FUNERAL TODAY.—The postponed funeral of Mrs. Duncan Shaw will take place today at 1 p. m.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION

On Tuesday, Feb. 8 a very enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fisher, South Lake, when a number of the boxholders of Rural Route No. 1, agreeably surprised the members of that household by assembling there for the purpose of presenting Mr. Fisher, mail carrier with a fur coat and cap to match. The following address was read by Mr. Stephen J. McDonald, North Lake.

To Mr. Walter Fisher, mail carrier:

Your friends and neighbors of Rural Route No. 1 have gathered here tonight to express our appreciation for the services you have rendered in delivering and collecting mail on this route. Your task has been no easy one, few of us perhaps fully realize the difficulties you have had to overcome, but one fact stands out, that no matter what are the conditions of weather or roads, we can always depend on getting our mail on time. Summer or winter, it has always been the same, let snow-drifts pile as they may, or the mud be axle deep; Walker has always been "on the job." So much for the mail, but do not think that we have forgotten the countless other favors you have been doing us. We consider ourselves safe in saying that not a day has passed during your two years service as courier, that you have not carried messages or parcels for someone or other of us. We feel that we have imposed on you to a great extent in that line, for you have carried unlimited quantities of dry goods, groceries and even domestic animals from one point to another on your route, and, believe us, we feel ashamed to hold you up on the road, with the mercury, perhaps, 10 below, to count out small change for a plug of tobacco, or a can —CAPT BERNARD IN SUMMERSIDE.—Capt. Joseph Bernard, English, one of the famous navigators of the North whose experience when his ship the Teddy Bear, was frozen in for some years, is well known, was in Summerside Friday evening and was the guest of the Knights of Columbus where he gave a talk on his experience in the North. Capt. Bernard left Saturday for Seattle.

COMMENDABLE PROMPTITUDE.—The foreign mail arrived yesterday afternoon (Sunday) about 2 o'clock and was immediately opened and many complimentary remarks were made about Postmaster Hunt and his staff for their prompt service.

of oil, but we trust that you will remember the old adage, "to err is human, to forgive, divine." However, tonight it gives us pleasure to be able to express our appreciation of the services you have rendered; and while mere words may convey our meaning, we ask you to accept a more tangible expression of our gratitude, namely, this fur coat and cap, which we hope may help drive away at least some of the discomfort you may meet with in your route.

In conclusion, we trust that yourself, Mrs. Fisher and family may enjoy many years of health, happiness, and prosperity.

Signed in behalf of your friends here assembled,

C. C. DINGWELL
J. R. McDONALD
GEO. E. McDONALD

Mr. Fisher, although taken by surprise, in a few words expressed his pleasure and thanked the people for their thoughtfulness. Complimentary remarks as to the way Mr. Fisher has performed his duties as mail carrier were made by Messrs C. C. and J. E. Dingwell and others. The remainder of the evening was spent in song and dancing not forgetting the excellent supper served in Mrs. Fisher's best style. At 12 o'clock the guests departed for their homes, singing "For he's a jolly good fellow," having previously honored Mr. Fisher, Mr. J. J. McDonald, South Lake, and Mr. Stephen J. McDonald, North Lake, were the violinists for the evening. (Patriot and Examiner please copy)

PRESENTATION TO MR. AND MRS. D. MACARTHUR, CORNWALL

On the evening of Dec. 27th the members of the Kingston Methodist Church Choir paid a surprise visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. MacArthur, Cornwall, and presented a purse and address of appreciation. Miss Mabel Cruwys read the following address and Miss Green presented the purse.

Dear Sister: We, on behalf of the congregation of Kingston Methodist Church take this opportunity of showing to you our appreciation of the service you have rendered as organist in our church. For the past three years you have faithfully performed your duties, always ready to give your timely assistance in every good work.

We regret your departure from our midst, but are consoled by the fact that you are still very near to us. We ask you to accept this small token of the sincerity of our expression of esteem and regard, not for its value but to remind you of the many friends you have in Kingston and we trust that through the guidance of divine Providence your life may prove just such a blessing in the future as it has in the past.

Signed in behalf of Congregation and Choir:

CURRENT COMMENT

The Ottawa Liberal Conference will recall his famous declaration that he conducted his campaign principally upon Federal issues and the verdict of the province was a pronouncement against the Ottawa Government. This being so, Mr. Bell has the opportunity of his life of getting another verdict from the people the verdict of a whole province, and one which if ADVERSE TO HIM, Premier Meighen would most surely honor. And if as the Patriot repeatedly avers, the local Government are so deeply in the hearts and affections of the people, they surely have the cinch of their lives if they really want an election, here is a golden opportunity and one fraught with many possibilities, amongst them an emphatic endorsement of the Mackenzie King doctrine, and incidentally an approval of their own many TAXATION measures and a fresh mandate for them to carry on. Will they show their courage and make the test?

—WEDDING BELLS.—All Saints church, Cardigan, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Jan. 26, when Mr. Cephas Power of Summerside, led to the hymenal altar, Miss Agnes Roche, one of Glenfanning's fair maidens. A large number of guests gathered at the bride's home where a magnificent supper was served and the evening was spent pleasantly in music and dancing. The large number of costly presents were a pleasant reminder of the esteem in which the happy young couple were held.

—WEDDING BELLS.—A very pretty wedding took place at St. George's church, St. George's, on Feb. 2 when Miss Laurita Marion Rice of Cardigan, became the bride of Mr. James Campbell of Dundas Centre. After the ceremony the happy couple drove to the home of the bride where a sumptuous dinner was served in Mrs. Patrick Rice's best style to about fifty guests. In the evening they drove to their future home at Dundas Centre where upwards of two hundred friends were gathered to welcome them. The evening was spent pleasantly in music, singing and dancing. The large number of valuable presents testified to the esteem in which the young couple were held and all join in wishing them many years of happy wedded bliss.

IN MEMORIAM

M. R. MACLEOD

Deep sympathy is felt for the aged mother, Mrs. J. S. MacLeod and children of Malcolm B. MacLeod, Kinross who passed away Dec. 28 at the age of 48 years.

The children are doubly bereaved as they lost their loving mother two years and four months ago.

Mr. MacLeod has not been strong for some time but his sudden passing was a shock to his many friends.

Two sisters, Catherine, Mrs. S. D. Campbell of Uig and Isabel, Mrs. A. Gillis of Montague River, passed on some years before, also a little daughter.

The brothers living are: Daniel W. in Calgary, Alta; Alexander in San Diego, Cal.; John in Utah Angus, address unknown and Ed ward Hackett of Uig whom he raised from a lad and loved as a brother.

His living children are John Blair, Hazel Ruth, Malcolm Alexander and Wilfred Bruce. Mr. MacLeod was quiet and unassuming in manner, but man of splendid character. He will be greatly missed in the community.

The funeral service which was held at the home, was largely attended. Services were conducted by his pastor and interment took place to Orwell Head cemetery.

JOSEPH McDONALD

On the early morning of Monday, Jan. 17, Joseph McDonald passed away and Vernon River lost one of its most progressive farmers and one of its best citizens. Mr. McDonald was well known throughout all the southern part of Balfast having in his early life carried mails on the old Vernon River, Wood Island route and for the past seven years on the Vernon, Orwell route, where by his splendid service his kindness and courtesy to all patrons, he will long be remembered. He was comforted during the last days of his illness by the home coming of his daughter, Clara, from Chicago, Fred and Milton from Boston. Besides those mentioned there are left to mourn one brother, Alexander, P. E. I. railway; a sorrowing widow and four sons; Frank, Charlottetown; George, Toronto; John and Dan at home. Three daughters, Ella, Alberta; Alice, Mrs. R. O. Gorman, Boston and Pearl at home. His remains were followed to Vernon River church on Wednesday morning by a large concourse of friends and neighbors where a Requiem Mass was celebrated by Rev. P. D. McGuigan who was a constant and consoling visitor during his illness.

A special feature of the services was the singing, the beautiful voices of Mr. Green and Miss MacDonald recall the reverent mind to days that are past when he who now lies dead, loved those voices now singing God's praises over all that remains of a kind friend and loving father. The pall bearers were: T. J. Furness; J. R. McDonald; J. G. McDonald; P. McKenna, Oabert Enman; and Wm. Masters.

JOHN K. MCLEOD

There passed peacefully to his eternal rest on Monday morning, Jan. 3, 1921 John K. McLeod in the eighty-third year of his age. He was the oldest and last surviving member of the family of the late John Bhan McLeod who emigrated from Scotland in 1840 and settled on the old homestead, where the wayfarer and the needy always received a kind welcome to his hospitable home.

Mr. McLeod was a man of deep personal piety and religious experience and unswerving devotion to God and his church. He was for over thirty years an elder in the Presbyterian Church, Hartsville, and always took an active part in all that was for the advancement of the Church's work.

He leaves to mourn the loss of a kind and loving husband and father, his widow and four sons, Rev. Donald M. Moose Creek Ont., Rev. John B. Montreal Rev. Angus B. Cedar Falls, Iowa; Charles at home and several grand children. His funeral on the 5th to Hartsville Cemetery was very largely attended. Services at the home and grave were conducted by Rev. R. H. Staver and Rev. John Stirling.

JAMES D. MCDARLE

Clouds of gloom and sorrow were cast over Emyvale on Sunday Jan. 2 when the angel of death claimed for his victim Mr. Jas. D. McArle one of the most respected residents of that place. The deceased was 58 years of age and respected by all classes and creeds. He was a kind and charitable neighbor; a devoted husband; a dear and tender father and a devout member of the Roman Catholic church. For a long time he suffered from a lingering illness and his death, though not unexpected, brought Fred Hagen,

Carry on, Advertising!

Instead of decreasing your efforts, get into a greater activity. Rather pay keener attention, if it be possible, to the manner and the matter of your advertisements, and to the careful selection of mediums, than waste time in the consideration of whether you will advertise or will "wait."

"Wait Not: Wait Not" is a good paraphrase of the age-worn adage for a constant reminder to advertisers.

The long, strong and steady pull will win over the spasmodic effort.

If you will observe Daily Newspaper Advertising carefully, you will notice that those firms whose names and products are household words to you are at present using daily newspaper advertising with the same degree of frequency, and are giving increased attention to their space and display.

These firms are not holding off—they do not strike a balance sheet every night. They are in business for this year, next year, and for years to come.

They know that Public Good-will is not a matter of to-day and to-morrow.

And they know that Daily Newspaper Advertising is the one constant, impregnable medium that will hold for them through all conditions, the good-will they have won in the mind of buyers.

To them their Daily Newspaper Advertising is as necessary as their Sales Force—more so, in some cases. And if you will consider their judgment for awhile, you will, we think, agree that it is well founded, and worthy of adaptation to your own business needs.
