S'Side Town Council Meeting

The Summerside Town Council at the regular meeting held last evening passed a resolution covering the employees of the electric light plant and police department with liability insurance, after a heated exchange between the Mayor and Councillor Morrison. Mayor Lidstone presided at last night's meeting and all Councillors were present except Councillors Gorrill and Smallman.

The resolution was moved by Councillor Morrison and seconded by Councillor Wedge and passed unanimously and was as follows: Resolved that the employees of the electric light plant and police force be covered with complete employers liability insurance.

The Mayor objected to the reading of the resolution on the grounds that it was not on the agenda and had not been discussed in Caucus. Therefore it was not in order.

Councillor Morrison said that it had been discussed previously that the particulars had been given and it had been budgeted for. He said he wanted it to go through before there is another accident as there may be any day. The Mayor said they had been running a great many years without an accident. After some further discussion the Council were asked if they were in agreement to having the resolution read. The Council having all expressed agreement the motion was read and passed.

After the resolution was read there was some discussion as to whether it should cover the street employees. Councillor Mollison suggested that as the chairman of the Street Committee, Councillor Gorrill, was absent this department should be left out for the present and that Councillor Gorrill, if he so desired could bring in a resolution covering his department at another meeting. Councillor Mollison said in his opinion all the town employees should be covered. The Mayor said the street men were also in a dangerous occupation.

On motion of Councillor Mollison seconded by Councillor Morrison, Mr. T. Earle Hickey, Chartered Accountant was appointed auditor for the Town of Summerside for the year ending Dec. 31, 1943, at the same salary as the former auditors received.

On motion of Councillor Mollison seconded by Councillor Morrison, Mrs. N. R. Durant, widow of the late Town Clerk was voted six months salary.

On motion of Councillor McNeil, seconded by Councillor Wedge, Saturday, Sept. 18, was set aside as a tag day for the Canadian institute for the Blind.

Town paid bills passed $3,180.30. Town unpaid bills $1,025.35. Electric light paid bills $1,321.26. Electric light unpaid bills $3,892.79.

On motion of Councillor Wedge, seconded by Councillor Morrison, Dr. E. T Tanton was appointed Health Officer for the town at a salary of $25 a year.—S

"Random Harvest" Now Playing At Capitol, S'Side

"Random Harvest" adaptation of James Hilton's new novel, brings to the screen an engrossing story of a strange case of suspended memory, which motivates a haunting romance. Teaming Ronald Colman and Greer Garson, in her first picture since "Mrs. Miniver", it is now playing at the Capitol Theatre.

Following the Hilton novel closely in its details, it is told on the screen as a "straight line" story, while in the book it was told in "flashbacks".

Colman plays a wealthy English man who loses all memory of his past during the First World War. He is sent to an asylum, from which he escapes to be befriended by an actress (Miss Garson), who inspires him to begin life anew. He develops talent as a writer. He and his benefactress fall in love, are married and have a child. Then an accident jolts his memory back to his past, but leaves a blank of his life from the war on. He goes home takes possesion of his business and becames a powerful industrialist, The wife locates him, but knowingly he has no memory of her, takes a position as his secretary, maintaining silence as regards their marriage How she succeeds in winning back his memory and his love provides a haunting and appealing climax.

PROBABLY

Allied landing and within a matter of hours the Italian prisoners thus taken were engaged in unloading allied supplies.

Messina is the Achilles heel of the entire Axis defence of Sicily. Powerless to prevent the Allies from seizing a great bridgehead and consolidating it, the Italo-German command now is faced with the danger that the Sicilian front might fall to pieces by outflanking actions from the east coast.

Enemy efforts to speed reinforcements from the far west of the island were in part stemmed by relentless allied air attacks.

(Dispatches from an Associated Press Correspondent to Cairo quoted pilots there as saying complete air supremacy had been won by the allies over Sicily.)

The Americans had met and mastered the main fury of the enemy's desperate counter-thrusts, firmly anchoring the allied west flank on the coastal port and air field of Licata and thrusting in columns inland in that area.

Sicilian airfields seized in three days of allied advances already were being used by the allied squadrons thundering ceaselessly across Sicily.

No Sign of Italian Fleet

The combined Mediterranean fleets, still unchallenged by the Italian navy, were discharging men and supplies upon the deep and wide bridgeheads.

"The Italian fleet," replied an observer to the inquiry as to what it was doing, "is still beating its way toward the Alps".

Word of Montgomery's swift push northward toward Catania, a push of extraordinary power, and of Patton's new successes on the left followed announcement in today's communique from headquarters here that 10 major ports and towns had been overrun up to that time, that seven enemy counter-attacks had been crushed and at least 2,000 prisoners had been taken.

"It can now be stated," the communique thus summed up, "that the following major towns and ports have been captured by our forces:—

"Syracuse (population of 53,000), Avola, Pachino, Pozzallo, Scoglitti, Gela, Licata, Iispica, Rosolini and Noto."

While enemy losses in dead and wounded and in materiel were not mentioned in this bulletin, there were indications that they had been considerable.

Patten's troops above Gela, for example, in a single engagement threw back lunges by an entire Italian division—the Fourth Livorne—supported by 45 tanks.
