SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

LESSON II, FOURTH QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, OCT. 12.

Text of the Lesson, Josh. iii, 9-17, 7. Memory Verses, 15-17—Golden Text, Isa. xliii, 2—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

(Copyright, 1922, by American Press Association.)

9, 10. Hereby ye shall know that the living God is among you.

The topic of our lesson is Israel crossing the Jordan, and the story is fully told in these two chapters from which our lesson is taken. By this great event the Lord would magnify Joshua in the sight of all Israel, that Israel might fear the Lord its God forever and that all the people of the earth might know the hand of the Lord, that it is mighty (iii, 7; iv, 14, 24). The symbol of the presence of God was the ark of the covenant, for it was from above the mercy seat from between the cherubim that He had promised to meet and commune with Moses (Ex. xxv, 22), and at least seven times He is spoken of as dwelling between the cherubim. In the third chapter the ark is mentioned ten times and in the fourth chapter seven times, so that the ark of the covenant or the presence of the Lord in the midst of Israel is really the heart of our lesson.

11-13. Behold the ark of the covenant of the Lord of the earth passeth over before you into Jordan.

A study of Num. x will show that on the march the ark always had its place in the midst of Israel, six tribes preceding and six tribes following it, and it was distinguished from every other vessel by an outer covering wholly of blue (Num. iv, 5, 6), but on this occasion it went before all the people and preceded them by about 2,000 cubits that they might know the way by which they must go, for as the officers said, "Ye have not passed this way heretofore" (Josh. iii, 4). As we go on in the daily Christian life we must run with patience, looking unto Jesus, and we must see no one but Jesus only, for He is our only ark, and He alone can lead us in the way wherein we should go (Heb. xii, 1, 2; Mark ix, 8).

14-16. And it came to pass . . . the people passed over right against Jericho.

Thus these three verses begin and end, and they tell us that as soon as the feet of the priests that bore the ark touched the waters of the river the waters from above where Israel was stood upon a heap, and the bed of the river became dry for Israel to pass over. The same living God who divided the Red sea before Israel in the days of Moses did this before the millions of Israel under Joshua that Israel might see that the Lord was with Joshua as He had been with Moses and that all the people of the earth might know the mighty hand of the Lord. The same Lord afterward divided this same river for two men and a little later for one man (I Kings ii, 8, 14). We little know what the living God would do for one man willing to be as wholly His as Jesus Christ was, but we do know that His eyes are searching the whole earth to find such people (II Chron. xvi, 9). On this occasion as God said it would be so it came to pass, and so it always does, and the believer may say with the utmost confidence, "I believe God, that it shall be even as it was told me" (Acts xxvii, 25, 44). Quietness and confidence honor God.

17. And the priests that bare the ark of the covenant of the Lord stood firm on dry ground in the midst of Jordan . . . until all the people were passed clean over Jordan.

As truly as every one of this great host of 2,000,000 or more passed safely over the Jordan while the priests bearing the ark stood firm, so truly shall every one of the Lord's redeemed pass safely through all this wilderness journey because of our High Priest, who is Himself the true ark of the covenant, the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth, who ever liveth to make intercession for us and who has said, "Because I live ye shall live also" (John xiv, 19). Yet we must not think of Jordan as typical of death or of Canaan as suggestive of heaven, for there are no conflicts in heaven such as were in Canaan after Israel entered it. The Israel story is suggestive of life here on earth. The bondage in Egypt tells the condition of all before they are redeemed, the blood of the Passover lamb sets forth the way of redemption, the ups and downs of the wilderness journey are an all too common experience of many saved ones, while the restful aspect of the Canaan experience is the privilege of all believers, though but few seem to enjoy it. They do not enter in because of unbelief. But those who truly believe and therefore cease from their own works do enter into rest (Heb. iii, 18, 19, and iv, 3, 6, 10). Seeing and knowing Jesus is rest.

iv, 1-7. These stones shall be for a memorial unto the children of Israel forever.

This chapter tells of twelve stones set up as a memorial in the midst of Jordan in the place where the feet of the priests which bore the ark of the covenant stood (verse 9), as well as of twelve stones taken from the place where the priests stood and set up in the land (verse 8). Jordan signifies the river of judgment, and these two heaps of stones under the waters of Jordan and set up in the land speak to me of the believer crucified with Christ and risen with Christ, judgment past and Christ at God's right hand our life forevermore. Until we see this there is no abiding rest and victory. Unless we thus live the people of the earth will not know the hand of the Lord that it is mighty, and God will not be glorified in His redeemed.

Their Steering-Gear.

A professor of a profound subject at Harvard University has a small son who is very observant and inquisitive, and a hired man who has all the Irish wit and good humor.

The other day Albert, the small boy, was playing with a cat in the stable while Larry cleaned the harness.

"Say, Larry," he asked, "why do cats always stand on their feet?"

"They shmeer themselves wid their tail."

"Well, how do rabbits steer themselves? They haven't long tails; only a stub."

"Wid their ears. That's pawat they have their long ears for."

"Well, how does a bulldog steer himself? He doesn't have long ears or a long tail."

"Wid his bark."

The boy looked doubtful and was silent. Presently he ran in to his father's study, and in a few minutes came back to the stable.

"Larry!"

"Yes?"

"That's true what you told me about bulldogs. I asked papa, and he read something to mamma out of a book about 'barks that steer against the wind.'"

GRAFTON, Ont., Oct. 10 (Special)—Mr. John Fletcher, a well-known farmer of this place, who suffered for a long time with Lumbago and Kidney Trouble, has at last found a cure.

Now, when his friends inquire as to his health, he cheerily tells them that he is well, something which he has not been able to do for a long time, till quite recently.

Mr. Fletcher tells the story of his illness and how he cured, as follows:

"I was troubled for a long time with Lumbago and Kidney trouble. My urine was of a very red color. I tried many medicines but could get nothing for me."

"I consulted the best medical doctors in Grafton and St. Mary's, but they could do nothing for me."

"At last one day a druggist in Grafton suggested Dodd's Kidney Pills as a cure for my Lumbago. I purchased a box and began to take them right away. The first box helped me and I kept on till at last I was completely cured."

"I am now as well as ever I was, and have not any trace of Lumbago about me. I am perfectly sound and I thank Dodd's Kidney Pills for it."

"I recommend them to all my friends, and as for myself I never intend that my house shall be without them, for I believe them to be the greatest medicine in the world."

Mr. Fletcher is a man who means every word he says and is prepared to substantiate the truth of every statement made above.

There seems to be no case of Lumbago, Backache, Kidney Trouble or Rheumatism, that Dodd's Kidney Pills will not cure.

You Can't Begin Too Early Paine's Celery Compound

Affords Happy and Marvelous Results to Rheumatic Sufferers.

The autumn season with its changeable weather is a time of dread to all rheumatic sufferers. Chilling winds, cold rains and heavy, impure atmosphere, aggravate every condition of rheumatism, and bring many sufferers desperately near the grave. Are you a victim of rheumatism in its acute or chronic forms? If so, you can't begin too early to get rid of this baneful disease, to purify the blood and strengthen the system.

The marvellous victories of Paine's Celery Compound wrought in the past, justify you in giving this wonderful medicine an immediate trial. It has given to agonized, helpless and crippled men and women a new and happy life—freedom from all pains and sufferings. It has produced amazing cures after the failures of able physicians. At this season, Paine's Celery Compound will do the same good work for you, dear reader. Mr. Wm. McWilliam, of Bradford, Ont., writes as follows: "Unsolicited" I forward this testimonial regarding the value of Paine's Celery Compound. I am well up in years and was sorely afflicted with rheumatism. I purchased and used six bottles of your medicine, and now perfectly well. I have no rheumatism left."

WRITING ACADEMY

CH'TOWN, P. E. I.

This College re-opened for the Fall and Winter Course on THURSDAY, AUG. 14, PROX

Intending students will consult their own interests by entering as soon as possible after the date of opening. Last year we were most successful in placing our students in positions. To enable us to do the same this year they must enter early in the session. There are lots of splendid positions waiting for competent persons to fill. Business men are acquainted with our course and method of instruction and apply to us for competent young men and women. Come and get a live education; one with some backbone in it. If, perchance, you have made a mistake in the past, try an education in which you will be rewarded as you exert yourself. The past is gone, the future is yours. A special course in Shorthand and Typewriting will be given as soon as the term begins. "Phonography What it is and What it Does" by Ben Pitman; also full particulars relative to the College will be cheerfully furnished on application to
