

The Advantages to be Gained

---by appointing the Dominion Trust Company as your Executor are many. An important feature is, that it has a fixed place of business where it is accessible at all times during business hours.

The individual Executor is oftentimes ill, is away from his office through other business calls or may be absent from town taking a vacation. Or he may die, necessitating the appointment of another person at additional expense of the estate.

All of these inconveniences and contingencies may be prevented by your appointing this Company, which is always at home, to thoroughly supervise the management of your estate.

The cost is no more than that allowed the individual and is usually less. One of our booklets on this subject will give you some very interesting information.
