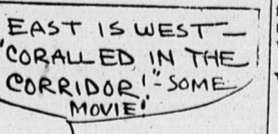

(Special to The Guardian) NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—A pistol battle of the kind that was waged in the bad old days flared up Thursday night in Chinatown. It started where tongs wars have started before, at Pell and Mott streets, where Hip Sing Tong territory meets that of the On Leong Tong. Whether it was the opening engagement of a long war or not, it showed that gun men were lurking in the shadows about the strategic corner.

Some bravo of the Hip Sings slipped a blue-barrelled .38 up his sleeve. It is believed and sauntered out of Pell Street into Mott, responding with a bullet to the first taunt directed at him. Within a few seconds half a dozen hallways were spitting fire and bullets were snarling through both streets, chipping off bits of brick and plaster and emptying the streets magically.

It was 7 o'clock, and the nearest policeman at that ordinarily peaceful chopstick hour was down in Chatham Square hungrily inhaling the aroma of Beefsteak Joe's hamburger sandwiches and pining for eight o'clock when he was to be relieved.

Two Men Found Wounded. The shots brought him on the run and with him patrolmen from Bayard street and from the Bowery. The blinking signs of the chop Suey restaurants shone down a corner which was deserted save for two bodies, one of them in the centre of Pell street and the other
